

The Sells Brothers' Show.

Among the exciting and brilliant achievements of the accomplished and variously skilled members of the Sells Brothers' troupe of distinguished performers, the remarkable gun shooting of Capt. A. H. Bogardus and his four wonderful sons stands prominent. The Captain's name is a household word in the sporting circles of every land. He is the undisputed greatest living marksman; in May, 1875, he carried away the champion belt of the world in an honorable and memorable contest. Since then, through a succession of twenty-five smoke-crowned struggles for supremacy he has held undisputed and victorious possession of the world-coveted trophy. He is the only man that ever killed 100 birds with as many shots, and who broke 1,000 glass balls in 1,000 consecutive shots, made in one hour and six minutes. His remarkable record is without precedent or parallel, and the most expert handlers of the shotgun have tried in vain to equal the least of his achievements. One of his sons is master of the rifle, and is the acknowledged superior of the most unerring shots known to the sporting world. The youngest, a boy of only 12 years, while rapidly maneuvering on roller skates, breaks balls held in the unprotected hands of his father, with a rifle, and supplements the amazing performance by ringing a target bell at twenty paces, sixteen times in twenty minutes. The other sons are equally proficient.

In the zoological department, apart from the remarkable herd of huge and lordly elephants, that which will probably the soonest arrest the attention of the curious, is the pair of stupendous living hippopotami. Animals of this species have rarely been exhibited, but always singly; and this is positively the only pair exhibited together outside of one or perhaps two European zoological gardens. They are undoubtedly the largest, as well as the finest, with any exhibition traveling. In the circus, attractions are so various and so numerous that it is impossible for want of space to individualize. This fine exhibition will be in Eugene City, Wednesday, August 29, 1888.

Fair Postponed.

Owing to the late rains, and the probability that harvest would not be finished by Sept. 1st, the directors of the Lane County Agricultural Society have changed the dates of the fair to Sept. 26, 27, 28 and 29 commencing on Wednesday and closing Saturday. The catalogue and premium list is out, and may be had by making application to J. E. Campbell, secretary, Eugene City.

Don't Believe It

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption, and to the head causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.
