An Extra Brssion

The extra session which Gov. Moody has called to meet on the 9th proximo, is a response to the demand of the ring politicians, and of them alone. The tion, all for the sole purpose of elevating some ambitious individual to the U. S. Senate, but in times of business depression like these, they demand and in 1883 Blaine's plurality 31,802.

The great cathedral of Saint Peter draws away from their business shall draws away from the first from the draws away from their business shall be as light as possible.

We await with great curiosity Mr. Moody's message to the Legislature. We would like to know what extra ordinary occasion has arisen that demands a session of the Legislature. We have failed to observe any serious of the temple cost $310,000, and upon and we are very doubtful if the Governor hast. But it may be that a state law has changed the constitution of the State. We hope that the Governor has not made this wonderful discovery, but we incline to think that is his reason for an extra session.

There is not even a partisan necescan during President Cleveland's term, of the day. even though two Democrats were to go from Oregon to to the Senite. The newly elected senator will not change system by which the sum of one dollar national legislation in the least.

There is no excuse for an extra session! It is unnecessary, there is no reason for its being and the legality of any law passed by that body may agency exists. ocratic members will do remains to be purpose and it would seem that 31 of the members have no business in the proceedings of that body.

So says the Supreme Court.

The Republican State of Ohio last Wednesday elected the Republican State ticket by about 15,000, about the virtuous and distinguished Reone-half their usual plurality. The Legislature is probably Republican, though it is still in doubt. The Prohibitionists polled 23,000 votes. The Republicans brought out their full vote and of course the State wen: Republi-

From careful estimates the Dayton paper learns that 650,000 bushels of wheat have been received in Dayton this season, including what has gone to the mills. Over 320,000 bushels are still in the yard, and but twofifths of the crop has been delivered. Every warehouse is full and 136,000 bushels are piled up outside and covered with sheds.

The San Francisco Chronicle says that a sure sign of the revival of business is afforded in the heavy failures of two New York firms for several million dollars. These firms belong to the "bear" crowd, which is always seeking to depress values. It appears that the "bears" have had their day, and
