

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY OCTOBER 1, 1887.

It is only within the last 500 years that women have danced publicly with men. In Italy, however, as early as the thirteenth century, promiscuous dancing was tolerated, although the church sternly condemned the innovation as immodest and unbecoming, and it was not at all general. When Henry III, of France visited Venice early in the sixteenth century there was a grand ball given in his honor, to which all the noble ladies of Venice were invited. Nothing could exceed the splendor of their dresses and the incredible number of pearls they wore, but whereas 300 of them danced in the presence of the king, not one of them had a male partner.

Still the howl from Foraker that Mrs. Cleveland snubbed him at Philadelphia. The country is beginning to regret that he was not also kicked. Nobody but an insufferable blackguard would have defiled his office by using the language he did toward the President, and none but a mean-spirited fellow would whimper and try to make votes out of being treated as he deserved by the wife of the gentleman whom he had attacked without cause. If he can snivel his way back to the Governorship Ohio will be but little honored.—Alta

Mrs. McKleham, who died the other day, was born at Monticello, and her grandfather, Thomas Jefferson, dandled her on his knee. She was the daughter of Martha Jefferson, whom even John Randolph, Jefferson's enemy, toasted as "the sweetest woman in Virginia." Her father was Thomas Mann Randolph, who was descended by several strains of blood from Pocahontas. Mrs. McKleham's uncle, James Madison Randolph, was the first child born in the White House.

Governor Foraker is simply a dull and obstinate Bourbon, peddling the effete wares of his party in default of anything new and applicable to the needs of the living present. He does not seem to know that there is now no question of secession before the country, and that it is no longer of the least practical importance what any man, North or South, may think of the merits of the ancient debate on that subject.—N. O. Picayune.

At the special election November 8th the judges and clerks of election who served as such at the last general election, (in June 1886,) will act as judges and clerks. Judges and clerks hold for two years. In case one or more judge of election shall not be present at the time of opening the polls, the bystanders may elect one or more of their number to fill such vacancy. These judges and clerks must be qualified voters.

One of the chief attractions of the coming meeting of the Oregon Press Association at Albany will be an address by Hon. James O'Meara, editor of the Portland Daily News, on the "Pioneer Editors and Publishers of Oregon." The gentleman's thorough acquaintance with the subject, and his happy facility of illustration and graphic description will lend an interest to it that no other man in the State could.

Toledo Blade, Rep.: We don't believe Mr. Blaine to be one whit stronger to-day than he was in 1884. And if he was then defeated, with all the federal machinery in the hands of the Republican party, what is there in the situation to give hope of reversing that result by trying the same contest over again in 1888, between the same men.

The most useful King in Europe is Otto of Bavaria. His latest mania is for peeling potatoes, and he keeps it up unweariedly all day long. The hotels of Munich, send him the potatoes to peel, and as long as the supply of potatoes holds out, there will be no happier potentate in Europe than His Royal Highness, King Otto of Bavaria.

The report recently circulated that Mr. Jason Wheeler had recently resigned as agent at Warm Springs have been confirmed. He will return to Albany to reside on the appointment of a successor. Mr. Sloan, his carpenter, we understand, will also return to this city.—Albany Democrat.

The New York Democracy last Wednesday nominated a strong ticket. The platform heartily indorses the administration of President Cleveland and Governor Hill. The convention was an enthusiastic one and the delegates are confident of the success of the ticket nominated.

There are only 400 Mormon bishops in Utah, 2,423 priests, 2,947 teachers and 6,854 deacons. Seems to be a surplus of deacons. The whole outfit is busy tithing. Every Mormon has to give the church a tenth of his gains every year.

A convict says he was sent to prison for being dishonest, and yet every day he is compelled to cut pieces of pasteboard, which are put between the soles of the cheap shoes made there, passed off to the innocent public as leather.—Ex.

Maud S., the fastest mare in the world, recently made a mile in 2:13 1/4, hitched to wagon with Robert Bonner the heavy man of the N. Y. Ledger in a seat. Mr. B. values her at $100,000. This is $60,000 more than he paid for her.

The California boom is a fair sample of stock speculations there since the earliest days. It lacks bottom. The balloon is so high there is liable to be a collapse. Oregon, if it gets a boom, wants a reliable one, not an inflated one.—Ex.

George Francis Train has broken loose again and threatens to lead twenty millions of men to destroy Chicago, if the anarchists are hung. Chicago was probably never as safe as since this threat.

The anti-prohibition republicans of Iowa have issued an address, in which they declare that prohibition, while it does not decrease drunkenness, has sent rents down 40 per cent, and taxes up 25 per cent.

The more the Democratic party demonstrates that its mission in life is not to shut up factories, but to make them hum right merrily the madder the Republican organs get.

In the first race between the American yacht "Volunteer" and the Scotch yacht "Thistle" at New York, last Tuesday, the former won by 19 minutes and 28 seconds.

The sentence of the lower court has been sustained by the supreme court of New York, and Jacob Sharp will serve his country four years in Sing Sing penitentiary.

If the weather is favorable there will be a big blow out when the O & C and the C & O join-issues and Oregon and California will join in a joint jubilation.

A dispatch from Los Angeles, California, says St. John will shortly leave that place for Oregon to make a campaign of the state.

Henry T. Finck, brother Abnerman, was a delegate to the New York State Republican Convention. Thus is merit rewarded.

Fruit Growers Meeting.

EUGENE CITY, Or., Sept. 24, 1887.

A called meeting by a few interested in forming a Fruit Growers Association was held in the court house on Sept. 23rd. There were about 20 present, and after effecting a temporary organization, there was a considerable exchange of views in an informal way concerning fruit trees and varieties of fruit and insects. There was a committee consisting of Prof. Collier, S. P. Kerns and James Cheshire appointed to call a meeting of all interested in the culture fruit, whether they had yet commenced its cultivation or not, to meet at some future date and organize permanently. It is to be hoped that no one who cares, or expects to take, in the future, any interest in this matter will keep away, but that they will all turn out and lend a helping hand.

It is plain that wheat raising will probably be a poor business in the future, and the culture of fruit promises as much as anything else for an agricultural country. So, when the call is issued, let all come.

A GROWER.

CALL FOR MEETING.

Notice is hereby given and an earnest invitation extended to all interested or who expect in the future to be interested in fruit raising to meet at the court house in Eugene on Saturday, Oct 8th, 1887, at 2 p. m. S. F. KERNS, J. P. CHESHIRE, WM. CHURCHILL, PROF. COLLIER.

HOMICIDE AT ANTELOPE.—A Dallas dispatch of Sept. 28th says: Jack Thompson killed Herbert Sherry of Antelope Monday afternoon in a drunken row. Thompson is the man who killed murderer Harvey last Fall. Both men were intoxicated and quarreling. Sherry struck Thompson several times until he (Thompson) being cornered, and seeing no way of escape, shot and killed Sherry. He was brought into the city last evening and lodged in jail. He will have an examination Saturday. Sherry leaves a wife and three children. Thompson was crippled in the right arm by the explosion of a gun last winter.

Some days ago sculptor Parks reached Indianapolis from Florence, Italy, with a bust of the late Vice-President Hendricks. When Mrs. Hendricks saw the bust she said: It is a beautiful piece of marble and doubtless a work of art, but it does not resemble Mr. Hendricks." The Hendricks Monument Committee have therefore asked other sculptors to present designs in competition with that of Mr. Parks.

Nearly every boom town in California prances its own graces in pamphlets, and frequently via the brazen-throated brass band. None of them, however, has gone to the lengths reached by a place in Arkansas, which promulgates a pamphlet inviting settlers, which assures immigrants that their antecedents are safe.

"For even a horse-thief from Ohio can become a leading citizen of Fort Smith if he is wise enough to keep his mouth shut and let other people's lives alone."

A VISION.

A carsworn man slowly wended his way homeward, pondering over the problem of existence, and wondering how he should supply his many needs. Suddenly there appeared floating in the air above him and just out of his reach a vision of a "Pointing Hand." Shocked and startled, he instinctively passed his hand over his eyes and tried to thrust the phantom from him. Again and again, but all without avail, he tried to rid himself of its presence, but the "Pointing Hand" hung ever just beyond his reach and nothing would induce the vision to depart. It lingered through the long evening hours, and when at last his eyes closed in slumber, he dreamed only of the "Pointing Hand." Through the still watches of the night it was ever present, and when his eyes opened in the morning it was only to behold once again the threatening, commanding phantom of the ever-present "Pointing Hand" that hung like a menace and a bidding above him, always pointing in one direction. He followed it, and found peace and rest. It was Reason pointing the way to bargains now being offered by H. S. Simon. —E

Cure For Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulence, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A molar, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, slaying the intense itching and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address Dr Bosanko Medicine Co., Lima, Ohio. Sold by Osburn & Co. and W. S. Lee, of Junction.
