

Too Much for the Tramp.

"Skip!" The exclamation was uttered by a citizen of Brady street, and was directed at a tramp who had called to ask for dinner.

"Not much!" "You won't eh?" "No, sir!" "Then I'll make you!" "Go ahead!"

Did the citizen pull off his coat and spit on his hands and knock the tramp into the middle of next week? No, sir! He put his finger into his mouth and uttered a sharp whistle, and his wife came to the door with a hoe-handle in her hand and inquired:

"What, another? Well, look out for splinters!"

Her husband stood aside, and she made a rush, but when the weapon came down the tramp wasn't. From the other side of the fence he lifted his hat and gently but firmly observed:

"Any woman who strikes a man save in the way of kindness, deserves the gallows! Keep your cold vittles and go to Halifax!"

At the beginning of the present century all Christians were rigorously excluded from the mosques except in the case of the mosque at Tunis, where a Christian workman was allowed to enter on all-fours to repair the clock, "because," as the sheik said to his co-religionists who objected, "in case of repairs, is it not true, O true believers, that a donkey enters this holy place carrying stones on his back; and is it not true that one who does not believe in the true religion is an ass and the son of an ass? Therefore, O brothers, let this man go in as a donkey."

African colonization has already affected the price of elephants. An Indian exchange quotes Asian elephants six feet high at $2000, tigers at $175, and panthers at $175. Yet at recent sales in England elephants have been sold as low as $500, six lionesses with cubs at $750, a tiger that had devoured two keepers brought only $252, and a panther was traded even for a poodle.

Seventeen years ago a lady stuck a poplar riding whip in a yard at Salem, now owned by Samuel Bass. The other day a cord of wood was cut from it. The tree measured twenty-six inches across the stump. So fertile is the ground there that it is not safe to allow a cow to stand in the mud over night lest she sprout into an elephant or rhinoceros.

J. M. VENTRE, Administrator of said estate.

To Stock Raisers.

Young Sampson.

This fine horse will be allowed to serve in the ensuing season, commencing April 1st and ending July 4th, 1885, at Stewart's stable, in Eugene City, and at Creswell, Oregon, on the following terms: Single service, $10; season, $15; insurance, $20. Leap payable when service is rendered; season, at the end of the season; insurance, when the mare is known to be with foal, or if sold or traded before this is known, the insurance is forfeited. Care is taken to prevent accidents, but responsible for none that may occur. Mares can be pastured on reasonable terms.

DESCRIPTION AND PEDIGREE. Sampson is a beautiful bay 7 years old April 25, 1885; weight about 1810 lbs; is 18 hands high and well proportioned, and is considered by most men that see him as being one among the finest horses in the State of his age. He was sired by Adventure, he by Emperor, the first thoroughbred Clydesdale ever imported to Oregon. Adventure's dam was a fine Henry mare. Sampson's dam is well known in Marion county, being formerly owned by Mr. John Orchard, and as a fine mare and good breeder, has but few if any superiors in the State. For further particulars inquire of the owner. T. J. DUNTON, Owner and Keeper.

Preventive and cure, for either sex. This remedy being injected directly to the seat of those diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs requires no change of diet or rigorous measures, as numerous are the cases to be treated. When taken as a preventive by either sex it is impossible to contract venereal disease, and in the case of those already afflicted, it is the only and most powerful remedy we can use to cure a year's disease. With each order received for six boxes, accompanied with $3.00, we will send the purchaser our own guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not effect a cure. Guarantees issued only by WOODARD, CLARK & CO., PORTLAND, OREGON.
