Mothers!
Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published round each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhoea and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend.
35 doses, 35 cents.

Lambert & Henderson are the sole agents for the celebrated Superior stoves. Take your wife and look at them.

Moore's Revealed Blemish regulates and builds up all the organs of the human system. Sold by Eugene Druggists.

What is it?
That produces that beautifully soft complexion and leaves no traces of its application or injurious effects? The answer, Wisdom's Robertine accomplishes all this, and is pronounced by ladies of taste and refinement to be the most delightful toilet article ever produced. Warranted harmless and matchless. F. M. Wilkins, agent, Eugene City.

By the latest methods in use by Eastern dentists high in the profession, Henderson is enabled to produce equally as desirable results in fine gold fillings. Office same place, Hayes' block.

A traveling man, stopping at the Lee House, Campbellburg, Ind., on learning that a lady in the village was suffering terribly with cramp colic, gave the landlady a bottle of medicine, which he had with him and requested her to take it to the sick woman.
The medicine relieved her promptly and she believes saved her life. It was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, the promptest and most reliable medicine in use for Bowel complaints. Sold by Osburn & Co.

Cholera Morbus is one of the most painful and dangerous diseases, many deaths resulting from it each year, usually because it is not properly treated. The most severe cases may be cured by using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Sold by Osburn & Co.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with great success during our epidemic of bloody flux. I do not know of a case that was lost where this remedy was used. One of my friends, about six miles from here, had a child that was given up by the two doctors who attended it.
He then used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and the child recovered. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms. Wishing you abundant success for the good you are doing, I am, Very Truly Yours,—F. E. LANENDER, Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Attempt at Suicide.

The news comes from Canyon City that J.
T. Mael, Grant county's post-office clerk, attempted suicide Monday by taking a dose of morphine while laboring under a fit of despondency over financial troubles and embarrassment, but the act was discovered in time and his life saved. It appears that of late he has been drinking heavily and besides had been living beyond his means. On the result of the last election he had wagered large sums of money and the result was disastrous to him. Upon the heels of his election losses came the opening of the circuit court for Grant county, and upon an examination of the books in the clerk's office it was found that Mael was somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,400 behind with the county. As soon as Mael was made aware that his dishonesty had been discovered his heart failed him and he attempted to take his own life, but failing, tendered his resignation at once to the court as county clerk and handed himself over to his bondsmen.
The court appointed Hon. Phil Metehan to fill the unexpired term and that gentleman assumed the duties of the office.

Mr. Mael has heretofore been looked upon as one of the most upright citizens of Grant county, as his election for two terms to the office of county clerk would show. He has a large family dependent upon him for support and in view of this and on account of his previous good character, his bondsmen will probably make good the discrepancy in his accounts with the county and no prosecution will be entered against him. It is clearly a case of another good man gone wrong.

Starting in Early.

Scarcely forty-eight hours had elapsed after the election of Harrison and Morton was known as an assured fact before the office seeker began laying his wires for a lucrative appointment under the administration beginning on the 4th of next March.
To-day it is safe to say that there are at least six "patriotic" applicants for every federal office in this city, and before inauguration day the number will be doubled or trebled. Some of these applicants are even at this moment circulating petitions several yards long. If they only knew how little influence a petition signed by Tom, Dick and Harry carries with it in Washington City, the applicants would save themselves all the pins they were taking.—Portland Daily Telegram (Rep.)

Sturgeon packing has assumed quite large proportions on the Columbia river lately.
The fish are being put up in large quantities at Columbia City and Rainier, and the fishermen are doing quite well at the business.
Two men caught in less than one month 12,000 lbs of sturgeon, for which they received one and one-half and two cents per lb. In addition to this they get three cents per lb for the roe and $3.50 per hundred for the bladders. The sturgeon are treated in such a way that they are kept fresh for about forty days. They are shipped to the Eastern markets, and all that there is demand for are sold fresh and the balance are smoked or salted. The roe is transformed into cas-sare, which is sold at a high price.

The New York Evening Post says: Twenty of the lands at the New Brunswick Rubber Company's factory have been notified that it will be necessary to disperse with their services. This company was one of those which distributed the "pay envelopes" informing employees that if Cleveland was elected wages would be lowered.

Don't Believe It
When told that F. M. Wilkins, the druggist, is not selling "Wisdom's Robertine" for the complexion, the most elegant and only really harmless preparation of its kind in the world, and giving a beautiful picture card with every bottle.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things that ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

The young man with his best girl, the old man and woman, the farmer and laborer, after they come to town to Eugene to purchase goods, should not delay but proceed at once to wools, lewis and childrens clothing, hollies trees goods, fancy articles, hats, caps, boots and shoes, carpets, etc.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 2, 1888.
The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.: Gentlemen—I can cheerfully and truthfully say that S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier on earth. In 1884 I contracted blood poison. Physicians treated me with no good results. I took a half dozen different kinds of blood medicines, but, without receiving any permanent relief I was induced to try S. S. S. I began the first bottle with the gravest doubts of success.
I had been so often deceived. But improvement came, and I continued its use until perfectly well. I have since married, and have a healthy family. No trace of the disease is seen. Swift's Specific did all this for me, and I am grateful. Yours truly,
J. S. STRADER,

Lying About Oregon.

[Albany Herald]
The following letter was published in the Osborne County Kansas Farmer, and sent to F. A. Burkhardt, real estate dealer of this city:

EUGENE, OR., Oct. 21, 1888.
EDS. FARMER:—We are stopping on the Willamette river and are not satisfied by any means; and to keep some others from making the same move that I did, will just say what I think of it, and that is that it is not what it is bragged up to be. The climate is damp, gold and rainy, and everything has a stink of mold and a look of mud.
Eastern Oregon has about 99 acres of sage brush and sand rock to one acre that you can irrigate and cultivate. The western part is about the same only it has heavy timber in the place of sage brush, and that you can't sell or give away, except it is located close by some big town, and then it costs five times as much to clear it as it is worth. The soil is as staked as a jail bird's pants; mostly of thin creek gumbo, and then some sandy loam and gravel. They raise chest and oats hay for feed principally; no corn or clover to speak of. The fruits and vegetables are so cheap you can not get enough for them to pay you to haul them to market.
Everything else is much higher than in Kansas; we go no better than there. There are some places I could get $4 to $5 a day with my team, but would have to pay $8 a week for board, 2 and 3 cents per pound for hay and oats, 15 and 20 cents for sugar. So you see the big money to be made here.
In Idaho and Wyoming they raise nice trucks by irrigation, but there is no place like Kansas for a home; or for coon, boys, cattle and horses. Farmers are not making money here; it is the towns that are booming this country.
G. W. LAYNE.

The writer of the above is evidently one of those growers who expect to come out to Oregon and find a farm well stocked and already improved, to be had for the asking, or to be given away to the people such as our agents are lured with. A more preserved man of abuse could not well be furnished concerning this country.

There is no timothy hay or wheat growing wild in this country but any one who has ordinary industry can raise on an average piece of land better crops than the above scribbler ever saw in Kansas. No country has better climate than Oregon, and hundreds of energetic new comers are daily making good homes here and from rich farms, fruit orchards, mines and forests are making more money than the Kansas dyspeptic ever will possess.

A Just Sentence.

[Grant Court News.]
Tuesday afternoon the court room was packed with an anxious assembly congregated to hear the sentence of death pronounced upon Pat McGinnis, who on the night of July 5, 1888, in cold blood murdered the deputy sheriff while in the discharge of his duties as jailer. The proceedings of the trial were watched with interest by the citizens of our county, and long before the examination of witnesses closed almost every person, with the exception of the twelve jurors in the box had expressed themselves as satisfied that the evidence adduced, though partly circumstantial, was conclusive, and therefore the verdict of the jury—guilty as charged in the indictment—occusioned no surprise. After retiring to deliberate the jury on their second ballot agreed upon their verdict, the first ballot standing for murder in the first degree, eleven to one.
The prisoner being brought before his honor Judge Leon, to receive the sentence which the verdict called for, stood firm and nerved for the worst, with not a tremor nor a faltering look. His face bore that silent, brutish expression that characterizes a soulless, unfeeling nature. When questioned as to whether or not he had anything to say, Mc-Ginnis protested his innocence. Judge Leon in a firm but solemn tone, pronounced the sentence of death of hanging on January 18, 1889, to which the prisoner listened with seeming indifference, at the end of which making the assertion that "those who swore his life away would some day rue it."

SUFFERING FROM PARALYSIS.—Oregonian
Nov. 27: The many friends of Col. W. W.
Chapman will learn with regret that the old gentleman is suffering from a stroke of paralysis. Saturday Col. Chapman came down town to transact some business, and rode to his home at the corner of Twelfth and Jerrison in a street car. While on the way home he felt a peculiar sensation along his right leg. This feeling of numbness spread and increased in intensity until it involved his right side and arm. By 9 o'clock Saturday evening Col. Chapman had lost the entire use of his right side. Though far advanced in life, Col. Chapman's health has been quite good for some time past. He has been actively engaged in working on a law case for some weeks, and has probably overtaxed his physical and mental energies. Col.
Chapman is one of the oldest pioneers of Oregon, and he has hosts of friends who will regret to hear of his affliction and who will hope to learn of his recovery.

By the way, speaking of suppressed votes and free ballots and things, the Democrats of Philadelphia cast 22,123 votes, and got out Congressman, while the Republicans cast 110,769 votes and got four Congressmen!
The gerrymander is mightier than the shotgun.
