Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. — Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal. — Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff. — Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

Making Cottons out of Blood.

Philadelphia Bulletin.
The country is learning to utilize waste. Making cottons of blood is in this direction. There is a large factory in Bridgeport, near Chicago, employing about one hundred men, boys and girls, in which waste animal blood is converted into cottons. The same firm has another large factory elsewhere. A man named Hirsch was the first to introduce the business in this country some years ago. He lost $10,000 the first six months, but stuck to it, and now he is immensely wealthy. There are a number of similar factories in England. From 8,000 to 10,000 gallons of blood are used in the Bridgeport factory every day. Nothing but fresh beef blood is used.

Considerable of the blood evaporates during the process of drying, but what remains is pure albumen. Some of it is light in color and some dark, according to the chemical treatment given it. These thin sheets of dried blood are then broken up, and are ready to be worked into various shapes and sizes. Large quantities of the blood sheets are used by cloth manufacturers for setting the color in calico goods. Not only are buttons made from blood in this way, but tons of earrings, breastpins, belt clasps, combs and trinkets are made annually there from blood. It is a queer, odoriferous business, but a paying one.

Cost of Cars.

A first-class standard eight-wheel American locomotive, with automatic train and drive brakes, is worth $7000. A modern sleeper, with 24-inch steel-tired wheels, worth about $10,000. A parlor car, with 42-inch, steel-tired wheels and steel axles, toilet room, upholstered chairs, is worth about $5800. A first-class coach, with toilet room, patent car-warmer, 42-inch steel-tired wheels, steel axles, is worth about $5500. A second-class coach, with 38-inch steel-tired wheels and axles, is worth about $3000. A postal car of modern design, with 42-inch steel-tired wheels and axles, is worth about $3000. A 50-foot baggage car, of modern design, with same running gear, is worth about $2000. A standard 34-foot box and stock car, with swing-motion trucks and cast wheels and iron axles, is worth about $400. A coal-car, with same trucks, is worth about $300. Caboose are worth from $800 to $1000, according to the build.

He Wanted Both.

Chambers' Journal.
General Skobelev, according to the story, was working one evening in his tent near the Danube, or near a pond, when a Turkish beam dropped at the threshold of his tent. The general had just time to see the sandy outside stoop down and throw the shell into the water. Skobelev approached the soldier and said: "Do you know that you have saved my life?" "I have done my best, general," was the reply. "Very well. Which would you rather have, the St. George's Cross or 100 rubles?" The sentinel hesitated a moment and then said: "What is the value of the St. George's Cross, my general?" "What do you mean? The cross itself is of no value; it may be worth five rubles, perhaps, but it is an honor to possess it." "Well, my general," said the soldier, "if it is like that, give me 95 rubles and the Cross of St. George!"

Fifteen Famous Inventions.

His Father's Prayers Might Do.

Boston Globe.
Tom, a child of four summers, was anxious for a baby brother. His father, a minister, had taught him that it was his duty to pray for what he wanted. Going to his father with a very sober face, he said: "Papa, do you suppose if I prayed to God right along that he would send me a baby brother?" "Perhaps so," said papa, "but why do you ask?" "Oh, because," replied he, "I have been praying off and on this good while, and it don't seem to do any good!"

Make No Mistake.

By dispelling the symptoms so often mistaken for consumption, SANTA ABIE has brought gladness to many a household. By its prompt use for breaking up the cold that too often develops into that fatal disease, thousands can be saved from an untimely grave. You make no mistake by keeping a bottle of this pleasant remedy in your house. CALIFORNIA CAT-R-CURE is equally effective in eradicating all traces of Nasal Catarrh. Both of these wonderful California remedies are sold and warranted by all druggists. $1 a package, 3 for $2.50.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1887,
80 acres of fine farming land as there are in Oregon. It is located at the foot of Pleasant Hill, 2 1/2 miles from Goshen station and 6 miles from Creswell station. It fronts on the public road. It is in a fine and thickly populated neighborhood, where a 9-months' school is taught annually. There are also near at hand, a church and two good stores. The land is all under fence, and the soil immensely rich and deep. There is a fine orchard on the place, a large number of the trees being laden with various kinds of fruit. The land is all cool rich bottom. Dr. Sharp's fruit farm adjoins it. On the land there is a good dwelling house, wood shed, smoke house, henery, two large barns—one new, costing $300. The buildings are insured for $1200. Fifty acres of the land is under cultivation; the balance A. I. covered with timber and brush. The present owner has lived on the premises for five years, and has thoroughly improved it. There is also on the premises, in the barns, considerable grain, and 35 tons of hay. On the place are never failing streams of water running through the property, which can be conveyed to any part of the land. The place is a regular paradise. J. GOLDSTONE, Auctioneer.

A Female Sam Jones.

Kansas City Journal.
Mrs. Richardson, a member of the Salvation Army, who is a trifle too old to pass for a Salvation lassie, entertained a big crowd on the public square yesterday afternoon. In the course of a twenty-minute's exhortation, she said the following among other things: "A saloon-keeper is the devil's advance agent." "I haven't got any use for these kind of people that keep their Christianity in a bandbox six days in the week and take it out on the seventh." "There isn't a church in this city that has got the spirit of God in it. They will guarantee you a seat in heaven for $50 a year." "You can't get Christianity into a fool any more than you can getologna sausage from a rattlesnake." "Do you think that a man with a chew of tobacco in his mouth and a bottle of whisky in his pocket is a fit temple for the spirit of God?" "I would try to get into heaven just to keep out of the company there is in hell, if for no other reason."

Balloons in High Altitudes

London Spectator.
The recent attempt made by some French aeronauts to reach a great height above the earth has not been productive of any particular scientific results. The balloon in which the ascent was made reached an altitude of over 20,000 feet without the occupants of the car experiencing any ill effects, except a tendency to faintness on the part of one of them. When about twelve years ago a similar attempt was made, and the height of 25,000 feet was reached, it was with fatal results to three out of the four aeronauts. The success of the present experiment is explained by the allegation that the difficulties due to the rarefaction of the atmosphere only begin at an altitude of 25,000 or 24,000 feet. This view seems supported by the fact that in the Himalayas and the Andes heights of about 20,000 feet have been on several occasions reached without any inconvenience. In such cases, however, the ascent has always been gradual. The ill effects experienced in balloons are due to the suddenness of the change.

It Wasn't For Him.

There were about half a dozen of them and they had been off somewhere in the country. They were all piled in a wagon and as they passed one of the numerous cottages a pretty woman accidentally turned a white handkerchief loose. There were six handkerchiefs waving wildly in the breeze in one instant.

"By Jove, she's pretty! I wonder who she is. That was meant for me." "It wasn't. It was meant for me," said everybody but a little old man sitting on the bottom of the wagon hidden from view. "Well," he said, "I'll bet it was not meant for me." "Why?" "Because that is my wife." And a dead silence fell on the picnic.

No Erysipelas for Him.

Detroit Free Press.
"Excuse me," he said, as he halted a citizen on the street, "but I have a sure and speedy cure for that mild form of erysipelas in your face. It is only $1 a bottle." "Erysipelas!" howled the other. "I'll warrant a cure in a very few weeks." "You old idiot, don't you know nothing?" shouted the enraged man. "Erysipelas? Why I brought this face on with whisky. Am I to be insulted after working as I have for the last twenty years? Go on, sir, or I'll do you serious injury."

Now for the oldest postmaster. This time his name is Roswell Bearnsey, and he likes postage stamps at North Lansing, N. Y. He was elevated to the position of P. M. June 28, 1828, and he has held it ever since under his original commission—near sixty years.
