The Fuss Over The Flags.

New York World.

The professional patriots and politicians are overdoing the indignation at the proposed return of the captured flags as much as Gen. Drum and the President overdid sentiment in suggesting it.

A reaction of disgust has already set in against the exhibitors of bogus alarm and "feigned fury." Sensible people whose instincts led them promptly to disapprove the foolish order know that the motive which inspired it was not bad, that its effect, could it have been carried out without exciting public feeling—as it may be fifty years hence—would not have injured the country. The attempt of the pot-hunting politicians to turn the incident to their personal account by distorting and exaggerating its importance is doomed to failure.

In regard to all the talk about "rebels," the question recurs whether anything except swearing eternal allegiance to the Republican party will relieve Southern men of this stigma. Were Mosby, Key, Longstreet, Mahone and Riddleberger, and the other "rebels" selected for honors by the Republican party, relieved of their disabilities only by joining the party of Mat Quay, Tom Platt and Bill Chandler? Can a man not be a Democrat and be "loyal"? If this is to be the test—and the shrieking Republican press practically erects it—why did not that party, when it had the power, enact a sixteenth amendment to the Constitution, prescribing that all Southern negroes and all men engaged in the rebellion should forever vote the Republican ticket as a condition of enjoying the franchise and the other rights of a citizen?

If the war was a success, if the Union was restored, if we have "no North, no South," but one flag, one wish and one destiny, is it not time to admit it everywhere, and to put down the selfish demagogues who seek their profit in their country's distraction?

A Hopman's Advice.

Mr. Ramsey, of Reedsburg Wisconsin, who in past years has taken a deep interest in the hop business of this region, once gave me some disinterested advice. In nine cases out of ten, he said, editors who take the extreme bull side of the hop market, and advise growers to hold till the last moment for a rise, make a mistake, and often harm their friends who may confide in their judgment. A speculative product like hops, he said, should be sold whenever the market is hot, and consumers are in search of their product at fair prices. They may be sure that only the best hops will be sought ordinarily at high prices, and that the urgency once filled over rates more frequently depreciate than advance. Buyers have a large range of markets and while it is usually safe to hold a very low market, those farmers are wise to keep as far as possible out of the range of gambling influences, and exercise an independent judgment in making contracts, based on experience.—Payallup Commerce.

"Between the Prohibitionists, the beer question and the labor movement," said ex-Congressman Henry G. Burleigh to a writer for The Star a few days ago, the Republican party in this State is in a woful plight. If the election were to be held to-morrow I think we would be beaten 50,000. I could see some of this trouble coming when Miller was defeated for United States Senator.

GROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure.

Delays are Dangerous.

You say, well, 'tis only a slight cold, look out, it may lead to an inflammation of the lining of numerous air cells of the Lungs this is Pneumonia. Or to spasmodic contractions of the fibres of the air passages, which is Asthma; or the inflammation of the lining membrane of the throat and tubes which pass through the Lungs, which in the first stage is called Bronchitis, and may lead to consumption. Santa Abie is delicious in flavor, certain and perfect in its result. A few doses will relieve, a thorough treatment cure the above named diseases. Every bottle warranted by all druggists.

What is It?

That produces that beautifully soft complexion and leaves no traces of its application or injurious effects? The answer, Wisdom's Bobertine accomplishes all this, and is pronounced by ladies of taste and refinement to be the most delightful toilet article ever produced. Warranted harmless and Matchless. F. M. Wilkins, agent, Eugene City.

FIRST-CLASS STOCK.—Mr. James Bates has one of the best jacks in the State of Oregon. He now proposes to breed mares to him for the sum of $12. Further he will pay $30 for every colt at the age of five months sired by his jack and throw in the price of service. This beats any offer ever made in Lane county. Call on or address Mr. Bates at Stewart's stable, Eugene City, Oregon.

Sponges.

"That is the largest Florida sponge in the world," said a Williams-street dealer to a reporter.

The sponge looked like the thatched roof of a small cabin, and measures eight feet in circumference when wet.

"We have one in Philadelphia, on temporary exhibition there, that is ten feet in circumference. It is from the Mediterranean. This sponge has taken medals in France, Amsterdam, New Orleans and other places. We would not take $500 for it. It holds fifteen gallons of water."

The reporter was then shown the smallest, which is as big as a chestnut and never grows any larger. It is taken on the reefs and is sold for a state-sponge.

"The Mediterranean sponges," continued the informant, "are taken in the Grecian archipelago by men in diving suits, who go into much deeper water than they do in Florida. There most of them are taken with grappling irons in the same way as oysters. They can be seen with the eye on the bottom, clinging to the rocks. When one is dislodged another grows in its place, taking from six months to a year. A great many are also taken in the Bahamas. The market for that crop is Nassau, New Providence. Key West is the market for the Florida sponges, which are taken all along the coast. Trieste and London are the markets for the Mediterranean sponges. Some are taken off the coast of China?"

"Are any curiosities found in them?"

"We had one once that inclosed a large jug. It was a fine sponge and had grown completely around it. They are frequently full of shells. When a sponge is first taken out of the water it is as black as ink, and it has to be treated by various processes until it becomes the color commonly seen. A sponge is of the lowest order of animal life, being considered partly vegetable and partly animal. A number of minute animals live in it. The business is about a half a century old in this country. Sponges are sold by the bale in this country and by the case in Europe. They weigh from twenty-five to one-hundred pounds. When sold by weight the dealers are allowed to sand them twenty-five per cent. Prices range from $10 to $150, the latter for very fine toilet sponges. There are many grades, such as silk, velvet, cup, glass, surgeon, bath, slate, etc."

"When is the active season?"

"Spring and Fall are the active seasons for selling. For gathering, the latter part of the year—November and December—is the most active, although some fishing is carried on all the year."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Two Drafted Men.

Mr. Blaine's Chicago organ, in speaking of the contempt the Grand Army boys have for the President, says: "Mr. Cleveland was then [during the war] a hale, strong young man, but his sole connection with the war seems to be that when drafted he hired a substitute."

"This may have been and probably was entirely wrong, but what was Mr. Blaine's war record?"

Mr. Blaine was the first man drafted in his district. Prior to this an organization had been formed in Augusta to protect its members against the draft. Each man paid $25 to the fund to hire a substitute, and out of this fund a man named Bradford was hired as Mr. Blaine's substitute. He remained in Augusta during the entire war, except while he was in jail for selling certain money certificates.

After the war closed the town of Augusta voted to refund to the men who had furnished substitutes the money they had paid and Mr. Blaine received a town bond for $200, which was afterward paid, so that he made $175 by the operation.

"To a man up a tree" it looks as if Mr. Cleveland's war record was surpassed in brilliancy by that of Mr. Blaine, by $175.—Chicago News.

Interesting Cure of Insanity.

An interesting instance of fighting insanity by insanity has recently been noticed among the Blackwell's Island patients. Two lunatics had been received who were disposed to commit suicide. In addition each possessed a special delusion, one to the effect that he was a cow, the other that his head was an iron ball, and was to be rolled along the floor. They carried these beliefs into action, one striking his head against the padded walls of his cell, the other rolling his head, and of course his body with it, along the floor. The two patients were placed together, and each was privately informed of the other's weakness and warned to watch his companion to prevent him taking his own life. Thus each had a charge in the other. Their vigilance was unceasing. Each supposed himself perfectly cured, and this belief was accompanied by considerable scorn for the other's weakness of intellect and accompanying delusions
