

The Chinese Policy.

[Troy Press.]

China was opposed to trading with other nations. It proposed to keep the "home market" for itself. It wanted no intercourse with outside nations. But others were not disposed to let China alone. They had goods to sell and wanted a market in China. These countries, the United States included, forced China to open its ports by making war upon the Celestial Empire. The Chinese were convinced. They were compelled to open their ports and to pay the expense of the compulsion. The Republicans would make another China of this land. Mr. Harrison and other Republican Senators and the Republican press were opposed to the exclusion of the Chinese from this country. With voice and type they extolled the Chinese and pointed to them as worthy examples. Had the American admirers of the Chinese been successful in their policy the country would have been overrun with natives of the Celestial Empire. Their habits would have been imitated and in time their numbers would have forced acceptance of their ideas in international intercourse. That was a fortunate day for this country when Mr. Harrison was defeated on the Chinese question.

Fair Postponed.

Owing to the late rains, and the probability that harvest would not be finished by Sept. 1st, the directors of the Lane County Agricultural Society have changed the dates of the fair to Sept 26, 27, 28 and 29 commencing on Wednesday and closing Saturday. The catalogue and premium list is out, and may be had by making application to J. R. Campbell, secretary, Eugene City.

Don't Believe It

When told that F. M. Wilkins, the druggist, is not selling "Wisdom's Robertine" for the complexion, the most elegant and only really harmless preparation of its kind in the world, and giving a beautiful picture card with every bottle.

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption, and to the head causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.
