

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1886.

Like Some of the Best.

A Washington dispatch of October 24th is full of interest. From this it would appear, to use an expressive nautical metaphor that Col. Roun is has been "casting an anchor to windward."

Public Printer Benedict says if all the departments of the Government have been mismanaged as badly as that of which he has just been placed in charge, the change of administration did not come any too soon. Benedict is carrying on the business of the office at the present time with about one-half the force employed a year ago. He believes he can do as much work as his Republican predecessor did and save $400,000 per annum. He says ink and other supplies are now being purchased for one half or one-fourth of what Rounds paid for articles that were inferior in quality to the new supplies. Of 15,000 pounds of ink purchased during the last year of Rounds' administration, four-fifths of it cost from $2 to $5 per pound. Benedict does not pay $1.50 for his ink and most of it he buys for less. Mr. Rounds bought all his ink from his relatives in Chicago. Mr. Benedict claims if Rounds was not a corrupt man he was at least reprehensibly extravagant. Benedict is preparing a statement for the President's information, which he claims will show that under Rounds' administration a sum of over one million dollars was needlessly wasted.

It is also stated that most of the supplies of various kinds Rounds obtained either from or through his relatives and personal friends. When new printing presses were wanted his son was made the unnecessary middle-man through whom they were purchased. Some way was always found for a friend to make a commission, and much of the supplies were wasted or destroyed by not being properly kept. Printing ink, for instance, which needs to be kept at a moderate temperature, was exposed to the weather when the thermometer was at zero, so that it was rendered useless. Printers' rollers, for which high prices were paid, are in stock to day that have never been used, and never can be. They are as hard as a brickbat.

The workmen and foremen of Rounds' time are still there and they readily admit all these things. It is said by the employees that Mr. Benedict has been around more and has given more attention to the affairs of the establishment than Mr. Rounds did during all his four years term.

The New York Post is entitled to the gratitude of all protectionists. It thus reveals a horrid British plot which is enough to make the blood chill in their veins!!!! "We have now three candidates for the Mayoralty of New York who are stigmatized as "free traders." It is known all three are in favor of tariff reform. There are shades of difference among them as to the measure of reform that they think beneficial, but in the lingo of protection they are all alike "British free traders," "enemies of American industry" and "tools of the Cobden Club." Now what inference will the country draw from this remarkable concatenation? Some people may conclude that the city of New York has been debauched by importers and flooded with British gold. Cable telegrams have announced two shipments of gold this week from England one of $1,100,000 and one of $1,600,000. This has a suspicious look when "free traders" are nominated for the mayoralty simultaneously, and no protectionist is nominated for the office by anybody."

What answer can the Republican party organs give to the following plain statement by Senator Vest of Missouri

"Since the close of the war in 1868 the Republican party have expended for naval purposes the enormous sum of $419,512,658.17, an annual average of $20,975,622.95. Of this amount $99,000,000 was expended in the construction, repair and equipment of vessels, the remainder being paid to officers and men. Notwithstanding this enormous outlay we have, to-day, virtually no navy, and our seaboard cities are at the mercy of other nations, whilst we have not a single war vessel that could last an hour before the iron-clads of Europe. We are paying officers and men, who have no ships, for out of eighty-seven vessels now on the navy list, only thirty-seven are serviceable. This is the record of a party which reproaches Democrats for extravagance and mal-administration.

Ex-Governor Hoadley, of Ohio, is an honest man. When Archbishop Purcell of Cincinnati failed for $4,000,000, a man named Mannix was appointed assignee of his estate. Mannix gambled off $300,000 and escaped punishment. Ex-Governor Hoadley is one of the four sureties of Assignee Mannix who justified in $250,000; and on the 17th, at a meeting of 2000 creditors of the Purcell estate, a letter from him to the trustees was read, proposing to pay his fourth of the bond, $62,500, and in addition to turning over the stock, sureties and mortgages given him by Mannix to insure him against loss. Hoadley is of course liable for the amount of his bond; the securities behind the bond are a personal matter and could not have been touched. By

Cincinnati Enquirer: Last week the President sent for Fourth Auditor Shelley of the Treasury, who is an ex-Congressman from Alabama. When Mr. Shelley arrived at the White House Mr. Cleveland said: "I see that you have sent up the name of a man by the name of Pugh for appointment. Who is he?"

"He is the son of Senator Pugh of Alabama," was the Auditor's response. "And I also," continued the President, "see you have recommended a man named Harris to be chief of a division in your office. Who is he?"

"He is the son of Senator Harris of Tennessee." "Well, Mr. Shelley, continued the President, "I do not think a Senator can afford or ought to appoint his son to office. If, however, they do, I will not allow it to be done. You must not appoint either of them."

Over 1,250,000 people, mostly of the so-called lower classes were shot, drowned, guillotined and killed in other modes during the French Revolution. This country does not want nor will it have any scheme of murder by wholesale. While there has been misgovernment in this country, and while the public lands has been given away, our gates opened to the Chinese and Hungarians, and taxes placed on the necessities of life, these things can be changed by supporting with their votes men and parties opposed to these measures. The people of this Republic will stamp out incendiarianism, and will quietly and peacefully carry out all needed reforms.

Mr Jas G Blaine is now repeating his old attacks on the south, just because the rebel debt has been paid, the rebel soldiers pensioned, rebel claims allowed, etc. Mr. Blaine should turn to the Mulligan letters for they have not yet been sufficiently elucidated, and he knows what's what in these epistles, and that is more than he knows of anything else.

The Philadelphia Times (Indi) makes the following note on the occupation of newspaper organs: "Both Gen. Beaver and Lieut. Gov. Black have been declared drunkards by rabid partisans, in fact of the fact that neither of them ever drinks spirituous or malt liquors of any kind; but organs and reckless politicians must have employment."

The Indiana Democrats do not mince words. Their platform declares that taxation of the people for other purposes than raising revenue for the expenses of Government, economically administered, is robbery under the foras of law." Nothing serves to ornament a political platform more than a well know truth.

Miss Cleveland has retired from the Literary Life on account of the proprietor refusing to allow her an increase of salary. The journal is said to have largely increased in circulation since her connection with it.

The Salem Lance, K. of L. organ, is asking the State Insurance Company of Salem, some hard questions, as for instance what is their capital stock and if they have any, and if so, where they keep it!

The New York Star says that from "the Battery the Status of Liberty looks very much like a sack of potatoes with a stick projecting from it, while the view from Staten Island suggests a churn.

Only $75,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds are yet outstanding, all that can be redeemed of the bonds during President Cleveland's term according to law.

The French Republic advertises the crown jewels of former regimes for sale. Here is a chance for the country newspaper men to obtain their jewelry.

Stovanoff, a popular poet of Bulgaria, intends to move in the Sobranje in favor of a Republic. The light is spreading.

Two hundred and fifty lives were lost by drowning during the late storm in the South.

STORE BURGLARIED.—Last Saturday night some unknown party entered the store of Wittsches and Schmidt, the leading merchants of Turner, Marion county. The entrance was made through a window into a back room. This room was connected with the main store room by a door, and this was locked, and the key on the "store" side. The fellow then cut a hole in this door, through which he reached in hand and turned the key. He then made his way to the money drawer, where he found four or five dollars in change. He next laid in his winter's supply of cigars and tobacco, and departed. There was not the slightest clue to the perpetrator of the robbery.—Portland Telegram.
