I suffered excruciating pain. Your wonderful S. S. S. made a complete cure." even more than its proprietors claim for it."

I know S. S. S. saved its life, and I told as he saw it had scrofula." out, it may lead to an inflammation of the lining of numerous air cells of the Lungs this is Pneumonia. Or to spasmodic contractions of the fibres of the air passages, which is Asthma; or the inflammation of the lining membrane of the throat and tubes which pass through the Lungs, which in the first stage is called Bronchitis, and may lead to consumption. Santa Able is delicious in flavor, certain and perfect

Ayer's Sugar-Coated Cathartic PILLS.

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T.
Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to Regulate
my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.— G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.
—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.— John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.
—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.

A Noble Benefaction.

A telegram from Budah-Pesth to a Frankfort journal states that Baron Hirsch has decided to distribute 100,000,000 francs, or about $20,000,000, among all existing European Jewish charitable institutions.

Since Shakespeare drew his picture of Shylock the world has had to correct the portrait many times and under many conditions, some of which, were the contrast drawn, would not redound especially to the glory and honor of the Gentle. It may be assumed that at the present day, among intelligent and educated people, the fierce and unreasoning hostility which once existed against the Jews as a race has died out and that they are on precisely the same plane as any other people, saving, perhaps, a feeling of their being still aliens, which they themselves encourage, or at least do not try to discourage.

It is certain that in works of charity and benevolence, and especially to those who are of the seed of Abraham, the Jew sets an example which may be equaled but cannot be exceeded by people of other blood and other faiths. Charity, particularly that charity which rightly begins at home, is a cardinal virtue with the Israelites, and one which he does not suffer to grow rusty or worn out by disuse. There are no more complete or better organized or more useful charitable or benevolent institutions in the United States than those of the Israelites, and none where less distinction of class or rank is observed.
They are model institutions of the kind, and it is a bright jewel in the crown of the modern Jews in America that they are well and amply supported.

The condition of the Jews in some parts of Europe, and especially in certain of the Russian provinces, is deplorable. They have been ostracized and persecuted with a rancor which is more befitting the Dark Ages than the close of the nineteenth century. The Russian government, or at least the departmental governments, have not hesitated to proscribe them, to exile them and to confis-cate their property, reducing many of them whose sole crime was their religion, to penury and destitution.

"What Shadows we Are."

Noting the death, at Memphis, of Judge Elliot, at the conclusion of his address welcoming Cleveland, the Salt Lake Tribune was moved to utter these sentiments: "Queer creatures, are we not? Yesterday a gentleman made an address of welcome in behalf of his section to the president of the United States; it was probably the finest that has been pronounced before the president since he left Washington; there was no flaw in the composition, no wandering of thoughts; nothing through it all that gave a premoni-tion of weakness or of failing faculties, and yet a few minutes later the brilliant man was but a clod of clay, pulseless, voiceless, dead.
The light had gone from his eyes, the acute brain had been sealed; the voice, the tones of which still lingered in the air was hushed forever. "What shadows we are; what shadows we pursue!" From nothing, man in a little while becomes so strong and brave that he fancies he is an important factor in this old world, but even while he is exulting there comes a message to him and he drops out of sight, and the world moves on, even as the dead sea smooths its face when a pebble is cast into its depths. That man yesterday was one moment exulting those around him; the next he had begun to crumble to dust. Where did the brilliant mind go? Did it slip away unseen to be found in some other land? It will be worth a journey down the dark valley to find out all these things, will it not?

Fatal Encounter With a Shark.

James E. Hamilton, the mail carrier between Miami and Lake Worth, on the South Atlantic coast, was devoured by man eaters Hillsboro Inlet, on October 13th. He was a stout, athletic young man, and carried the mail between the two places, on the beach most of the way. The inlet is a dangerous crossing, the back waters of the Everglades meeting the tides and producing heavy and dangerous seas. Sharks of the most ravenous kind abound there. An old fisherman named Waring, who was within half a mile of Hamilton when he began crossing, describes the tragedy as a horrible occurrence.
When Hamilton reached the middle of the inlet the sharks flocked about his boat, leaping ten feet or more out of the water in their eagerness to get at human flesh.

Hamilton fought them with his oars, but soon both were bitten off and dashed out of his hands. Then they assailed the boat, tearing huge pieces off the gunwale. Soon it began to sink, and Hamilton became stu-pefied with fear. Another blow on the frail boat and he was thrown headlong into the masses of fierce sea wolves. One shriek of agony and all was over. The sea was dyed for yards around with his life blood. Searching parties were sent out. Hamilton's death was such a horrible one that no mail carrier over that route has yet been secured.—Scientific American.

Waked Newburghers.

The Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, once pastor of the Second Reformed church, at 1234 street and Sixth avenue, New York city, in a sermon on infidelity, stated that at one time, years ago, thirty-six men residing in New burgh banded themselves together as a society of infidels, recognizing no God, and they baptized a cat, and gave the holy communion to a dog. Within a period of five years each and every one of the thirty-six had met his death in an unnatural manner. On investigation it has been found that the society was instituted nearly half a century ago. Near the entrance to the present Newburgh Trinity church stood a partly decayed tree, in the hollow of which the immersion of the cat took place. The statement in regard to the fall extermination of the society within five years is true. The entire thirty-six met with unnatural deaths—seven of the number committed suicide and five were killed in railroad accidents, the others coming to an untimely end in various manners. Many older residents remember the circumstances of the institution and the extermination of the society quite well.—Albany, N. Y., Argus.

Scientists note a great diminution of forest trees in Russia and say it is because the climate is growing colder all the time. Russia has always been a cold place to grow treason.
That is to say, it has the Siberian climate in the world. Now don't say that's Don thin, my son. Neva be Volga, even for the sake of Russia in a joke. There now, take the combination and run it out. We like to see you enjoy yourself.

The gold mines of Australia continue to be very productive. Some of them are more than 2000 feet in depth, and many will be sunk even lower than that in the near future.
This is contrary to the predictions of old mining experts, who said many years ago that no gold would ever be found in Australia at a depth greater than a hundred feet.
