A Rebel Convention.

The three Southern men who are most loved by the Republican press, are Gen. Mahone, Gen. Chalmers and John S. Wise, their candidate for Governor of Virginia. The latter, owing to the custom of receiving the leading colored men in his kitchen was highly unpopular among them. In order to give Capt. Wise a certificate of good character, Mr. Blaine wrote a letter attesting the fact that Capt. Wise is a good Republican, and thus invested him in the odor of sanctity. Of the proceedings of a convention that Mr. Blaine views with so much satisfaction, the New York Post says:

After the Republican convention in Virginia this week even the most audacious Republican organ in the North can hardly venture longer to wave the bloody shirt. The band played "Dixie," a tune abhorred by all good Republicans; the boss of the convention was a "Confederate Brigadier" whose proudest boast still is that he was Lee's right hand man in the rebellion; he was greeted by his followers with the "rebel yell"; the tool whom he placed in the chair "has a famous record as a Confederate soldier, and greatly distinguished himself at Fort Fisher where he was several times wounded;" and this "rebel" was upheld in wielding absolute power over the body by a delegate, upon the ground that he deserved confidence because he had "laid down and been sawed into in the hottest days of the Confederacy." To maintain that it is all right for a Republican convention to be thus controlled by "rebels," and all wrong for "rebels" to take any part on the Democratic side, involves a measure of justification which must stagger even a Blaine organ. We find that the successful candidate for Governor was lauded as a man who had "shed his blood in Shenandoah county"—against the Union. There was but one thing more that the convention could do in honor of the "lost cause," and that was to declare in favor of pensions for rebel soldiers. It was done. Among the planks of the platform is the following:

We proclaim for such annual appropriations as may be adequate to provide for the care and support of disabled Virginia soldiers who need such provisions.

The attack on Gen. Black, Commissioner of Pensions, one of the bravest soldiers of the Union army, shows how hard up Republican papers are for campaign material. They object to his pension of $100 per month, but in all their articles they fail to state that he was disabled for years from pursuing any occupation, and that he has suffered constant pain for twenty years. Gen. Black's only fault, in the eyes of these critics, is that he is a Democrat.

Gen Grant was laid away to rest last Saturday, with the greatest honors ever accorded an American citizen. New honors will gather around his name, and posterity will do full honor to him. As the American people turn away from his tomb they wish that peace to the spirit of the great leader that he strove for and left as an inheritance to his countrymen.

No, Oh! No, John Roach never received any money from the Government. Nothing but a trifle of $10,333,626.35. Mr. Roach could well afford two campaign contributions of $100,000 each to a campaign fund, and then have something left for the hard winter of Democratic rule.

Of the twenty-two pall-bearers at Lincoln's funeral, only seven are now alive, viz: Simon Cameron, E. B. Washburne, Colonel H. G. Worthington, Rev. Green Clay Smith, Alexander H. Cofforth, Henry L. Dawes and John Conness.

Nevada is happy. John Mackay has shied his hat into the ring and says he wants the United States senatorship. Jim Fair says he wants to keep it. Both are worth $25,000,000 and mean business. A vote at Carson next winter will be worth $15,000.

Portsmouth, New Hampshire, recently elected the entire Democratic ticket by 600 majority. This is only another evidence of the strength and popularity of the Administration of Grover Cleveland with the people.

Gen. Sherman is the last one to rise and remark that he is pleased with the new Administration. He thinks that the Union soldier is getting a fair shake.

If precedent rules Mrs. Grant will receive a pension of $5000 per year. That is the sum that was voted to Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Garfield and Mrs. Polk.

President Cleveland has gone into the Adirondacks to spend the Summer vacation.

Iowa Democrats are asserting their ability to carry that State this Fall.

Fire at Alkali.

Fire broke out at Alkali, Oregon, at 10 P. M. Friday, August 7th, in a building occupied by a lottery racket. The loss is about $10,000. Linder's saloon, Hendricks' butcher shop, a building owned by J. Service, and W. A. Ridkey's general merchandise store were totally destroyed. There is only a small insurance on Ridkey's stock. The greater part of the stock was saved. Much credit is due Robinson's circus. Without their help it is probable that Keeney's saloon, Graham's saloon, Heppner & Blockman's general merchandise store and the Gilman Hotel would have been destroyed. This is the first fire in the town of Alkali. One of Robinson's circus employees was nearly killed, while working at the fire, by an ax flying off the handle and crushing his skull.

From the census just taken by the agent, says the Pendleton Tribune, the Indians and mixed bloods living on the Umatilla reservation number 896 in all, of which 730 are Indians and 166 mixed bloods. The Indians have 7090 acres under cultivation, on which they have raised 15,000 bushels of wheat, 500 bushels of oats, 900 bushels of barley and rye, 2000 bushels of corn, and 3000 bushels of potatoes. They have 6000 head of horses, 500 head of cattle, 409 head of sheep, and 250 head of hogs. This is exclusive of the mixed bloods, who are mostly wives and children of white men that have obtained a footing on the reservation and are cultivating considerable land by reason of such relationship.

It was a severe blow to the Republican managers, says the Examiner, to see with what unanimity the South and its soldiers last Saturday, united with the north in honoring the memory of Grant. It destroyed for all time the possibility of a sectional issue. It is certain that from now on the patriotic and intelligent people of the Union will sternly rebuke any attempt to revive the bitter memories and unhappy feuds of the past.

The large way in which farming operations are conducted in California is indicated by the fact that A. H. Rose, an Oakland farmer, has just failed for $800,000. When the big ranches of California are subdivided, and owned by thousands of small agriculturists, such failures as this will be impossible. And if this result is secured through the insolvency of the great land barons, the faster the failures occur the better.

The special train carrying Manager Koehler, Superintendent Brandt and the U. S. Railroad Commissioner, General Johnston, from Ashland to Portland, several days ago, made the run of 344 miles in eleven hours--the best time ever made on the road. The train left Ashland at 7 A. M., stopped an hour at Roseburg, and reached Portland at 7 P. M.

The President has ordered the men, who have audaciously fenced in miles of public lands to, remove the obstructions at once, and commanded all Federal officials having authority, to see that they are removed. Favoritism and neglect of duty will not be tolerated under this Administration and those lands will soon be open to the settler.

The Republican party would lose a few votes if it advances a new idea or pronounces its sentiments on certain questions, and this being so, "num's the word." The difference between this kind of Republicanism and that of twenty four years ago is marked, and is not altogether to the credit of the former.

It is generally conceded that the appointments made by Mr. Cleveland are better than the average appointments made by any of his Republican predecessors; but when mistakes have been made, the President has had the courage to revoke commissions ordered for unworthy men.

By the new census of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians, it is found that there were twice as many Indians reported by the old census than actually existed. The saving in beef and flour alone will amount to $105,000 yearly. Truly, the work of reform is proceeding.

Stephen A. Douglas, Jr., delivered the memorial address in honor of General Grant at Council Bluffs Saturday. Fifteen thousand people were present.

School Directors' Meeting.

EUGENE CITY, Aug. 8, 1885. A postponed meeting of the directors of School District No. 4 was held this day at the office of Dr. Patterson; full board present.

Seven applications for the position of janitor were presented. Mr. J. Thayer was reappointed janitor for the ensuing year.

Ordered that the city council be requested to appoint Jos. Thayer assistant marshal or watchman, to serve as such during his service as janitor, for the better protection of the school buildings and grounds. The clerk was directed to present this request.

Ordered that our public school commence on Monday, September 14th, ensuing. The teachers recently chosen are accordingly notified.

Ordered that Mr. Zack Porter, contractor for the delivery of forty cords of wood, be paid for the same $140.

The Silverton Murder.

Coroner Warriner, of Marion county, was notified last Monday of a double tragedy at Silverton. After examination he furnishes the following particulars: C. F. Libby and Arthur Patty were partners in the sash and door business at that place, where they have been located for several months past, the latter, a young man, having boarded with the former, who is a man of family. At 7 o'clock A. M. while young Patty was washing back of the house, Libby took a double-barrelled shotgun, heavily loaded with bullets and shot, placed the muzzle close to young Patty's left side and erupted the contents into his body. The young man staggered a few steps, exclaiming, "What did you do that for?" and fell forward on his face and expired. Libby then walked into his house and put a charge through his own breast, killing himself instantly. No one ever heard of any unpleasantness between them, and both were respected. It was generally supposed that old man Libby was weak-minded, as no cause for the murder can be assigned.

Cure For Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulence, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address the Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, Ohio. Sold by Osburn & Co and W. S. Lee, of Junction.

Sheriff's Sale.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT by virtue of a writ of Execution duly issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Lane county, by the Clerk thereof and to me directed on-to-wit: August 7th, 1885, upon a judgment rendered in said court December 9th, 1878, in a suit therein and pending wherein A. H. Sparo was plaintiff and A. Larch and B. Lurch were defendants, for the sum of $4783 75, said writ commanding me to make the sum of $97 50 with interest thereon at the rate of 1 per cent per month from the 3rd day of November, 1884, and being unable to find any personal property belonging to said defendants, I have levied upon the following described real property, to-wit: One-eighth interest in the N W 1/4 of S W 1/4 of Sec 7 T 21, S R 2 W, Will. Mer., containing 40.90 acres in Lane county, Oregon, together with all the dams which may have been constructed necessary to hold logs or water for practical saw mill purposes, and also the right of using and bringing water from said dams over any land owned or occupied at the date of conveyance of said premises or thereafter to E W Whipple & Bros by Samuel Brumbaugh, Lydia Brumbaugh, Thomas Brumbaugh and Mary Brumbaugh.

Now therefore by virtue of said Execution, and to satisfy said judgment, interest, cost and accruing costs and expenses of sale, I will sell the above described real property at public auction, for cash in hand, to the highest bidder, at the Court House door in Eugene City, Lane county, Oregon, on Monday, September 14, 1885. Between the hours of 9 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. of said day.

Dated August 13, 1885.

J. R. CAMPBELL, Sheriff Lane county, Oregon.
