

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1885.

They are all Workers.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, mentions a good trait of the Cabinet as follows:

Idleness is certainly not one of the 'settling sins of the present Administration. I saw the Secretary of the Treasury hurrying through his belated dinner at 10:30 last night, with the Secretary of War in waiting to confer with him on official business, and I saw Postmaster-General Vilas at his office before 9 this morning, after having made a tour of inspection through several of his departments. It may be the old adage of the new broom, but it looks as if an era of official industry had been inaugurated as one of the substantial reforms of the new political rule. And what the heads of departments are doing in the way of industry is systematically enforced through all the ramifications of the public service. Idlers, favorites and drones generally are all quaking in their boots at the new standard of public duties, and searching inquiries are now in progress to ascertain the needless employees preparatory to their dismissal.

The terrible results, which were to follow the election of a Democratic President, as vividly pictured in the imaginations of Republican editors, do not follow worth a cent. The country was to go into a financial spasm, we were to pay off the rebel debt, pension rebel soldiers, place a multitude of Southern office seekers in fat places in northern states. But, dear children, has any of these things come to pass. Not one, if the Republican leaders are correct, as they are certain that this is a Republican Administration. The Republican rattle the invaluable death's-head and the bloody shirt boggy, so long and successfully used by them to frighten persons of timid nerves, will be withdrawn from the stage, and consigned to dusty oblivion.

Another fond illusion of the Republicans, has been rudely dispelled. The quotations and sales of Confederate bonds in Paris and London was not caused by a belief that the U. S. would pay them, either principal or interest, but from the fact that the Confederate government had at the time of its downfall $5,000,000 in gold in European banks. The money was paid out to the holders of the bonds, which created all the demand that ever existed for them.

The policy of President Cleveland on the Chinese question, is thus stated by ex-Representative Budd of California: "President Cleveland is in sympathy with the Pacific Coast in the matter of Chinese restriction. Any law which may pass at the next session in that direction, will be signed by him, and the cabinet will see that the law is executed."

The population of Russia, according to the census of 1882, is given at 77,879,521 in European Russia, of whom 38,651,971 were males and 39,227,544 were females. The total population of the entire empire, including Finland, was a little over 102,000,000, or about one-twelfth of the population of the globe.

The absurd effort to falsify history to the effect that nearly one-half of the northern people were opposed to the Union in the late civil war, will prove fruitless. If they had been so affected, what would have been the outcome?

Mr. C. L. Craham says our trade with Mexico is not destined to be a plant of lively growth until the Custom Houses there are remodelled. To use a very strong expression, he says they are worse than our own.—Texas paper.

General Grant's salary as General on the retired list will be $13,500 per year. He will get full pay, something that is allowed but two other officers, Sherman and Sheridan.

Mormons entering Mexico to settle will enjoy the same privileges granted to other immigrants. They will be subject to the laws which forbid polygamy.

A Mississippi man who pointed an empty gun at another person, "just for fun," has been sentenced to thirty days imprisonment, for the same reason.

Sir Thomas Gladstone, a brother of the English premier, is in his ninety-first year and is still hale and hearty.

More Resistance.

There seems to be a deep laid plan on the boards to defeat the mortgage tax law. Yesterday two suits were commenced in the United States courts in resistance of the law.

The first was instituted by the New England Mortgage and Security company of Windham county, Connecticut, which commenced action against J F Groves, of Polk county, and the Sheriff of eight other counties, to enjoin them perpetually from collecting taxes on mortgages held by plaintiff on property in this State. They allege that the law is unconstitutional, and present about the same objections as those contained in the complaint filed by the Dundee Mortgage and Trust Company against the same law a few weeks since. The company carry $213,274 in mortgages, on which $3,854 91 is about to be collected.

The other resistor is the American Freehold Land Company, of London, England, (limited) which brings action against the Sheriffs of Polk, Clackamas, Benton, Douglas, Lane, Umatilla Linn, Yamhill and Union counties, to prevent the collection of $1,996 61 due on $114,027 invested in mortgages. The ground for action is similar in both instances.

The cases will be heard on May 18th on an order from defendants to show cause why a provisional injunction should not be granted. As in the first suit, commenced the counties will fight the case through.

England has conceded everything to Russia, and will try to retreat with honor, under cover of diplomacy, but it will deceive no one. The pusillanimity and perfidy of the English Government in inciting the Afghans to resist the Russians and then deserting them, is no honor to them, and we think that England has lost her Indian Empire by the betrayal. The opinion so sedulously cultivated by the British ministry that Russia does not India is laughable in the extreme, when it is considered that Russia has in the last twenty-five years pushed her boundaries five hundred miles towards India, and at every step has protested that she did not want the country, but was forced to take it. India would give Russia an outlet by the ocean, and would bring no European complications; the wealth of India would make it a rich prize, and one that nations would struggle for were there no other considerations. English supremacy is a thing of the past.

Recently high pontifical mass was celebrated in Copenhagen for the first time since the days of the Reformation such a service having heretofore been forbidden by law. The Catholics in Denmark now number about three thousand souls, with twenty-six priests, of whom seven are Danes.

We believe the statement in the report of the State Board of Agriculture that over 8,000,000 of bushels of old wheat remain unsold in Kansas is a bold and barefaced lie, perpetrated for the purpose of influencing the market.—Leavensworth, Kan., Times.

Prof. Anderson, the new U. S. Minister to Denmark, has sailed for his post of duty. Here is one appointment well made, if no other, as Mr. Anderson is as well, or better, versed in the Scandinavian tongue and literature as any man in the Kingdom of Denmark.

Gov. Fingree's Arbor Day proclamation in Vermont was prefaced with the remark of the Highland laird: "Jock, when ye has naething else to do you may be sticking in a tree, it will be growing jock, when ye're sleeping."

Japanese desirous of understanding the English language import several thousand copies of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary every year.

A hell on the roof of a Bridgeton, Conn., beer saloon is struck three times every time the proprietor has a fresh keg of beer tapped.

The Boston Journal says, "there are millions of capital in New England waiting for investment at 5 per cent.
