HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER

was the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth, and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needed for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause: the entire fulfillment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

JAS. L. PAGE,

The Result of a Consultation.

"Have you a revised copy of the New Testament in the library, Miss Smith?" asked the young minister, who was making an evening call, partly parochial and partly otherwise.

"No, Mr. Longprayer," she replied; "I regret to say that we haven't."

"What's a revised copy?" asked Bobby, who had been permitted to sit up beyond his usual hour.

"You are rather young yet, Bobby, to understand such matters," said his sister kindly. "A revised copy means that certain changes have been made in the Bible that were considered necessary to a better understanding of the text. Now you had better run off to bed, that's a good boy."

The young minister could scarcely conceal his admiration.

Well, if that's what it is," said Bobby, "our family Bible is revised, 'cause pa changed it the other day. He scratched out the date of your birth and made it three years later. He told me something about you and the minister, and said it wouldn't do any harm now, and if ever Mr. Longprayer wanted to look at it, it might do a good deal of good."

Presently the minister went away and a family consultation was held. It resulted in Bobby's passing a sleepless night on the pangs of his stomach.

Grover Cleveland's Sentence.

The Barnwell People say: The following quaint and curious endorsement was found on the back of a Cleveland and Hendricks ticket cast at Barnwell Nov. 4th:

Grover Cleveland, stand up! A jury of your countrymen have found you guilty of designing and conspiring with divers Democrats to become President of these United States, to the great harm and personal injury of over one hundred thousand loyal office holders of the Republic. And more: you have caused anger, hatred, ill will, curses and maledictions to spring up and live among the hitherto united Republican family of this country.

Your advocates have defended you with great zeal and ability, indeed such zeal and ability have never before been known in the history of Presidential campaigns in these United States.

As the jury have recommended you to mercy I make your sentence as lenient as the law allows.

It is: That you, Grover Cleveland, be confined at hard labor within the walls of the White House, in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, for the term of four long years; and may God have mercy on your soul.

Bring in Tom Hendricks.

How He Escaped.

It has been a mystery to a great many people in Oregon how it was that Frank Frisbie, the defaulting cashier of the First National Bank of Portland, got off with such a light sentence of one year when he should have got fifteen, and why it was that the second indictment was squashed on such a trivial matter because the check did not have a dollar mark before the figure.

It now comes to light, and we hear it from one who claims to know, that Frisbie had the bank officials where they could not help themselves, when they took money into consideration. It seems that it was his place to keep the books between the Northern Pacific Express Company and the bank, but in doing this he so thoroughly mixed the accounts up that it was utterly impossible for them to figure out how much the company owed the bank, or the bank the company. With this state of affairs existing, it is thought the bank people compromised the matter with the dignified Frank by his agreeing to straighten out the books and take one year in the "pen" at Salem. He remarked to the Deputy Warden when he reached the penitentiary that the agreement was that he was not to wear a striped suit.—Vindicator.

Perhaps the gloomiest feature of the present campaign is the immense number of men one meets who know all the time—in fact, had said so to Jones—that Cleveland was bound to be elected, and yet who bet two suits of clothes and nine plug hats apiece on Blaine.

Talking with a Man Two Thousand Miles Away.

The most remarkable piece of telephoning yet attempted has just been accomplished by the engineers of the International Bell Telephone Company, who successfully carried out an experiment by which they were enabled to hold a conversation between St. Petersburg and Bologna, a distance of 2,465 miles. Blake transmitting and Bell receiving instruments were used; and conversation was kept up, notwithstanding a rather high induction. The experiments were carried on during the night when the telegraph lines were not at work. The Russian engineers of this company are so confident of further success that they hope shortly to be able to converse with ease at a distance of 4,655 miles; but to accomplish this wonderful feat they must combine all the conditions favorable for the transmission of telephonic sounds. If it is found possible to hold audible conversation at such extraordinary distances, it is possible that this fact will be speedily improved upon, and we shall be enabled to converse freely between London and New York, and by and by between London and the antipodes.—Chambers' Journal.

The Free Pass.

The following pass was received by one of our strongest Republican friends of this city from a Democratic relative in the East. It is printed on tinted paper in the form of a regular pass and reads as follows:

FREE PASS TO SALT RIVER.

SALT RIVER PACKET CO.

STEAMER "JAMES G. BLAINE."

This boat carries the famous "jingo" anchor, which can be readily cast to windward in channels where it may be useful.

Pass—From Eugene, Or., to Salt River, and charge to account of

JOHN P. ST. JOHN.

Pilot.

Remarks on back of pass read as follows: Trip on steamer will be enlivened by remarks on "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" by a celebrated New York divine. Mr. James Mulligan, of Boston, will also read extracts from "An Unburned Correspondence." Refreshments at Delmonico.

N. B.—After using burn this pass.

The Silent Vote.

At the Tammany Hall ratification dinner given in New York City, a good story was told by Hon. S. S. Cox, at the expense of the Stalwart bolters of Mr. Blaine on election day. Mr. Randall, in his speech at the dinner, referred to the heavy "silent vote" received by Mr. Cleveland, which he considered very significant. Mr. Cox, with his usual ready repartee, replied that the extent of the "silent vote" reminded him of the remarks of a Chinaman who was enjoying his first ride on the railroad. The celestial looked out of a car window as the long train was rounding a curve, and seeing no engine, animal, or other means of propulsion, exclaimed to his companion: "No horse, no co'ween, no pusher, no pullee, him allee saucee go like helles!"

The World says: There is no end to Cleveland's good luck. It turns out that an eccentric rich man of Pittsburg made a will several years ago, making the first Democratic President a sort of residuary legatee. By this document Cleveland will come into possession of about $50,000 for the use and behoof of the Democratic party and the perpetuation of Democratic principles. The man's name was Alexander McGill, who in 1878 made a will excluding his divorced wife from any share of the property and bequeathing the most of it to his sister during her lifetime and after her death to his sons and their children and from them to the Democratic President, as above stated. It does not appear that any of the formidable list of legatees is yet deceased.

Gov. Cleveland was elected in 1882 by a majority of about 3,000. Although his plurality in New York last month was not very large, his vote was 28,500 greater than his gubernatorial vote and 28,000 greater than Hancock's vote in 1880.
