John E. and George Belshaw realized from their exhibit of grain raised in Lane Co. at the State Fair in premiums and sales the sum of $385.

The Millard Musical company failed to get up a class here. Smart citizens. They evidently remembered a similar company that operated here a year or two ago.

Mr. H. C. Humphrey, while at the State Fair last week, wanted a room by himself, hence he was compelled to rent a room in the Chemeketa with eight beds in it.

Mr. Robert Johnson has been appointed assistant chief clerk in the money order department of the Portland postoffice. We congratulate Robert on his appointment.

Mr. P. K. Watters, of Eugene City, sold four head of his handsome Holsteins to the Oregon Insane Asylum for $700, besides some others to parties residing elsewhere.

By using only the best materials to be had, and having had years of actual experience under the best instruction, enables Henderson, Dentist, to obtain the finest results known in Dentistry.

The horse hitched to Mr. F. H. Marion's vegetable wagon stumbled and fell on Wilmette street Thursday morning creating some excitement. A broken shaft was the result of the accident.

"Old King Cole was a jolly old soul," so are those who buy their spring suits of Eastland &amp; Wilson. Their prices are the lowest; their goods are best. In a cheap or high priced suit they can accommodate you.

The Junction floor the best floor on the market. Only $1 per sack at P. T. Co.

St. John asks the question, "Are you for the saloon or the home?" The answer given is "you bet your life." But when you are asked where you can get the best goods and prices on tea, coffee, groceries, on sale at the Pacific Tea Co., Cor 9th and Oak streets.

Notice is hereby given that the Lane County Pomona Grange will meet at the hall of Siuslaw Grange on Friday, the 5th of October, 1888. All fourth degree members in good standing cordially invited to attend.

J. C. JENNINGS, W. M.

It is with a considerable degree of interest we read the early history of Oregon and learn that "between Milwaukee and Portland, in 1850, there was much rivalry, each striving to outdo the other." To-day the former has a population of 200 and the latter 60,000.—E.S.

All accounts, notes and claims due the late firm of Pritchett &amp; Forkner have been sold and transferred to G. W. Montague, and the same are now in my hands for collection. All persons indebted to said firm will call at my office in Eugene and settle and save costs.

L. BILLY, Attorney for G. W. Montague.

July 26, 1888.

The Charter Oak is the best stove manufactured. It is the pride of every household. Messrs. Starr and Vandenberg have recently received from the manufactory at St. Louis a car load of them, which they are offering at very low prices. Call and examine them.

Here is an oddity from the New York Times: "A man hires me to shoe his horse, agreeing to give me one grain of corn for the first nail, two for the second, four for the third, and so on, doubling it for every nail driven. If I use thirty-one nails how much corn shall I receive? You will receive 2,147,483,647 grains of corn."

Leigh Gatch, son of Prof. T. M. Gatch, President of the Territorial University of Washington, died at Seattle last Saturday morning at the age of 23, and was buried Sunday. He had many friends in Eugene and the Dalles, at both of which places he formerly resided, who will learn of his early demise with sincere regret.

H. P. McGuire, the editor of the Portland Sifting, who was arrested on a warrant sworn out by C. F. Casey, of Albany, for publishing libelous items furnished by their Albany correspondent, had his preliminary examination Thursday and was held in the sum of $500 to await the action of the Linn county grand jury which convenes on Oct. 22nd.

Having perfected arrangements with parties in Portland, I am able now to find purchasers for lands, more readily than heretofore. If you have land for sale, improved or unimproved, you cannot do better than to entrust your business with us. Terms reasonable. Your patronage solicited.

B. F. DONNA.

Encouraging reports from all sections of the country continue to be sent in by our correspondents. Everybody seems cheerful in view of the outlook, and present state of trade.—Chicago Stationer and Printer.

All trade journals this year have reported the same condition of affairs, and yet the Mills bill has been running the country all this time.

Libbie J. Shaffer was granted a bill of divorce from Ellis M. Shaffer, to whom she was married in Peoria, Illinois, October 12, 1877, on the ground of desertion. Shaffer left his wife four years ago, after she had been supporting him by hard work ever since the marriage. The best that can be said of the defendant is that he did not appreciate a good thing when he had it.—Portland Evening Telegram. The parties to the suit lived in Eugene for a few years.

The West Side Telephone publishes the picture of one of the members of the Common Council who fled from McMinnville on account of the smallpox scare. The fellow looks as if he had the smallpox himself. The same paper says: "Smallpox creates a disturbance in every business. All the commissioners in this office deserted Monday and left for pastures new. If this large of the paper looks reading matter excuse it because of smallpox."

Mr. J. M. Holston has sold his interest in the Register to Mr. Will C. Yoran. We congratulate Mr. Yoran on his promotion, and welcome him to the field of journalism with a truly fraternal spirit.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Cochran arrested Henry Spores Thursday on a complaint charging him with giving liquor to Indians. He was given a hearing before Commissioner Walton and was discharged.

Wm. Kane, of Sheridan, last Tuesday shot and killed James Bewley, a wealthy farmer. It appears that Kane was a smallpox quarantine officer of Sheridan and he killed Mr. Bewley because he would not leave the town.

Just received a full line of Henrietta Laine and Marietta cloth dress goods in the following shades: Goulin Blue, Morning Blue, Myrtle, Hineval, Barton, Paon, Cresson, also Blacks which the ladies are invited to call and examine at S. H. Friendly's.

Chas. C. Manbery, one of the greatest stars in the theatrical world, is with the Nellie Boyd troupe, which appears in Rhinehart's Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. He will be remembered by Ward's engine support.

It is not settled yet about the fate of the Chinese exclusion bill, but it is settled that Friendly will satisfy purchasers of mens, womens and childrens clothing, carpets, hats and caps, etc, that no better bargains or superior style and quality of goods can be secured elsewhere in Lane county. Give him a call and examine his stock of merchandise.

Albany is the banner W. C. T. U. city of Oregon. The reports show that it has a membership of 72, Ashland has 31; Corvallis, 30; Dallas, 28; Eugene, 30; Salem, 47; McMinnville, 13; Portland, 50. According to the reports at hand, there is a total membership in the State of nearly one thousand.

REASONED.—Assistant Chief Engineer J. W. Cherry has handed in his resignation to the Board of Fire Delegates. Action will be taken on the matter at a meeting of the Board Saturday evening.

County Fair.

A Successful Exhibition. Increased Entries. Receipts about as Usual.

The Sixth annual fair of the Lane County Agricultural Society commenced in Eugene Wednesday of this week. The attendance has been fair while the exhibit has been the best ever before seen in Lane county. The receipts to the time of going to press are a little ahead of last year, although the rush of hop picking has kept many away. At the ## PAVILION.

John Belshaw has a collection of about 200 specimens of grain and grasses that cannot be excelled. Competition need not be feared by this exhibit, come from any quarter it may. Mr. Belshaw had this same exhibit at the State Fair, and took $500 first premiums with it, afterwards selling most of the grain for $175, selling 100 quarts for $100. It demonstrates that Lane county stands foremost as a grain producing county when proper cultivation is given the cereal.

The display of vegetables, beets, pumpkins, potatoes, squashes, cabbage, etc., is large and interesting. This year especially vegetables have attained a size and excellence rarely equalled.

The fruit department is well filled with apples, plums, pears, quinces, pears, grapes, etc. T. W. Shulton is a large exhibitor in this line. He shows several boxes of sun dried fruits that compare very favorably with dried fruit.

B. F. Dorris has on exhibition a cabinet of Oregon minerals which gains a blue ribbon. Most of the quartz is from the Blue river. It gives notice that there are mines nearly at our doors, that will return profit to the speculator and investor if properly developed.

An exhibition of dried fruit by S. P. Shadden with bottled fruit by Mrs. Shadden, is one of the most interesting exhibits in the pavilion. The fruit neatly packed and pressed in small cases, and put up fresh in glass jars is very tempting to the sight. Mr. and Mrs. Shadden deserve praise for showing the people the capabilities of Oregon fruit.

The ladies have placed a large and varied collection of plants and flowers in the pavilion, many of them being rare and beautiful specimens. Handsome baskets of cut flowers adorn a table, lending a charm to the scene.

Great credit is due the ladies of Eugene for the exhibit of ladies work in the north hall. Displayed on the tables and walls are every variety of plain and fancy work; articles of hand-sewing, embroidery in cotton, linen and silk; knitting, crocheting, tatting and quilting are on exhibition, attesting the skill and patience of the ladies in producing this beautiful work. The division of art and fancy work is filled with the numerous articles of merit and worth.

Dysinger &amp; Baker exhibit mouldings, brackets, doors, windows, etc., of their manufacture; Lambert &amp; Henderson have a collection of stock call attention to their business.

We had nearly forgotten to call attention to the corn. It is there both in stalk and ear, of large size and good quality, showing that the Willamette valley can raise corn successfully.

HORSES.

The display of horses is not as excellent as usual although that on exhibition is of good quality. P. K. Watters of the College Hill farm has a fine Hanoverian stallion of 3 years old, a Clydesdale stallion and two yearlings, all thoroughbred stock. Geo. Belshaw exhibits the Clydesdale stallion Brutus and several mares and colts of graded stock. Jno Kelly and Jas. Tucker, of Springfield show good serviceable stallions.

CATTLE.

The exhibit of cattle is large and excellent, there being 55 entries made in this division nearly every one of which is thoroughbred. Isaac Elder of Shedd's station has a herd of one bull, five cows and two heifers of short-horns, that show well. P. K. Watters has a herd of fourteen Holsteins and Shorthorns that would be a credit to any display of stock.

This gentleman has located in Lane county during the past year and brought with him a large number of cattle and horses all of which are of pure blood. His farm is located six miles northwest of Eugene and promises to become a first-class breeding place for the best qualities of stock. Geo. Millican of Waterville shows a herd of fine Hereford cattle, consisting of one bull, two cows and two calves. This breed is attracting much attention at present. M. J. and A. Wilkins have a Hereford cow and a fine lot of Polled Angus, shiek and well built. E. Stewart has his Jersey bull on exhibition, and T. G. Hendricks enters a Jersey cow for the best milkier. N. A. W. Howe of Creswell has a Shorthorn bull and a heifer and calf of the same breed that show well. A. M. Osborn displays a herd of Holsteins that look well. J. H. White, of California, has a herd of Holsteins of six head which materially increases the excellence of the stock exhibition.

RACES.

The race Wednesday was a three-quarter mile dash for a purse of $35, free for all. The entries were: Bingo by Hayes and Pappoose by Bailey. Bingo won the race by a few inches; time 1:20. The race was witnessed by about four hundred people.

Thursday a 1-2 mile dash was run between Sadie C and Harry and was won by the latter in 54 seconds. The trotting race was between Harris' bay mare and Cayuse owned by Watters, 1/4 mile, best two in three. The first heat was a dead heat in 1:40. Cayuse took the second and third heats in 1:45 and 1:35 respectively, winning the race. The race to-day, Friday, between Rinkor Belle by Chas. Hadley, Pappose by Smith Bailey, Bingo by R. B. Hayes, 1/4 mile two best in three. Owing to going to press early we can give no report this week.

NOTES.

Attend the Fair.

A knife grinder was in town all week. Hotels have been crowded this week.

Mr. S. A. Clarke represented the Oregonian at the Fair.

There were several coups of fine chickens at the stock yards.

Miss Maggie Croner furnishes piano music for the Pavilion.

Unusually good order has been maintained during the Fair.

Thanks to the officers of the Fair for favors shown the GUARD.

At Churchhill and Miss Beale Day officiated as assistant secretaries.

J. H. Settlementer of Woodburn was here attending the Fair this week.

The stands, janitors, etc., did not realize very heavily from their ventures.

Mr. Wimberly of the Roseburg Review was in town Friday attending the Fair.

A number of Benton and Linn county people have been in attendance upon the Fair.

The county fair added twenty cattle pens to the improvements at the race track to accommodate cattle.

The band organ, monkey and man combination has been pleasing the small boys greatly during the Fair.

The stock parade was witnessed by a large assemblage of people at the Fair Grounds Friday at 2 p. m. It was the finest exhibit of stock ever shown in Lane county.

At the time of going to press Friday noon, many of the committees were still at work awarding premiums. Hence we will be unable to present the same to our readers until next week.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

ADA SHARPLES, Editor.

Election of officers yesterday in the Eutaxian society.

All of the juniors who were expected are here except one.

Miss Carson has appointed work in election for two weeks.

Last week's joint meeting of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. C. A.

Last year's class tree has stood the summer, and is still alive.

All the school books that were lacking have been supplied this week.

Charles Lockwood and Miss Emma Washburne have returned to school.

Miss L. L. Hughes and Miss Lulu Sawyer visited the Society last week, with a view of becoming members.

Several of the young ladies of the University are busy trying to sell tickets for the eucalyptian entertainment.

In last week's column we said that this week was nomination in the society, but the nominations were made last week.

Last meeting of Society the President, Miss Sue Dorris, was absent, the Vice President, Fanny Condon, occupied the chair.

We are glad to see that the enlarged portrait of Prof. Burke has been left by the Alumni to give honor to the Society hall.

The resignation of Miss Melissa Hill, Secretary, was read and accepted Friday, September 21st. Her name was also placed on the inactive list.

Alvin McClaine, who had to leave the University last year on account of his health, has so much improved as to be able to work in his brother's bank at Tacoma.

Miss Dorris, and her sister, Miss May, were both absent from school last Friday on account of sickness. We understand that Miss May will not try to come again until after Christmas.

The winning ways and words of our contemporary has induced some of the Eutaxians to confess their items to him. Henceforth we may look to see his column running over full.

Leigh Gatch, a former student, died at his home in Seattle the last week of vacation, after a long illness. His father, Prof. T. M. Gatch, was at one time a member of the faculty of the University.

Misses Greene and Straight did not consider the honor of being made Secretary and Censor an equivalent for forcing them out of their corner where they appeared to be taking such solid comfort.

The names of Misses Vena Adair, Mary Porter and Ima McClung were proposed for membership last week. This is encouraging for our first meeting, and we hope others will soon follow their example.

Last week the Laurean editor got his items in a little too soon, else he would have known that there were five seniors in school, and as all of these are good size, with their hats on, the class is above the average.

The consideration expressed in the column of the Journal for the Eutaxian editor's constitution will be saved until needed, as last week we were neither dead nor speechless. Sympathetic words, prompted by a cause of common suffering and given by those who know whereof they speak, are by far the most valuable.

At the meeting of the Y. W. C. T. U. there was a long discussion as to the advisability of giving one out of their course of three eucalyptian readings on the evening of the Laurean's regular meeting which would either force them to adjourn or would keep them from attending. After some pro and cons it was decided to use their evening as the number of people in attendance to the fair would make a profitable audience than the Laureans would.

Appointments for the next meeting of Society: Reading, Miss Ethel Hunter; recitation, Ida Hendricks; question committee, Julia Hamilton. Question to be debated: Resolved, That the graduates of the State University are as much entitled to a State Certificate as the graduates of the State Normal School. Lender on affirmative, Ida Sharples, colleagues, Fanny Condon, Agnes Greene; negative, Nellie Snodgrass, Clara Condon, Nellie Snodgrass.

With this issue we resign our office, else we shall be superseded by the newly elected editor. To her we recommend the Society for its kindness in assisting an editor in procuring items, and in consideration of that kindness and according to previous promise we bequeath to it all our blimes to be divided among its members share and share alike. Of praise there was not sufficient to have gone around, and for what there was we are most greedy, though owing to the GUARD's great circulation we have had a little, but like the prophets, it has come from distant places. To those far off readers we send many thanks. We hardly know what to say to Brother Bronough, or how to say it, about not answering his enigmas for he excused us once while we secured our hay crop, and for this we promised during vacation to put our mind upon it, and for this reason we took it to the coast, hoping that the salt sea air would help preserve our brain while we bent our thoughts; but by a bit of carelessness we dropped it into the ocean and in spite of all that we could do to save it we saw it starting on a wave for China, though when we come to think it is not so bad, for our loss will be his gain, for as his name headed the column it will help to spread his fame with that foreign nation, and as they are renowned for delving there is yet a chance that he may see it noticed and answered by their press.

We have tried to take good care of the office and its fixtures, in order to be able to turn it over to the new editor in the best of shape, but from want of us during vacation the articles that were made of brass became seriously corroded; yes, they are entirely consumed by rust, of brass she'll need a new supply.

A promise always made by editors when leaving office and never known yet to be fulfilled of "handing down the pen," we thought till the last moment we would be the first to fill, for we found how seriously it encroached upon our time at the beginning of this work to go to hunt a quill. Though ours was worn up to the down, we thought she would accept it, but placing it on the window sill, so that with better grace we would be able to make our last bow, a breeze came and wafted it to the clouds, before we could raise from the angle 45° to grasp it, as it has gone to join the spirit of the article that was gone enough to lend it, the best that we can do is to tell her where pens grow.

Now "kind and weary readers," this is our final wall; with this we bid you all our "farewell." Our name will stand above this column "No more! No more!"

DWELLING BURNED.—The dwelling house owned by Geo. Gibson, at Smithfield, was burned Friday night of last week about 10 o'clock. The house had been unoccupied for some time, and it is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin. The loss is about $150, with no insurance.

BORN.—In Lane county, Oregon, September 21, 1888, to the wife of Mr. John E. Belshaw, a son.
