At the call of President Lincoln he was one of the first to enlist to put down the rebellion. After his arrival here he kept a meat market for several years; for a time he was City Marshal and made an efficient and capable officer. About two years ago he fell from a wagon and sustained evere internal injuries. For a time he hardly felt them, but his ailment grew slowly but surely. During the past year he has suffered intensely, having refused to take any opiates whatever. At last death relieved him. In his life time he was a true man. Intentionally we do not believe he ever wronged a human being. He was always a friend to the poor and and distressed. RIP VAN WINKLE ON THE MANU-FACTURE OF CLOTHING.

Washington Irving tells us how hard good old Rip rubbed his eyes when he saw in the swinging sign over the old fantastic tavern King George III. in royal pomp and dignity supplanted by our modest George in his three cornered cockade.

Rip has again awakened from a twenty years sleep. He has seen nothing of the clothing manufactured since 1867 and it took us quite as long to convince him that the clothing manufacture of 1887 was really clothing manufacture.

In 1867 our machine entered into the process of converting cloth into clothing; Toindispensible in every progressive workshop. The goods in piece require examining, sponging and folding, and then the cutting machine with its iron arm cuts nice dred daily ready for the sewing-machine, and to help the the sewing machine complete the tailoring of the garment, basting, button

Last Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gilfry of Cresswell and Mrs. Chas. Wilson and two childrenof Portland started in a hack to visit some friends in the country a few miles The horses had been standing in distant. The horses had been standing in the stable for some time, and before going far they began rearing and kicking, and at last one of the horses got over the tongue when the team became unmanagea-ble and ran away throwing Mr. Gilfry, who was driving, out upon the ground bruising him considerably about the head, rendering him unconscious for quite a time. Mr. Gil-fry, we are pleased to state has nearly refry, we are pleased to state has nearly recovered from his injuries. Mrs. Gilfry jumped from the wagon and had her left leg badly broken between the knee and thigh, besides receiving fatal injuries at the base of the skull. Medical aid was summoned, but without avail and she lingered along until Tuesday at 3 a. m. when she passed away.
She had been an invalid for nearly twenty

Bushnell, of Yaquina City, O. & C. for some time, on Tuesday after-noon turned one loose at Salem. The pigeon appeared somewhat confused for a time, er making two or the circuits around the depot, started off in the direction of the penitentiary. It appears, however, that it got its bearings, and reached its destination, about thirty-five miles distant, in thirty-five minutes from the time it was released in Salem. Rapid traveling. NEW RESTAURANT.-Mr. J. P. Ditchburn has just started a new restaurant in the old Home hotel building. Regular dinners will be furnished at 25 cents. Meals cooked to order at reasonable rates. Give him a call.
