VEGETY.

The Supply of Wheat.

New York, July 24.—The Daily Indicator says: "There will hardly be any dispute that the supply of wheat in this country on June 30 was nearly as small as it ever gets. There were only 13,000,000 bushels available then, after allowing 50,000,000 bushels as an ordinary supply which is unavailable always, except when absolute famine prevails. On June 30, 1882, the supply of wheat in the country was so small that it was counted unavailable. Now the supply is smaller than for any of the years since 1882, and that is but 13,000,000 bushels larger than that year."

Fair Postponed.

Owing to the late rains, and the probability that harvest would not be finished by Sept. 1st, the directors of the Lane County Agricultural Society have changed the dates of the fair to Sept. 26, 27, 28 and 29 commencing on Wednesday and closing Saturday. The catalogue and premium list is out, and may be had by making application to J. B. Campbell, secretary, Eugene City.

ANTI-HARRISON.—The following old patri-archs of Clackamas rode in the recent Democratic procession on the occasion of the raising of the Cleveland and Thurman banners. They voted against Wm. Henry Harrison and they will vote against Benj. C. H. Moonay, age 102 years; Mr. Darned, age 85 years; Robert Canfield, age 84 years; John Conville, age 78 years; Richard Maher, age 76 years; Jacob Crader, age 74 years; H. A. Straint, age 74 years; Wm. Evans, age 72 years.

SKIPPED.—Recently contractor Hunt, who has been getting out ties for the Vancouver railway, went out to see how his men were getting along. He found the men had gone, taking with them everything of any value, including the tools and a lot of blankets. Mr. Hunt had furnished them. Mr. Hunt had his contract about three-fourths completed.

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption, and to the head causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Honors at Yale.

Jacksonville students have usually made creditable records at the various institutions of learning which they have attended, and it gives us pleasure to chronicle the success of Benj. B. Beckman, son of our fellow townsman C. C. Beckman, in winning second honors in a class of 35, at the law-school commencement of Yale College, where he has been engaged in pursuing his law studies for the past two years. The Yale "Notes" of June 29th, says of his oration in contesting for the Townsend prize for best oration at graduation: "The first oration was given by Benjamin B. Beckman, B. A., of Jacksonville, Or., his theme being 'Modern Trust Combinations.' The aim of these modern combinations and their dangerous tendencies were very ably depicted, and the remedy suggested was a revision of the corporation laws of the States.

The degree of L. L. B. "cum laude" was conferred upon Benj. B. Beckman and five other members of the class, who all subscribed the following oath: "You solemnly swear that you will do no falsehood nor consent to any to be done in court, and if you know of any to be done you will give information thereof to the judges, or one of them, that it may be reformed; you will not willingly or wittingly promote, sue, or cause to be sued, any false or unlawful suit, or give aid or consent to the same; you will delay no man for lucre or malice; but will exercise the office of attorney within the court where you may practice according to the best of your learning and discretion, and with fidelity as well to the court as to your client; so help you God."—Jacksonville Times.

Persons calling for the above will please say advertised, giving date. F. W. OSBORN, P. M.

A Correction.

In the last issue of the GUARD a notice given by Mr. Stewart Larsen was printed incorrectly owing to a misunderstanding by the compositor. The following is the correct notice:

To all whom it may concern: I have relinquished all claim to the minor child, Wm. N. Larsen, and delivered him to Mrs. Larsen. STEWART LARSEN. Eugene City, July 13, 1888.

A BONDS HENTEN.—Nearly every city in the Northwest, Eugene, Pendleton, Baker City, Colfax, etc., have received the following letter, which makes their residents feel for a few moments as if they had struck something rich; but Mr. Horner is evidently one of the men we meet now-a-days who wants a whole city as a bonus for his factory: "Eaton Rapids Woolen Mills, Eaton Rapids, Mich., July 9, 1888. Dear Sir.—Does Eugene want an industry second to none in the Northwest? I have already purchased machinery for the equipment of a large woolen mill, and on account of your favorable location and splendid wool-growing district, should like to locate in your city, and will do so if I can get a little encouragement from your citizens. What would be the prospect of organizing a company for the above purpose? Yours very truly, E. E. Horner.—Albany Democrat.

A $20,000 COLLEGE AT TANGENT.—A committee appointed by the Southern Methodist Church for the purpose of locating a college in Oregon, at a recent meeting decided to locate it at Tangent. The building is to cost $30,000, and will be under the management of the Southern Methodist Church. The action of the committee will be subject to the action of the annual conference, which meets in October, but it is probable that the location of the school will remain at Tangent. A fund of $12,000 is already on hand for this purpose.

MERELY A RUMOR.—A rumor is in circulation to the effect that the San Francisco Examiner is making arrangements to start a Democratic paper in Portland. The report probably had its origin in an article that originally appeared in an Oregon paper to the effect that thirty thousand Democrats were very desirous of having the Examiner established in Portland, and which the Examiner a few days since copied in its columns.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the bride's parents, in Eugene City, Oregon, July 25, 1888, by Rev. E. P. Henderson, Mr. Will G. Espey, of Portland, and Miss Lena Edris of this city. The young couple will reside in Portland. The GUARD offers its congratulations.
