From Mabel.

Nov. 5, 1888. There are six families in this neighborhood more than when I wrote last. It is settling up and still there is room for more. Samuel and Ernest Stewart came in from Eastern Oregon recently and took into themselves wives and returned to their homes Samuel taking Miss Bessy Kenney and Ernest Miss Mary Workman. Mr. John Spores was married Oct. 21 to Miss Emma Drury, our accomplished school teacher, and daughter of Mr. Alfred Drury on P. M. Mrs. Spores commenced her full term of school the next morning after her marriage. She taught the Spring term and gave very good satisfaction. More anon. It has been a long time since I wrote anything for you, and I believe no one else has written anything from this part of the moral vineyard, so I thought I would drop you a few lines again. There is nothing unusual to write, however, as everything is quiet and everybody peaceable here (there never yet having been a law suit in Mabel precinct).

Mr. A. Smith is nearly done putting in logs for the season and I understand Mr. Striker has got 1,000,000 feet in the stream. I think he aims to put in 2,000,000 feet more. Mr. Whitsett talks of putting in some which together with what were put in last year and not taken down will make about 6,000,000, a pretty good run for a small stream. Uncle Tim has just got home having been engaged with Mr. Britt since the latter part of June for the S. P. R. Co. It is amusing sometimes to hear the opinions expressed by different persons as to the object of the company in having their lands examined. Some think it is for the purpose of establishing a colony on it. Others that it is with a view to sell it in a body to some other corporation, whatever the object. I suppose it is their own business. G. W. Riegs has been working with Mr. Britt most of the season. There were eight in the party and I understand they examined about 65,000 acres. CITIES. Cartwright Items. Nov. 15, 1888. Eddie Addison started to school last Monday. Mr. Wm Hawley made 120 gallons of cider last week. Mr. Johnson preached to a fair sized audience last Sunday. We all sincerely hope that J. L. will have a sufficiently thick week. Dr. M. Hon and his cousin were here last week prospecting for coal. Rivals commence next Thursday and will continue for two weeks. Mr. Wm. Russell was quite indisposed last week but is now much better. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, the newly married couple, and Miss Ellis passed through here en route for Hot Springs. The literary society commenced last Saturday. Pres., Wm. Russell; Vice Pres. and Sec., Mrs. M. Palm. This society meets weekly and has a good attendance. CHATTER BOX. Personal. Judge Mosher, of Roseburg, was in town Thursday. Mr. S. S. Stevens returned the other day from a visit to Illinois. A F Campbell, U. S. Gauger for the District of Oregon, was in town Friday. E. P. Thorp, the genial editor of the Drain Echo, was in Eugene the first of the week. Dr. N. J. Taylor and family have returned to Eugene from Walla Walla. They will probably locate here again. Mr. H. H. Giltry, reading clerk of the United States Senate, arrived here from Washington Thursday. He came on business and a visit to relatives. Synod Meeting. The Oregon Synod of the C. P. Church will convene at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in this city on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 7:30 p. m. The introductory sermon will be preached by Rev. Wiley Knowles of Dayton, W. T. The following order of religious services will be observed during the sittings of Synod, viz: Preaching at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. each day. A missionary mass meeting Saturday 2 p. m. Synodical commission 11 A. M. Sabbath. Prayer and praise service 3 p. m. same day. City Transfers. Jas Humphrey to F Rankin, property in Eugene; consideration $200. Persis C Sweet to Caroline Horn, two lots in Eugene; con $1000. J H Lampton to E R Hollenbeck, lot in Mulligan's addition; con $375. DIED.—Henry T. Hill, an old resident and pioneer of Lane county, died at the McKauzie Bridge Monday, Nov. 5th, aged 70 years, 6 months and 24 days. The remains were brought here and the funeral took place from his late residence on Ninth street Friday morning. Rev. C. M. Hill of the Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member, officiating. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Hattie Bristol and Miss Mary Hill, and a son, Joseph Hill, now in California. Mr. Hill was a generous, whole-souled man. He had spent a considerable part of his life in the mountains hunting, prospecting and trapping, and was an adept in woodcraft. Many friends remember him kindly. GRAND JURY BUSINESS.—The grand jury has indicted Thos. Eaton for larceny, and Geo Woods for an assault with a dangerous weapon. Woods' trial was progressing when we went to press Friday afternoon. He assaulted an old man, a German, at Junction a short time since, beating the latter over the head with a lecture. In the following cases the grand jury found, "Not a true bill": State vs Uttinger, assault with a dangerous weapon, State vs John Bach, same, State vs R M Morris, larceny; State vs M. Lawrence, larceny. ATTORNEYS IN ATTENDANCE.—The following attorneys have been in attendance upon Circuit court this week: J K Weatherford of Albany, Col Kelay and W S Rayburn of Corvallis, J W Hamilton of Roseburg, C F Ruppel of Junction, and the different attorneys residing in Eugene. WANTED.—I want 5,000 pounds dried plums and highest price paid at Bettman's.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

AGNES M. GREENE, EDITOR. "Mr. President" or "Miss President," really which was she. Rev. and Mrs. McKinley with friends visited the University this week. Pres. Johnson wishes one of his students would set a day when he will know his lesson. We submit as a long-felt want of the English language, addresser, masculine of address. On account of the meeting of the corporation, the Etaxian society adjourned last week without transacting any business. Student, translating in Anglo Saxon: "Let him hear, he that hath eyes to see." Prof.: "Yes, I hear; but I don't exactly see." There are those who cannot see the difference between a plaid from Bonnie Scotia and a common, ordinary, red and black shawl. Pity that "miserable" so socially inclined was disappointed! But do not let a Wednesday absence happen again for the Etaxian editor cannot think of violating the established precedents of the society by staying out of school just to be company. Scene in Rhetoric class: Lesson on argumentation. Prof.—"Miss Blank, recite the next topic." Miss Blank.—"Let us take the proposition, 'All men are tyrants.' Caesar was a man, therefore—" Laughter of class prevents giving of conclusion. Subjects of compositions continued: 3rd. Four of Bryant's Poems, Advantages of Method, Value of Painting, Oregon's Commercial Importance; 4th. The Gladiator, Advantages of Labor, Winter Amusements, Insanitation, 5th. The Last Book I Read, Summer Sports, Benefits of Travel, Native Trees of Oregon. It is evidently appropriate Wood should be near a saw, and observers of human nature have noticed that the harmony is not destroyed if another available be added to each word. No harm to the heart of the Wood is feared this time as it has survived divers similar experiences. Five sets of bangs now hold an uncertain lease of life, due of course, to pity loyalty. The reason that the number is odd is not because the changes are three to two in favor of the Democrats. Oh, no! It is because most Republicans believe their own bangs will do them more good than a dozen of someone's else. The sequence of cause and effect is sometimes hard to trace. If aqueous vapor had not arisen from the ocean, been borne toward Eugene, condensed to rain and fallen, had not secured the dignity of a Senior's upper lip and had not been obliged to curl it again at the last minute, one of the young ladies would not have been detained in going to the entertainment and the exercise would have been half an hour sooner. Of course it is seen that the delay was due to causes beyond human control, but the most important thing about it is that science is in possession of accurate data as to the length of time it takes to perform one part of a young gentleman's toilet. The constitution says the assistant librarian of the Corporation shall be elected from the Etaxian Society. All those Clevelandites, however, believe that Grover is everything lovely even to this loveliest of all, a Etaxian, and so it was that some such young men nominated His Democratic Majesty for the office. They doubtless thought that his engagement at the White House was nearly over and it would be kind to procure him some lucrative employment. Young ladies of like political faith remembered that Scripture says a man and his wife are one flesh, and preferred Mrs. Cleveland, but finally did as all Democrats may be relied on to do, voted a Straight ticket. A good audience attended the Etaxian Scotch Evening. Miss Clara Condon presided and announced the program. The exercise opened by a chorus by the society, The Campbell Are Chorus. Miss Susie Corrie read an interesting essay on Scotch Music and Poetry and, Miss Lulu Sawyer sang of Coning thro' the Rye. The Imposition Scene from Marion was read by Miss Veina Adair. Miss Linnia Holt's piano solo, Tom O'Shanter, followed, and Lochiel's Warning was given by Miss Elva Galloway. Miss Nellie Straight got Within a Mile of Edinburgh Town when to every one's regret the music ceased. With Miss Anna Roberts the audience enjoyed Life in the Highland Clans. A Medley of Scotch Airs closing with Home, Sweet Home, piano and violin duet, by Misses Emma Dorris and Lulu Sawyers was loudly endorsed but without eliciting a response. Miss Fannie Condon told how The Cotter was perhaps spending the same Saturday Night, and exercises closed with the chorus, so full of memories, Auld Lang Syne. The young men interested in this project met again last Saturday and permanently organized by adopting a constitution and electing officers. Mr. Douglas Waite is President. The membership roll now contains thirty names and others are promised. The initiation fee has been fixed at one dollar with monthly dues to the amount of fifty cents. As soon as possible the club expect to rent and furnish a suitable room so as to enjoy some of its benefits this year. Hardly a more important question can come before the student than this: How can I do the largest amount of studying with the least injury to my health. The problem is largely solved by the answer, Take regular physical exercise. If but the athletic sports of ancient Greece were now in vogue, if mental perfection were not less, but physical more more esteemed, then this era of large brains to shattered bodies and strong bodies in brains too weak to support them would vanish like dew in the morning, and the motto of a better future would be one which we suggest to the club, mens in corpore. "In the sixteenth moon"—what is the matter? This must be an old pun! "Now it came to pass"—and this one evidently learned its trick of the other editor in April last! What we mean to say is that the mighty CONVENTION of the Laurean and Etaxian Societies met at 3 p. m., on last Friday for its regular annual session and for the election of officers. After some preliminary business, the Corporation proceeded to ballot on candidates and Mr. Ed. McAllister was elected President by a practically unanimous vote. Upon being called for Mr. McAllister made a neat speech thanking the members for the honor conferred upon him and expressing his hopes of a prosperous future. Other officers were then elected as follows: Secretary, Fred S. Dunn; Treasurer, Julia E. Hamilton; Librarian, J. E. Young; Asst. Librarian, Nellie G. Straight; 4th Trustee, Fletcher Lima; 5th Trustee, Fannie Condon. After the officers were filled, a motion prevailed that a committee be appointed to revise the Constitution. E. McAllister, Emma C. Dorris, A. L. Veszie, Clara L. Condon and L. J. Davis compose the committee. The Corporation then adjourned. It seems the general opinion that the officers elected are a credit to the Corporation and we have no doubt that they will receive the hearty support of every member.
