

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY.....NOVEMBER 6, 1886.

THE ELECTIONS.

The results of last Tuesday's elections in thirty-three states are as yet very indefinitely known. The Democratic State ticket in New York despite the Democratic defection, and the venomous criticisms on Judge Peckham, is elected by from 5000 to 7000 plurality. New Jersey is Democratic by 7000 plurality, Connecticut by 3000 plurality, while New Hampshire which has always had a very strong Democratic leaning swings in line for 1888. Indiana, Michigan and California are in doubt with chances favoring the Republicans. The Republican majority of 40,000 in Minnesota is cut down to 3,000 plurality, caused by the knowledge of tendencies of the Republican party. Massachusetts and Iowa give their Republican tickets 10,000 majority. The other Northern States are Republican by less than the usual majorities. The Senate, the bulwark of monopolies, remains Republican. The House is Democratic by a majority of eight, a Democratic decrease of 32 votes, caused almost entirely by disappointed office seekers; in eight districts the Democrats had double sets of candidates, thus accounting for a loss of sixteen, and in other districts from the same cause Democratic candidates were defeated. The returns show that while some Democrats did not vote for their Congressman, or local officers that they were united on State officials.

If the election of last Tuesday had been for President, the Democratic candidate for President would have been elected, with votes to spare. In view of the fact that New York, New Jersey and Connecticut all increase their Democratic majorities, it is easy to detect the note of alarm sounded by the Republican organs, amid the hysteria rejoicing that Nebraska or Ohio has gone Republican, or that here and there Democratic discord has given the Republicans a few Congressmen. The handwriting is on the wall, and the sagacious Republican politicians see there the prophetic omen that the Republican cause is hopeless, for they have too much intelligence not to notice the vast significance of the following sentence:

The pivotal States remain Democratic and by increased majorities.

NOTES.

The South went Democratic.

There will be no anti-monopoly or labor legislation in the next Congress.

Texas gave 100,000 majority to the Democratic ticket. The Lone Star State has the largest school fund of any state in the union.

Chas Voorhees has routed the N. P. candidate in Washington territory, by 2,000. Cleveland luck bears no comparison with Voorhees luck.

The District in South Carolina which has a heavy Republican majority, sends a Democrat to Congress. A color war waged there. Two Republican candidates contested the field. The issue was full blooded black vs slightly black, with the issue of the foolish quarrel that a white man carries off the trophies of victory.

Hewitt beat George by 23,000 plurality for Mayor of New York, with the dude statesman Roosevelt third in the race. The proposition of George that land should bear the burden of taxation is identical with the views of Judge Deady, and if the socialists are looking about for a candidate for President, let them look no further, as Judge Deady is just their man.

Another Southern outrage! A Louisville dispatch of Nov. 2, says: "F. M. Jones, Democrat, was stabbed and instantly killed at a voting place in Muhlenberg county by J. R. Randolph, Republican. The killing is said to have been unprovoked. Randolph was drunk." If the Democrat had killed the Republican, a stack of affidavits a mile high, would not be sufficient to change the belief in the Republican mind that the result of a private brawl was a deliberate, deadly plot of the entire Democratic party. As it is, the Republicans will keep mum about the killing of a Democrat.

The Adams Express Company has reason to become a champion of the silver dollar. In the robbery committed in one of its cars on the St. Louis and San Francisco road a week ago gold coin and bank notes to the amount of $50,000, it is stated, were taken, while a large sum in silver was left untouched. Had all the money been silver the thief could not have escaped with more than $500 or $600 of it.

The Umatilla Indians have at last agreed to accept lands in severalty and allow their reservation to be thrown open to settlement. The Umatilla Reservation is a magnificent body of land containing 255,000 acres. After establishing the Indians in severalty it is thought there will be 5,000 acres of land remaining which will be sold at auction and every dollar of the proceeds reserved for the Indians and will be expended for them under government authority. The lands which the Indians retain in severalty will not be patented to them for twenty years and are not to be taxed during that period. The land must all be surveyed and platted, and the Indians must make their selections, before the remainder can be thrown open to settlement. Only 200 acres will be sold to one individual (160 acres of agricultural land and 40 acres of wood land), and each buyer must make oath that he is purchasing said lands for his own use and occupation. This restriction will be enforced to keep the lands out of the clutches of grabbers and speculators. When this reservation is brought under cultivation, Umatilla county will be the richest agricultural county in the state.

It is really startling to consider how much healthier the masculine portion of the state of Kansas is than the feminine. It has always been supposed that the women were the weaker sex, and that they suffered infinitely more than the men from the ills to which flesh is heir. The records of a McPherson drug store, however, reveal the alarming fact that 480 men during one month were afflicted with diseases which required the use of alcohol in some form, while only ten women during that time were sufferers.

In the reign of Henry VIII the population of England, kept in check by wars and pestilence, numbered not more than 5,000,000, while in the early part of the reign of George III. it was about 7,500,000. Then came a period of commercial prosperity, and with this the population of England went up first to 10,000,000 or 11,000,000, and then to 16,000,000 at the period of the repeal of the corn laws. At the present time 24,000,000 have to be housed and fed in England and Wales.

Frederick Joslin, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., has been a pauper for years. He lost his eyesight from rheumatism contracted during the war. Ten years ago an attorney took hold of his case and attempted to obtain for him a pension. Success has crowned his efforts and the pauper receives $10,000 back pay and $72 a month for life. This is said to be the largest pension yet obtained by a Vermonter.

The resemblance between the faces of Senator Butler, of South Carolina, and Commodore Perry has often been noticed. The face of Perry, as depicted in the painting at the Capitol of the "Victory on Lake Champlain," resembles Butler's greatly. It is now explained that Commodore Perry was Senator Butler's uncle on his mother's side.—Ex.

There is a world of suggestiveness in the few words about the fate of the braves of Mangus, Colorado, who were captured by the Mexicans. Mangus reports that they were never heard of again. This may be a barbaric way of putting an end to the Apache marauders, but it is so much more effective than our system and costs a great deal less.

The Salt Lake Tribune of a recent date said: "The condition of the principal streets of Zion is simply disgraceful. No attempt is made by the city authorities to clean them in any way. The only improvement that is made is in scraping the dirty crossings at the expense of the ungodly Gentile hotel proprietors and business men."

The Oregonian has just learned that the Republican party has no existence in Oregon, but that the grand old party of morality in this State is a Mitchell party. To judge by the unbroken line of Mitchell conventions in the past fifteen years, it would seem so.

The spouting well near Belle Plaine, Iowa, gives forth 8,600,000 gallons of water every twenty-four hours, and another geyser has just broken out in the same vicinity. The Prohibition organization at Belle Plaine has become extinct.

The mountain castles of the late King of Bavaria, were thrown open to exhibition for ten weeks and the sum of $50,000 was netted from entrance fees in that short time.

Widows of soldiers of 1812, to the number of 13,397, are still drawing pensions from the Government.

The extent of college education among the colored people will surprise many northerners. At Fisk university, Nashville, there are 484 students; at Atlanta university, 291; at Talladega college, 320; at Straight university, in Louisiana, 585; at Tongaloo university, in Mississippi, 272, and at Tillotson university, in Texas, 143. When to these are added the numbers in the normal schools, all of whom are expected to complete an academic course, it will be seen that education is advancing fast among the negro race. The association deserved all the aid and encouragement, financial and otherwise, that can be given it.—Portland Telegram, Republican.

A man whose name is neither Wiggins nor Annias, sends a dispatch from San Leandras, Cal., to the effect that the Union gold mine of that place has struck a three foot strata of ore, the rock from which assays $50,000 to the ton. Ten or twelve tons of that kind of "rock" would buy almost any country newspaper in the State.

It is reported that Col Bee, the Chinese Consul at San Francisco, intends to import 2000 coolies from China, via the U. S. Courts, for the purpose of working one of his large farms in California.
