Mr J L Pargo has purchased the bankrupt stock, formerly belonging to Osburn & Belshaw and will sell the same at prices "way down." Give him a call and price the goods.

Mr T C Jenkins had two very interesting articles in last Sunday's Oregonian, from Washington, D.C. 'Tis is a splendid writer and his articles are always entertaining.

All persons indebted to us either by note or account are requested to settle the same by the first of Jan. without fail, as we must have money.

A Washington Territory jury has just decided that the killing of a sawing machine agent is not murder. This may be the result of allowing women a chance to get even by being jurors.

Ed Baum has just opened a fine line of snoker's articles—meerschaum pipes and fine cigars—expressly made for Christmas presents. A cribbage board on the cigar box; something novel and neat.

One of the largest stocks of boots and shoes ever brought to Eugene has just arrived at Matlock's. They were bought direct from the manufacturers in the East and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

We acknowledge pleasant calls from W F Carson, traveling for the N P R R, and W H Marshall, agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St Paul railway. Both are gentlemen in the true meaning of the word.

A fine polish can be made upon shirt bosoms, collars and cuffs, by using the following: Pour a pint of boiling water upon two ounces of gunnib; cover it and let it stand over night. Use a small quantity in the starch.

At Matlock's a very fine line of ladies' shoes of the celebrated H D Hoibrock make, direct from the Eastern manufacturer. The ladies of Lane county will do well to call at Mr Matlock's store and examine these goods.

The untidy appearance of a grizzly beard should never be allowed. Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers will change their color to a brown or black, at discretion, and thus keep your reputation for neatness and good looks.

We have been shown a new variety of winter wheat, grown by W A Baker, of Lane county. A sample was sent to Mrs A S from Lanning & Co, proprietors of the Red Crown Mills, of this city, who pronounce it a superior wheat for flour. The grain is large and plump.

Albany Herald.

The youngest daughter of Mr J B Wyatt fell from the east end of the Harrisburg bridge, a distance of twenty feet, last Friday, and broke her right shoulder blade and also injuring her otherwise. The little sufferer was brought to the family home here, and is slowly recovering.

"Words fail to express my gratitude," says Mr Shelby Carter, of Nashville, Tenn., "for the benefits derived from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. My system was filled with scrofula; blotches, ulcers, and many other evil over my body." Mr Carter was entirely cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, eight months ago, and has had no return of the scrofulous symptoms.

Hibbs, the Lewiston postal-order sharp, has been acquitted on four of the eight charges against him. If it should prove to be no crime at all to rob the money-order system, some thousands of postmasters will feel like kicking themselves for their stupidity in not discovering the simple trick which proved so profitable to Hibbs.

Mr Warren and family, from Blue River, were here this week visiting friends and relatives. Mr W reports things quiet on the Blue; roads quite muddy and mines snowed in. About the only prospecting being done now is for lost tools and claims hidden away in the beautiful snow.

J. J. CHURCHILL, Sec'y.

The Harrisburg R. R. Bridge.

HARRISBURG BRIDGE, Dec. 21, 1885.

ED DAILY HERALD:—In your issue of Dec 18th I notice the following: "Boats are now able to ascend the upper Willamette without difficulty. Considerable wheat and other freight has been shipped from Harrisburg to Corvallis, and with the draw in the Harrisburg bridge in good working condition, boats could easily go as far as Eugene."

This article would no doubt create the impression that the draw is in bad shape, which is not the case. The draw is in good working condition, in fact has never been in better shape since it was built, and when ever a boat wishes to go to Eugene all they have to do is to have water enough to float them and a competent pilot, and they can get there, as the draw will be opened any time they come to it, all talk to the contrary notwithstanding.

Respectfully yours, F. S. ROBINSON, Waltham Harrisburg Bridge.

Mill Creek Items.

You KNOW WHO.

ADVERTISING.—The time has come for business, for all there is in it, and all there is to be made out of it. In view of this fact we commend to our business men a careful reading of the following extract: "Concerning what are known as standing advertisements in newspapers which some merchants say are useless, an exchange says and truly: They command confidence. The man who for years resides in a community and lives a respectable life, even though he be of modern alidity, will gain in confidence and esteem of his fellows. On the same principle a newspaper advertisement becomes familiar to the eyes of the readers. It may not be carefully read every day, still it makes the name and business of a man familiar and its continued presence in the columns of a paper inspires confidence in the stability of the advertisement."—Lewist.

APPOINTMENTS.—It will be remembered by readers that at the special session of the Oregon Legislature a bill was passed creating the Seventh judicial district of Oregon, and appointing a circuit judge and prosecuting attorney for the said district. The new district comprises the counties of Crook, Gilliam, Morrow and Wasco, which were in the Sixth district before this bill passed. But it was found that Judge Taylor could not attend to all the business, especially as he was required to be in Astoria and Alkali at the same date, and it was too big a straddle. To be date, and it was thought best to divide the judge of the new district, Gov Moody Monday appointed Hon W Lair Hill, of the Dalles, and to act as prosecuting attorney, until after an election and qualification, he appointed W R Ellis, of Heppner, Morrow county.—Salem Statesman.

SOLD AT AUCTION.—The fine 3 year old colt, belonging to the estate of O P Adams, deceased, whose dam, the famous "Oregon Beauty," sold recently for $1,500, was sold Wednesday, near this city, at public auction, among other property belonging to the estate, for $501, the purchaser being a man from Portland. The peculiarity of the horse is his long land. The peculiarity of the horse is his long land. The peculiarity of the horse is his long land. He is flowing mane and tail, in which respect he is not inferior to his mother. The latter, since her change of owners last spring, has been on exhibition in California, with a realization of $40,000 by her owners.—Albany Herald.

The place of Orville Green, 36.23 acres, was sold to Martha W Cooper, for $789.40.

John Bennett's place, 12.08 acres, was bid in by Lizzie N Thompson $330.10.

The Ben Cox farm, consisting of 320 acres, was bought by A Wilhelm for $2,429.

Every one of the places were bid in by the judgment creditor.

CAPTAIN SAUNDERS AND MISS ALLISON.

"Capt" W W Saunders was interviewed in his cell in the Lane county jail by an Albany Herald reporter Friday evening, who learned several points of interest. The prisoner is in poor health, being confined to his bed most of the time, and is under the care of a physician. He is comfortably provided for in his cell, however, his friends having carpeted the floor and provided him with a rocking chair and spring bed. He contradicts the statement that he intended to plead his own case. We are informed that the attorneys retained in the case are J. J. Burnett, of Corvallis; E S Strahn, W R Blyden and Weatherford & Blackburn, of Albany. Miss Allison declares her confidence much more than her husband. Neither of the prisoners is excluded from visitors.

MURDER IN PORTLAND.

About 11 o'clock Tuesday evening Maria Rana Fingry, a French courtesan, living in a small white cottage on the corner Yamhill and Third streets, Portland, was found murdered in her room. Twelve fearful wounds, made by some sharp instrument, suppose to be a hatchet, were found upon her head and breast. The perpetrator of the crime could not be found, and various theories are advanced as to who it was. One story is that her husband, Samuel Mollerat, from whom she has been separated several years, is the murderer; another that it is the work of a Chinese servant. Counselors gave verdict of murder by a known party.

PROBABLE CONSOLIDATION.

A few days ago a meeting was held in New York by the directors of the Northern Pacific railroad company. At that meeting a proposition was received from the American express company in regard to the operation of the lines of the Northern Pacific railroad. The financial inference to be drawn should this proposition be accepted is that the Wells, Fargo & Co's express, which now operates the road through to St Paul and there transferring to the American express line, will assume the entire business between Portland and St Paul. In speaking of the meeting of the directors the St Paul Pioneer Press says: "It is likely that some such arrangement will be made, some of the Northern Pacific directors are apparently interested in the American express company."

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED.

Our friends everywhere who may at any time have knowledge of facts of local importance: Accidents, agricultural news, proceedings of public meetings, improvements, births, deaths, marriages, curiosities, etc, would confer a favor on us and our readers generally by sending notice of the same to this office. Give us facts in any shape and we will take care of them. We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views or opinions expressed by our correspondents. We reserve the right to reject any and all matter of a personal nature where it reflects to the individual discredit.

UNLUCKY POINT.—Speaking of the recent collision on the Northern Pacific, a correspondent of the Wells Wells Statesman writes: "Unlucky Point where the collision occurred, has long been regarded by the train men on the Rocky Mountain division as an unlucky point. Even before the railroad was built—away back in the early logging days—the stage and freight teams used to meet with accidents at that place. This day the track was laid around the rock, a man by the name of Sweeney had his head cut off and clean by the cars. When the road was being blasted, Osborne, conductor on the work train, was also killed there."

DEMONS ABERNETHY.—An Ashland paper says: The serene count of Oregon has affirmed the denial of the lower court in the O'Neil murder case, appealed from this county. As to the guilt of the condemned man, there seems to be no doubt, and the taxpayers are to be congratulated in that there was left by our district court mechanical breach through which the counsel of a defendant could return with the case for another assault upon the county funds.

MULES FORHIE O. P. R. R.—It appears that arrangements are being begun on the Albany extension of the Oregon Pacific. Monday Geo W Hart, the railroad contractor, passed through with two or three hundred mules which brought from the Pataha branch of the P & W road, and will put them at work on the O P R to Albany at once.—Salem Statesman.

PROPERTY RECOVERED.—Mr C Marx has purchased of Meyer Roseblatt 25 feet on Willamette river, just north of Mr F B Dana's property, now used as a shoemaker's shop. Terms $1,450. Mr Roberts, late of Illinois, who regained for the same property, forfeited his bid.
