Our Supplement.

The supplement we issue to day should be placed in the hands of every voter in Oregon. It contains many powerful articles in favor of revenue reform. It shows that protection has destroyed our commercial marine, and our ship building industry; restricted our manufactures and lowered the wages of workmen engaged in protected industries, by the importation of the pauper labor of Europe. It exposes the false and gaudy cry of "free trade;" the unprotected American industries are proved to pay higher wages than the protected industries; the assertion is conclusively demonstrated that in protected industries America and England pay about the same wages. Nor is this all. It says, giving quotations, that Oregon wool is higher in London than in Oregon; it says that high protection is a burden on the farming industry, and that it has created immense monopolies. The spirit of the whole supplement is contained in these two sentences: "Thus our labor suffers from a system of robbery, disguised under forms of quackery for pretended protection of American labor. The stupidity that doesn't see it, particularly on this coast, where the producing classes are so plainly the victims of it, is phenomenal and perhaps hopeless."

The paper that proves all this is the Oregonian. All the statements it now makes are traversed by the statements it has made from 1880 until 1888. Read the supplement carefully and see whether it does not justify the Oregonian's later boast, that a "p's brains" voted in June.

"Private Affairs."

Hon John G. Carlisle's address to the Democratic Convention of the Sixth Kentucky district after his unanimous renomination was an admirable presentation of Democratic doctrine on the tariff and all other questions, but it was particularly felicitous in its allusion to Mr. Blaine's famous declaration that trusts are private affairs with which neither the President nor Congress has anything to do.

"Why, my friend," said the speaker, "harmony is a private affair—a very private affair—and yet it is not supposed to be improper to interfere with it by law. The highwayman who meets you on the public roads and demands your money or your life is engaged in the transaction of a private enterprise but still the law takes cognizance of his act and punishes it as a crime." The laughter and applause with which these remarks were received showed that they were keenly appreciated.

But Mr. Carlisle cannot expect that Mr. Blaine will share his views as to the propriety of the law's interference with such private affairs. Down in Arkansas and elsewhere Mr. Blaine was himself engaged in some shady private affairs with which he did not want Congress to interfere; and so very private were they that one of them called forth from him the famous injunction to his correspondent, Mr. Mulligan, "Burn this letter." It is quite natural that the author of that phrase should regard trusts as "private affairs" with which it is indelicate for governments to interfere.

With Daggers Drawn.

The kind of harmony existing in the Republican party of New York is shown by the publication of a letter written by Roscoe Conkling in 1866, charging Jas. G. Blaine with swindling the Government in the matter of bounties. In an interview the St. Louis Republican to whom this letter was written says that Blaine made $40,000 in one day from soldiers.

Roscoe Conkling for two years before his death was a Democrat, and a member of a Democratic Club in New York City.

Another Forgery.

Republican papers are printing an alleged extract from T. V. Powderly. It is a forgery. Mr. Powderly has given out that his views on this subject have not been made public. But an authentic article in the official organ of the Knights of Labor, by Powderly, makes the assertion that in Pennsylvania, the Paradise of Protection, thousands of Hungarians, who live on $2 a week, have been imported by the manufacturers, and that they are cutting wages to a starvation basis.

Shurtleff, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Vermont, at the election on the 3d instant, received 20,841 votes, being more than was ever given for a Democrat at any previous election in that State, and 305 more than the Republican candidate (Dillingham) is elected by a plurality of 26,570. Garfield plurality in 1880 was 37,301, being 5000 more than Blaine's in 1884, because of the latter's unpopularity in the State. Grant's majority in 1868 over Seymour was 32,122.

The betting on the election in New York City is largely sentimental, but Frank Hootton, the baccarat gambler, recently put up $2,500 forfeit on Harrison against $5,000 forfeit of Mahoney & Brothers, the well known bookmakers in Broadway. The whole amount to be bet is $20,000 by Mahoney & Brothers against Frank Hootton's $10,000 on Harrison, the balance of the money to be put up by both parties at Hootton's place October 1st.

Gen. Harrison, in his letter of acceptance, said that "the surplus should be used in buying bonds." The treasury is buying them as freely as they are offered, and Warner Miller accuses the administration of doing this for the purpose of "creating a speculative period for a moment," so as to be able to say "the country is prosperous." How hungry for office these Republicans are!

Fog Horn Watts has gone to New York to "spout" in favor of $1-a-day Harrison. That settles the question how the Empire State will cast her vote in November.

All for Cleveland.

Baker City Democrat.

A few days since when the Democrat made the announcement that a prominent Portland gentleman, a life-long Republican, had declared his intention to vote for Cleveland and Thurman, some of the Republicans here thought it could not be possible. But since then there have been so many prominent conversions into the Democratic ranks that the party leaders are considerable worried. The names of many Republicans who will vote for Cleveland and Thurman have been handed the Democrat and they will be made public from time to time. Here's a starter:

Chas. Oswald, a farmer of Alder creek, a Republican all his life, believes in a reduction of the tariff by the plan proposed by the Democratic party and will vote for Cleveland and Thurman in November.

James Marshall, a farmer of Lower Powder, also believes in tariff reform and will vote with the Democratic party this year.

Geo. Van Patten, the well known saw mill man of Powder River valley, renounces his Republican faith and will not vote with that party this year.

The mistaken benevolence which sent un-acclimated nurses to Jacksonville has received a rebuke. Unacclimated persons, whether nurses, physicians or laymen, are merely choice fuel for the plague, easily fall victims, must be nursed when ill and must be buried when dead. In the Memphis epidemic of 1878 there were fifty-four unacclimated physicians who went to offer battle to the fever, and out of this number fifty-three were stricken. The board of health in New Orleans has offered competent nurses, acclimated and experienced in yellow fever, and all future funds for nursing should be expended upon them and not upon well-meaning but foolhardy nurses from the North, whom henceforth the Jacksonville authorities will refuse to receive.

Mr. Myron Bangs, a life-long intimate friend of Roscoe Conkling, says that Mr. Conkling said to him in the summer of 1886: "Mr. Cleveland is making an excellent President. He is proving himself an able, honest, fearless man. He seems to place his idea of duty high above political advantage. He will go down in history as one of our great Presidents. His grasp of national affairs surprises me. Had I not witnessed it, I could not have believed that any man whose practical knowledge of government was gained in a brief term as Governor of this State could so readily have mastered the science of government."

After twenty-eight years of high taxation to "foster American industries" the farmers still furnish 75 per cent. of all our exports and the manufacturers only 30 per cent. And the price of the farmers' products is leveled down in the Old World market, while all that he buys is enhanced in cost by taxes to heap up a surplus for the politicians to spend. No wonder the grangers are kicking.

It was quite customary during the troubles in Scotland for the head of the house and heir to take opposite sides, so that whichever came uppermost the estate did not go out of the family. Mr. F. B. Thurber votes for Cleveland and Mr. H. K. Thurber for Harrison, and the wholesale grocery business gets a free advertisement anyway.

From Salem.

SALEM, Sept. 24.—Secretary Gregg has been engaged to-day in footing up the estimates of receipts and expenses of the late fair. Though his calculations are not yet complete, enough has been learned to show that total receipts will at least equal and probably exceed those of last year's fair, when they were about $14,000. This result has been attained in the face of the most discouraging circumstances. The prices of admission were materially reduced, and the entrance fees for almost all the pavilion exhibits were almost all removed. These, added to the bad weather and the comparatively light attendance of last Thursday, which is counted on always as the big day of the week, would have indicated a more discouraging outcome for the financial exhibit of the fair. The management is gratified beyond expression at what they consider the signal success of the fair, and consider that it argues a bright future for the institution.

At the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., at Los Angeles, Cal., several amendments to the constitution, proposed at the session of 1887, were considered, and one relating to appeals was adopted. The proposition to admit young men of 18 years to membership was rejected, the vote on roll call standing 100 in favor and 51 against, the necessary three-fourths not being secured.

The highest cash price will be paid for wheat by F. B. Dunn.

General J. B. Frisbie, an old-line Republican and the virtual founder of Vallejo, has severed his relation with the high-tax and free whisky party and has come out for Cleveland, Thurman and reform. He delivered a speech before the Irroquois Democratic Club in Vallejo the other night, giving his reasons for leaving the Republican party in his old age. He could not stand the flimsy violation and reputation of its past promises and its present pernicious championship of high taxes as a permanent basis of national wealth, and its defense of trusts, corners and combines which fleece the consumers of the country. General Frisbie's open and emphatic repudiation of the Republican party and its platform is giving his old Republican associates a "bad turn."

It will be remembered that the O. R. & N. Co. leased the narrow gauge railway for ninety-nine years, but after a little while gave it up, and that several times since then the latter has sued for rent and obtained it. The case was carried to the United States Supreme Court, where it is to be decided in a few days. If the latter wins, the O. R. & N. must take and operate the road; otherwise it is most likely to fall into the hands of the Southern Pacific.—Dallas Itemizer.

William Kavanaugh and Henry VanCleet, of the Munro building on Rose street, New York, have made a canvass of the employees of nine firms, with the following result: Cleveland 278, Harrison 89, Fisk 21. This shows that labor people have a keen eye to their own interests.

Speaker Carlisle was unanimously renominated for Congress in the Sixth Kentucky district. The occasion was marked by a grand rally of the Speaker's political friends. They will see to it that there is no pretext for a post-election contest this year.
