

THE FUNERAL MONTH OF MARCH.

An observant metropolitan barber says that he can tell one's physical condition by the state of his hair! The Bible tells us that with his hair gone Samson lost his strength. The Romans considered baldness a serious affliction and Julius Caesar was never quite satisfied with himself because his hair was thin.

The face, however, is the open book and one can readily trace in its various expressions, lines, changes and complexion the state of the system. The eye that is unusually bright and yet has a pallid brightness, the face upon whose cheeks nature paints a rose of singular beauty and flush, more marked in contrast with the alabaster appearance of the forehead and nose and lower part of the face, is one of those whom the skilled physician will tell you will some day dread the funeral month of March, because it is then that consumption reaps its richest harvest.

That is all there is of it. The cough is an evidence of a wasting. To stop it effectually, a remedy must be used that will search out the cause, remove that and then heal the lung and do away with the cough. This is the power, special to itself, possessed alone by Warner's Log Cabin Cough and Consumption Remedy.

This is no new fangled notion of narcotics and poisons, but an old-fashioned preparation of balsams, roots and herbs, such as was used by our ancestors many years ago, the formula of which has been secured exclusively by the present manufacturers at great trouble and expense. It is not a mere cold dryer. It is a system-searcher and upbuilder and a consumption expellant. Where others fail, it wins, because it gets at the constitutional cause and removes it from the system.

J. W. Henshaw, of Greensboro, Pa., on Jan. 15, 1888, reported that "he had derived more real benefit for the length of time, from Warner's Log Cabin Cough and Consumption Remedy than he had for years from the best state physicians."

If you have a cough, night sweats, "positive assurance in your own mind that you, oh—you, have no consumption," and yet lose flesh, appetite, courage, as your lungs waste away, you may know that soon the funeral month of March will claim you, unless promptly and faithfully you use the article named. If other remedies have failed try this one thoroughly. If others are offered, insist the more on trying this unequalled preparation.

Some persons are prone to consumption and they should never allow the disease to become seated.

What's the matter with the baby, John? "Dunno, Maria; but I think it must be the yellow fever."—Washington Critic.

The punch bowl has been nearly banished from Washington society. Tea and coffee take the place of the intoxicating draught.

Brigadier Young's body lies under a 14,000-pound inscription stone and there are three feet of solid masonry around the grave.

"Mamma, does it hurt a sheep to shear it?" asked a little Austin boy of his maternal parent. "What a silly question. Does it hurt your daddy to shave himself?"—Siftings.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Blackburn, of Springfield, O., have a week-old baby which weighs just a pound and a half. The boy is perfectly formed and looks healthy. A lady's ring will go over a foot and up the leg to the body. The parents are large and healthy.

Naomi—"William do you love me as much as ever, now that we are married?" William—"Love you? I worship the ground you walk on!" Old Man (who has overheard them)—"You do, eh? Then drop into my office on your way down and I'll give you some bargains in real estate that'll make your eyeballs jiggle. You have excellent judgment, young man."

Scientists say that shutting the eyes makes the hearing more acute. This explains why a man can't sneak into the house at midnight and crawl up-stairs as noiselessly as a feather without being heard by his wife, who is asleep. If women were to sleep with their eyes open married men would have more fun at the lodge when there is a protracted session.—Norristown Herald.

OF GENERAL INTEREST. Eight aristocratic dogs ill of the gout are at Treport for treatment, says the Boston Journal.

A LUCKY TRIAL. The good Fortune which followed fair treatment. San Francisco, February 29, 1888. Dear Sir: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in using the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and legs, and all a round, my neck and face. I have tried several remedies, which are advertised especially for the liver, and could never get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I then purchased a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to.

PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL.

The "violin-king" Joachim, has temporarily lost the use of one of his fingers, and has gone to Amsterdam to see if the famous massage operator, Dr. Merger, can restore it to its functions.

There is a drug merchant, a young man, in Davenport, Iowa, who has nine grandparents living—two great-great-grandfathers, three great-great-grandmothers, two grandmothers and two grandfathers.

D. D. Bidwell, a Hartford newspaper man, is the latest searcher after Captain Kidd's buried treasure. He hopes, by the aid of an ancient chart, to locate it on Elbow Key, one of the Bahama Islands.

A young man living in St. Albans, Vt., awoke the other morning to find his mouth wide open and his jaw set in such a position that he could not close it. It required the assistance of a physician to put the refractory jaw into place again.

Madam Vincent is a French woman who has saved twelve people from drowning. A short time ago she jumped into the waves entirely dressed and rescued the twelfth, a six-year-old boy. She has seven children of her own, the youngest being still an infant.

Jay Gould paid two hundred thousand dollars for his country home up the Hudson, and it is said to cost him four hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year. It embraces almost a square mile of land, ninety-five acres of which is lawn.

Mrs. Paran Stevens, who owns the Victoria Hotel, in New York, was in her girlhood a waiter in a Lowell restaurant, while her husband began life as a stable boy. She is now worth $6,000,000, and her hotel is headquarters for the English aristocracy in this country.

Mrs. Eliza Garfield was the only woman who ever saw her son inaugurated President of the United States. Washington's mother was living in Fredericksburg, Va., when the Father of his Country was inaugurated, but she did not witness the ceremony, which took place in New York.

Lady Tennyson's dairy management, which is principally in the hands of Mrs. Hallam Tennyson, is known for the excellence of the butter, cream and milk which it sends to market. Through the length and breadth of the Isle of Wight there is an increasing demand for the produce of the Poet Laureate's dairy.

Mrs. Joshua Snow, an old lady who was present at the birth of Daniel Webster, exclaimed in strong, emphatic language: "This is an uncommon child! Look at his great size! His large head! His eyes! I tell you, here is a wonderful child! I never saw his equal before! He will be worth raising!" And he was "worth raising" as the event proved.

Queen Kapiolani is very fond of the small items of female costume, such as laces, shoes, fine hosiery, etc. Her order for gloves recently given to the employes of the establishment were kept at work night and day to complete it in time. The Hawaiian Queen wears a 7 1/2 glove, preferred to those of sixteen-button length.

"A LITTLE NONSENSE." Landlady (to boarder)—"How is the butter, Mr. Dumley?" Dumley (a produce broker)—"Quiet but strong, madame, and in little demand."—Epoch.

Tramp—"Can't you give a poor man something to eat? I got shot in the war and can't work." Woman—"Where was you shot?" "In the spinal column, mum." "Go 'way! There was no such battle fought."—Texas Siftings.

Rowley—"Have you ever heard Lodgeway lecture?" Browne—"Yes, several times." Rowley—"How is he for eloquence? Does he carry his audience with him?" Browne—"No, but he might, for that matter."—Burlington Free Press.

"What can you tell me about Esau?" queried the pedagogue. "Esau," responded the youth, with the glib alacrity of one who feels himself for once on safe ground, "Esau was a writer of fables who sold his copyright for a bottle of potash."

Labor Leader—"Bill Gumps was nominated by the Labor party last night." American mechanic—"So I heard." L. L.—"You'll support him, won't you?" A. M.—"No, it isn't necessary that I should support him." L. L.—"Why isn't it?" A. M.—"His wife does that."—Judge.

Woman (who has given some mince pie to tramp)—"You seem to be hungry?" Tramp—"That goes without saying, which is a bit of badly Anglicized French, na'am, meaning in our more vigorous English, 'You can bet your sweet life I am,' or 'I wouldn't be able to get away with much of this pie.'"—N. Y. Sun.

"I think a bath daily would be beneficial in your case," said the physician to Plogders, the valetudinarian. "Well, I don't know, doctor," replied Plogders, in a feeble voice. "I took a bath once a year or two ago. I felt better for a while, but it wasn't long before I was as bad as ever, and I have been growing worse ever since."—St. Louis Magazine.

Teacher—"Class in physiology, stand up. Bodkins, how do you distinguish organic from inorganic matter?" Bodkins—"In the organic world every individual springs from some parent, while inorganic substances are formed by chemical laws." Teacher—"Very good. Give an example of an inorganic substance." Bodkins—"An orphan."—Life.

The four furnaces that are in course of construction at Emley City, near Birmingham, Ala., are to produce 720 tons of pigiron a day. Two thousand men will be employed. The great establishment will cost nearly $1,000,000 for construction.

THE DEVIL FISH DESCRIBED BY HUGO. Is not a more tenacious monster than malaria, whether it takes the form of chills and fever, bilious remittent, ague, or dumb ague. Like the octopus of the story it clings the victim in its tentacles, and falls him slower and closer in a horrible embrace. Attacked with Hoelter's Stomach Bitters, however, it gradually relieves its tremendous grip, finally abandons it, and the quoniam sufferer, liberated at last, rejoices in the sense of new born freedom, engendered by the restoration of complete health. Dyspepsia, too, and constipation, those old and remorseless enemies of the human family, give ground, and are finally driven from the field by this Napoleon of remedies, the greatest, the purest in the family pharmacopoeia. Rheumatism succumbs to it, so do kidney troubles. The nerves, when overstrained, regain quietude and vigor by its aid, and the ability to rest tranquilly and eat with zest are increased by it. Resort to it in time and avoid unnecessary suffering.

Man wants but little here below, But wants that little strong. This is especially true of a surge. The average man or woman does not precisely banker for it, as a rule, but when taken, wishes it to be prompt, sure and effective. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets leave nothing to be desired in point of efficacy, and yet their action is totally free from any unpleasant symptoms, or disagreeable after-effects. Purely vegetable, perfectly harmless.

In New York city the building trades have forty-five unions, with a membership of 65,000.

HAPPY HOMES. Much has been written and said about how to make home happy. The moralist and preacher have harked over this theme until it seems nothing more remained to be said. But the philosophers have gone far out of their way to account for the prevalence of ill assorted couples and unhappy homes, and have overlooked the chief cause. Most of the unhappiness of married life can be traced directly to those functional derangements to which women are subject. In view of this, a wife is a sufferer from some "female complaint." A trial of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will produce more domestic happiness than a million sermons or philosophical treatises. It cures all those peculiar weaknesses and ailments incident to women. It is the only medicine sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the reliable chemist, that will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. See guarantee printed on wrapper enclosing bottle.

A Lovely Skin

Nothing is known to science at all comparable to the CUTICURA REMEDY in their marvellous properties of detaching, purifying and beautifying the skin, and in curing torturing, disgusting, itching, scaly and pimply diseases of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair from infancy to age. CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAR, an exquisite Skin Balm, prepared from the finest externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, internally, are a positive cure for every form of skin and blood disease, from pimples to scrofula.

I have had a most wonderful cure of salt rheum. For five years I have suffered with this disease. I had it on my face, arms and hands. I was unable to do anything whatever with my hands for over two years. I tried hundreds of remedies, and not one had the least effect. The doctor said my case was incurable. I saw your advertisement, and concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDY; and lo! as if by magic, after using one box of CUTICURA, and two cakes of CUTICURA SOAR, and two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I find I am entirely cured. Those who think this letter exaggerated may come and see me and find out for themselves. GRACE P. HARKHAM, North St. Charles Street, Belle River, Ont.
