FLOTTING A COMPANY.

New York, Oct. 17.

There exists in the city of London a number of enterprises for floating companies, who are formerly noted promoters of similar institutions. One of these concerns the raising of the same amount of capital as is required for the purchase of a large steamboat. The plan is to form a company of limited liability, with the intention of purchasing the boat and doing business in connection with it. The company is expected to be formed next month, and will consist of ten shareholders, each of whom will subscribe $1,000. The boat will be built at the New York shipyards, and is expected to be completed in three months. The company intends to use the boat for pleasure cruises on the Hudson, and to make it available for hire to wealthy individuals.

ANCIENT LAWS.

Some of the Moors entering

We Englishmen have an inordinate confidence in our sitting-rooms as our most important possessions, and as the

FOREIGN REPORTS.

Washington, Oct. 16.

The recent conflict between Russia and Japan in the Black Sea has resulted in a truce, but the peace is not yet formalized. The Russians have agreed to withdraw their forces from the territories they have occupied, and to return to their previous positions. The Japanese have also agreed to withdraw, but they have demanded the immediate payment of large sums of money as reparations. The negotiations are still proceeding, and it is hoped that a formal peace will be concluded in the near future.

CLEANSING PARIS.

At the Congress of the Union of Working Women, it was stated that the government of France is taking steps to clean up the streets of Paris. The mayor of the city has ordered the streets to be swept daily, and the sidewalks to be washed weekly. The city council has also appropriated funds for the purchase of new carts and brooms, and for the hire of laborers to do the work. The plan is to have the city clean and tidy within the next six months.

FACTS ABOUT STORMS.

During the recent storm in the United States, a large number of people were killed and many were injured. The storm was caused by a low pressure area moving over the Atlantic Ocean, and it reached the coast of New England with great force. The wind was howling at a velocity of 100 miles per hour, and it caused a great deal of damage. The storm was accompanied by heavy rain, and it caused a great deal of flooding in the low-lying areas. The total number of people killed in the storm is estimated to be 100, and the total number of people injured is estimated to be 500.

WASHINGTON POST.

The Washington Post is a daily newspaper published in Washington, D.C. The newspaper was founded in 1829, and it is one of the oldest newspapers in the United States. The newspaper is published five days a week, and it covers local, national, and international news. The newspaper is published by the Washington Post Company, which is a private corporation. The company is owned by the Graham family, and it is headquartered in Washi