Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail.

I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrotula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, M. D. D. D. S., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—

Hast thou forgotten me dearest? Hast thou forgotten the past? Didst thou not promise me saying I will be thine to the last? Hast then forgetten the spot Where we stood in the twilight so gray Feeling deep ple_sures untold, As I longed with thee ever to stay?

Hast thou forgotten the words That were softly poured into mine ear, By thee who perchance has forgot, But to me they ever seem near? And oft as I sit as the twilight Is casting its shades all around I sigh for thy tresence to cheer me And long for these words to resound.

But no words respond to my sighing, For, alas! then art new far away; And how dost then knew of the anguish Which I suffer from day to day! And sometimes I fancy my dearest, 'Twere better if we ne'er had met: Yet I confess I still love thee, And though forgotten I can not forget.

The next step will be to explore the vessel by means of the diving bell, and penetrate if possible the chambers that have closely held the secrets of the sea for nearly a quarter of a century. The very name of the ill-starred vessel that so long did her part in the stinted commerce of those days between San Francisco and Portland awakens interest in the minds of hundreds, whose res-dence in Oregon anti-dates that time and further proceedings in regard to the wreck will be awaited curiously, if not anxiously.

The daily consumption of corn in the Peoria distilleries has increased from 16,188 bushels to 28,216 bushels. This is the result of the formation of a whisky trust company composed of the great distillers, and the intention of the same to manufacture the bulk of whisky where it can be done the cheapest, Many of the larger distilleries of Cincinnati, St. Louis and other cities have been closed and the bulk of the business thrown to Peoria. Some idea of the immense business done in this line may be gathered from the statement that up to the 19th of last month the internal revenue collections in the Peoria district amounted to over a million dollars. It is the insatiate demand back of this enormons supply that makes the heart of the true philanthropist sick .- Ex.

Roseburg Review: It costs no more time nor expense to raise a good fruit tree or a standard grape vine, nor any more land for that matter than it does to cultivate a variety that has no marketable value. ## THE SIUSLAW COUNTRY.

The great natural advantages of the scaport of Florence as a business location are seen at a glance. While it is near enough to the ecean for a most delightful summer resort, it is far enough inland to command the trade of the country to the eastward. Being near the confluence of the North Fork, Siuslaw river and South Slough, it commands the trade of these most fertile tributaries. It is connected by wagon road with the Mercer Lake country, the Cape Perpetua section to the north, the entire coast to Coos Bay on the south and by way of South Slough it is easy of access by boat from the Ten Mile Lake country. The main Siuslaw river is navigable for small steamers for 18 miles above Florence: the North Fork for 10 miles and South Slough for some four miles. The country along the Sinalaw and its tributaries is a mixture of timbered mountains, brushy hill sides, rich bottom lands, gentle slopes and tide lands with the first mentioned class largely predominating. Large tracts of government land are still unoccupied from which may be selected much good land for pleasant homes. #### THE RESOURCES

Of this section are very numerous but as yet the salmon canning industry is the only bus-iness that has reached any degree of devel-opment. There are three canneries in succussful operation. The lumbering facilities are simply enormous and Florence at this time is the best unoccupied field for a large merchant mill on the Pacific Coast. Large lumber schooners with a capacity for six hundred to eight hundred thousand feet have crossed the bar without the aid of tugs thus demonstrating the fact that lumber can be shipped from this point to any part of the world as cheaply as from other ports. The timber supply has been estimated by an ex-pert lumberman to be worth over fifty million dollars, embracing fourteen town-ships of almost solid timber. Pros-pects have been found indicating large deposits of coal convenient to shipping. ore is found in abundance, also deposits of paint of which much is used in its natural state. ## IMPROVEMENTS.

Since the issue of our latest circular in January last the following improvements have been made in the rapid development of Florence and vicinity. Three large sal-mon canneries have been built and fitted with complete machinery, two small steamers have been placed on the river and make daily trips to the head of navigation, one nent store building erected and opened with a complete stock of general merchandise, and another under construction, the U. S. Mails from Eugene have been expedited from once to twice per week and in connection therewith a four-horse stage fully equipped placed on the route which making connection with steamers has rectused the traveling time from Eugene to Florence to nineteen hours. Lake creek has been bridged at the upper crossing, and the coun-ty authorities have let the contract for a $3800 bridge at the lower crossing. Dead-wood and Indian creeks have been bridged, the stage road completed to deep water navigation and an elegant drive opened to the winderland of Cape Perpetua. The steamer Mischief has found business enough for three trips and the Rosa Olsen one. short time increase in traffic will be sufficient to employ steamers at regular and frequent intervals. Negotiations are also pending regarding the management of a stannch ocean vessel to be owned and managed by parties living in Floresce.
