Inherited Diseases.

No fact of nature is more pregnant with awful meaning than the fact of the inheritance of disease.
Modern science, which has illuminated so many dark corners of nature, has shed a new light on the ominous words of the Scriptures, "The sins of the fathers, shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation." Fifty per cent. of cases of consumption, cancer and scrofula, run in families through inheritance. Insanity is hereditary in a marked degree, but, fortunately, like many other hereditary diseases, tends to wear itself out, the stock becoming extinct. A distinguished scientist truly says: "No organ or texture of the body is exempt from the chance of being the subject of hereditary disease." Probably more than fifty per cent. of the permanent chronic diseases, which permanently modify the structure and functions of the body, are more or less liable to be inherited. The important and far-reaching practical deductions from such facts—are obvious to reflecting minds, and the best means for preventing or curing these diseases is a subject of intense interest to all. Fortunately nature has provided a remedy, which experience has attested as infallible, and the remedy is the world-famous Swift's Specific, a pure vegetable compound—nature's antidote for all blood poisons. To the afflicted it is a blessing of inestimable value. An interesting treatise on "Blood and Skin Diseases" will be mailed free by addressing Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

Ayer's Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair.
—Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. *My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.— Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.
VIGOR, youth, and beauty in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. *A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. E.
Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.
I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly relieve my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Granther's Grandson.

Now let the rockets skyward rush, the trumpets blare and toot, The cannon's Forakerian mouth give deep and hot salute; Take off your hats, Americans, your voices hush and hush,
And bend you lowly down before th' ancestral candidate.
If you ask us what the deuce are that in peace and war he's done, He is the granther's grandson, another Harrison;
Would you seek to know his titles to place and glory, why, He had a great grand father, who signed the D. of I.
Why should he be elected? Because of his grandd.
If high birth were not respected the people would be sad.
His granther licked some Indians nigh eighty years ago,
And on William Henry's shoulders grandson Ben to fame will go.
Then bring out your scarfs and badges and raise a wild hurroo, We are going to fight over the battle of Tippecanoe.
How in the people's hearts deep joy and pride will well To think they've got a candidate whose ancestry is swell.
The time has passed for Lincolns, for plain and common men;
The G. O. P. will shade itself 'neath the family tree of Ben; Young Tippecanoe is the man to set the people wild.
His great-granddaddy's great-grandson, his grandfather's grandchild.

BASE BALL ACCIDENT.

Sunday afternoon a young man by the name of Cal Gibson, met with an accident near Turner that promises to prove fatal. He was keeping the score in a ball game, and the bat slipped from the hands of one D. Osborne, striking young Gibson a terrible blow in the forehead and smashing in his skull. He was removed to the Turner hotel where medical aid was summoned as quickly as possible.
John M. Smith, living south of Turner, for whom the young man has been working since July 4th, stated that the doctor had told him that there was little chance of the young man's recovery.

The weather in Alaska, according to reports must be agreeable, as a Sitka paper says: The present remarkable weather, warm all day long, and bright up to 10:30 p. m., followed by three hours of twilight and succeeded at 1:30 a. m. by the dawn of day makes the consumption of coal oil and cordwood very limited. Both these articles, so necessary in the winter months are a drug in the market just now, and promise to be so long as the present delightful spell continues.

Eugene City will in a few years have a population of 60,000. The railroad from Coburg will be extended here, thence to Florence and the west road will be extended from Corvallis to Eugene. Huntington and Crocker have been here, looked over the ground and said this is so. Look at what you missed by not buying a few years ago.
You are missing just as much by holding off now. Buy ten acres of the Humphrey tract for $1,000 and in five years it will be worth $10,000. Don't wait for a boom and pay boom prices but buy NOW.

One of the miners employed in the Bond-holder tunnel recently took out a solid nugget of crystallized gold weighing within a few pennyweights of fifteen pounds, which, when dressed and denuded of all other substances will tip the scales at about thirteen pounds, and is worth about $3,000. The nugget was found in the face of the tunnel, at a place where the crevice had widened somewhat, and very near the point of contact between the slate and a quartzite dike that extends across the claim in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction. It is believed that on the line of this contact larger quantities of free gold will be found than has been discovered on Farmcoke hill.
This is the second largest nugget that has been found in the camp, the largest being what is known as "Tom's Baby," which was found about a year ago in the Goldflake, just below the Bondholder, and probably in the same vein.

Landreth Hanged.

Monmouth Observer.
The prisoner was brought over from Salem, arriving at Dallas in charge of the sheriff and deputies at 10 o'clock a. m. Immediately he was taken to the county jail, in front of which had been erected the scaffold where he was to be executed. The enclosure was a frame 12x16 feet and boarded up 22 feet high and around this enclosure was a space about 40 feet in diameter surrounded by a rope. The crowd was not permitted inside of this circle. Sheriff Smith ordered dinner brought for the prisoner at 11:30, when Landreth looked upon the dishes containing this, his last meal, he smoked completely down and cried like a child; he was very nervous and ate nothing more than a small piece of pie and cake; immediately after dinner he called for Mr.
Crow of Independence, to whom he gave his bible, with a request that it be given to Mrs. Landreth; a leaf was turned down at Matt. 11:28 and the following enclosed in heavy lines of black: "Come unto me all ye that labor and heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly of heart, and ye shall find rest unto your souls; for my yoke is easy and my burden is light." In the book was a scrap of paper signed Wm. Landreth, giving account of a "fuss" about a wash tub unobtainable to the public; this communication was addressed to the citizens of Independence and also requested them not to cast any reflections upon the name of his family as he alone was to blame; that this was the truth and was his last writings and contained his dying words. In the interval before the final scene the reporters asked Landreth why he had murdered his daughter, he answered, "because she has ruined me," when asked how she had ruined him, he said "by talking about me;" he repeated this over several times and immediately after would mutter to himself, as though in prayer. The jury doctors and reporters were admitted to the enclosure at 12:25; I. T. Mason, T. J. Groves, Chas. Farley, P. W. Haley, W. W. Brooks, J. O. Smith, Geo. Houck, Cass Sargent, D.
J. Riley, J. D. Ellis, W. W. Williams and C. C. Doughty. The prisoner was brought out of his cell and upon the scaffold at 12:27 leaning upon the arms of deputy J. F.
Groves, ex-sheriff of Polk, and sheriff E. M.
Croisan of Marion who assisted in the hanging; the procession was headed by sheriff Smith, who conducted himself in a calm and dignified manner throughout the trying scene. The warrant was now read by the sheriff in a clear and distinct voice; he then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say, the answer was simply no. This was all the word Landreth spoke after being brought upon the scaffold and he remained seated until the sheriff ordered the deputies to bring him upon the trap; he was now pinioned; it is doubtful whether he could have stood without assistance while the black cap was being placed over his face and the rope adjusted around his neck. This same rope was used in hanging three other men, Murry, Drake and Marple. The word was now given "all ready," and the drop was sprung at 12:30. Landreth's neck was broken and without a tremor he hung motionless; pulse 120 at 1 minute, 85 at 2, 150 at 4, 140 at 6, at 7 intermittent and too rapid to count, at 8 once in ten seconds, pronounced dead by the doctors, L. N. Woods and T. J. Lee at 12:50; he was now taken down, the rope and black cap being removed he was placed in his coffin. He looked very natural and had very little color in his face. The agony that he suffered and that was so plainly depicted on his face while upon the scaffold was all gone and he seemed to be at rest. The crowd was permitted to pass through the enclosure to view the corpse; we noticed quite a number of ladies in the procession. Landreth will be buried by the county in the old grave yard south of Dallas, by the side of Tarr, the suicide, who shot a woman at Dallas about seven years ago and supposing he had killed her he then shot himself with fatal effect, so the suicide and murderer will rest side by side until the judge of all the earth shall call them to their final account.
