HUNTSVILLE, W. T., Feb. 20, 1887. ED. BULLETIN:—The abductor of a girl fif-teen years old lately lodged in jail, and of teen years old lately lodged in jail, and of whom mention was made in your Oregon papers, has a wife and children in this town. She is a lady very highly respected by all who know her; and the state of indigence in which her late husband left her is a shame. No cause for the desertion is known. His name is Ellis Eastwood. He left here once before but came back. It is thought that his reason is that he area triffing to work for the source of his am Iy. This time the charitable people have done as before, prevented the family from starving; but we hope that not, as before, will he be allowed to return, when the winter is past and the family supported by others. Such things call for the most indignant censure.
