

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1889.

How it Works.

A "Michigan lumberman" talks tariff to a Protection organ in this wise: "It prevents the competition of Canadian lumbermen, who would drive our own from the market, and it enables us to use our forests to the best possible advantage."

A Misstatement.

The Register of Wednesday says: "The GUARD comes out in favor of a new Court House, and gives some substantial reasons in favor of the proposition. This question arises: Is it right now or was it right last spring, when it advocated the election of the Democratic candidates of judge and commissioners, on the ground that they were opposed to the building of a new court house."

The statement that the GUARD advocated the election of the Democratic candidates for the county court on the ground that they were opposed to the building of a new court house is untrue. We are aware that parties on both sides tried to make political capital out of the court house question, but the GUARD has uniformly expressed itself in favor of a new building and has in no way acted inconsistent in the matter.

We opposed the repairing of the old house as it would have been like throwing money away, to add to a house that after the rebuilding was done would be still inadequate to the needs of the county, and could only retard the building of a suitable court house. The Register drew on its imagination for the statement it made.

The River and Harbor Bill.

Some one who claims to know, says that President Cleveland will veto the next river and harbor bill when passed by congress. It is to be hoped not.—Astorian.

Some one who claims to know says that the Republican members of the Senate river and harbor committee are against any river and harbor bill this year. It is to be hoped not.

A great deal is being said just now about "the Southern question." Perhaps when Harrison goes into office some one will call his attention to "Crawford county question" in his own state of Indiana. There is not a negro living in that county, nor has one ever been permitted to stop there. A poor colored man, driven from the boat in which he had been employed, sought a refuge in Crawford for a few days only, but was forced to move on. He should have dropped in on the Republicans there when a national election was being held. This would have insured him at least one day of rest and a two dollar bill.

Good for the Republican negro voters who are rising in their might to demand a representation in Mr. Harrison's Cabinet. They are moving in Indiana and their choice is Bruce, a splendid representative of the mixed races. The negroes are right. Without their solid votes the Republicans could not have carried five of the most important of the Northern States. Let them clamor for their rights.

Oregon's legislature will convene next Monday for its fifteenth biennial session. It is composed of 30 senators and 60 representatives, of whom 21 senators are Republicans and 9 Democrats; and 51 representatives, Republicans, and 9 Democrats—a Republican majority of 54 on joint ballot, and a U. S. Senator to elect.

The naval commission appointed by Secretary Whitney to select a site for a new navy yard on the Pacific coast, provided for by congress at the last session left Washington for San Francisco, Dec. 20th. The commission has decided to locate the yard on Puget Sound, and a site near Seattle, W. T., will likely be selected.

We have heard that Salem will make an effort to secure the Agricultural College. Surely those fellows have been asleep. Do they not know that the college has been located at Corvallis, and that a fine college building has been erected for its use? Salem can have the earth, but it can't have the Agricultural College.—Corvallis Leader.

Father Henry Armstrong, of Salem, who claims to be the oldest Old Fellow in the United States, celebrated his 87th birthday anniversary on New Year's day. He joined the L. O. O. F. fraternity in 1834, and has been an active member ever since.—Statesman.

Senator J. N. Dolph will be re-elected U. S. Senator by the legislature one week from next Tuesday. Of course he is the "farmers champion."

It is announced that George Osgoodby, a resident of Pomona, Cal., of English descent is the author of the notorious March 30th letter.

General Pat Collins says: "We have not had an election. It was an auction."

LAW'S LINGERING DELAY.—A decision was to have been delivered Monday by Justice Matthews of the supreme court of the United States in the case of the Oregonian Railway Company vs. the O. R. & N. Co. Mr. Matthews was, however, taken sick again about a week ago, and so no decision was delivered. It is understood that he had his decision prepared, and it was hoped that he might have it read by some of the other members of the court, but as he has had it with him so long he is reluctant to part with it. Those who have been waiting for the past four years to learn what the learned judge knows about leasing railroads can wait just a little while longer.

A GOOD LAW SUSTAINED.—Washington dispatch, Jan. 7: In a case appealed from Iowa to the supreme court of the United States, there was rendered a decision today that the state has a right to pass a law compelling railroads to fence their lines, and failing to do so, to pay double value for stock run over and killed.

Change of School Books.

Oregonian, Jan. 9.

The state board of education has opened the ballots of the county superintendents, and a count reveals the fact—a startling and expensive one—that twenty or more new books are to be introduced into our public schools. Among these are Barnes new National Readers (five books); Fish's Arithmetic (two books); Pipers "Seat Work," Robinson's Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry, Bryant & Stratton's Bookkeeping, "Short Studies in English," Munson's "Spelling System," Gay's Physical Geography, Clarke's Grammar, Barnes Primary U. S. History, Tenney's Astronomy, Steel's Geology, White's Drawing and Barden's Sentence Making.

Thus it appears that the readers, arithmetic, and in general the books that every child must have, are changed. The county superintendents have voted, the publishers most interested have evidently controlled the vote, and the people must pay the bills. For most of the changes there was no general demand, either by teachers or parents, while all with one or two trifling exceptions, are in the interest of the Ivison & Blakeman and A. S. Barnes combination, two publishing houses that have now practically driven all others out of Oregon, and divided the business between themselves. They now have influence and for putting into our public schools any books they choose.

Terrific Cyclone.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 9.—A terrific storm of wind and hail, the worst known for years, swept over the city shortly after noon to-day, carrying with it death and destruction. The storm formed with a suddenness that was overwhelming, and as the wind, accompanied by hail and torrents of rain, swept along the streets, pedestrians were hurled before it and barely escaped being crushed under vehicles passing along the thoroughfares. Buildings were torn up and many persons were killed.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 9.—This is the saddest night in the history of Reading. A death-like pall hangs upon the city, the result of the most horrible disaster in its history. A hundred households are in mourning as a result of one of the greatest calamities known in Pennsylvania. A cyclone this afternoon swept, and laid waste everything within its reach, and with terrible loss of life, about 100 persons being killed.

School Directors Meeting.

The directors of Eugene school district No. 4, at a recent meeting made the following rule concerning non-resident students: All payments must be for the full term or so much thereof as remains when the pupils enter, provided that payments may be made for 12 weeks, any one term, in advance. On motion the following changes were made in grade work: Smith's Primer of Physiology, now used in the 3rd to be taught in the 4th grade. Smith's Second Book of Physiology, now taught in the 2d grade, to be dropped from the 3rd grade and taught only in the 2d grade. The changes to take effect with the term beginning on the 28th day of Jan., 1889. J. M. Williams, principal; Anna Underwood, teacher 2d grade; T. M. Martin, 3rd grade; Alice Dorris, 4th grade.

O. P. RAILROAD MATTERS.—Intelligence was recently received from the advance work of the Oregon Pacific extension to the effect that Manager Wm. M. Hoag went up the line Saturday and put a stop to all work of construction, grading, bridge building and track laying, but on Sunday again the order was countermanded and Engineer Eccleson instructed to have the work proceed. Track is now laid about five miles above Dow Smith's and if the fine weather prevailing there continues, the road can be completed to Breitenbush in about two weeks. An extension of sixteen days has been granted to the grading contractors, in which time it is expected to complete the work to near the tunnel, several miles beyond Breitenbush.

EVANGELICAL COLLEGE.—It has been definitely decided that the new Evangelical College will be built at La Fayette, Yamhill county. An effort was made to have it built at Dallas, but a better proposition was made to the committee. The people of La Fayette donated the court house, jail and the grounds on which the buildings stood, and a bonus of $2,000 has been subscribed by friends and citizens. The county seat has been removed from La Fayette to McMinnville, and not having any further use for the court house it will be remodeled into a school building. The $2,000 will be applied in repairing the building.

The circulars sent out by the Alpine Club asking for signatures to a petition to be presented to the legislature for the enactment of a law for the prevention of deer killing still continue to come in. The petition is already 132 feet in length.—Salem Journal.

COMPLIMENTARY TO MR. DRIVER.—REV. I. D. Driver, who answered "Moody's six questions," says the Oregonian has been requested by Mr. Moody to go to his North Hill, Miss., school and teach. Mr. Driver's mental qualities are as much, or perhaps more, those of a student and teacher than of a pastor. Mr. Moody stated that he purposes having Rev. Driver's answers to the six questions translated in six languages and scattered throughout the Old World. The questions are as follows: "What would you say to a man who believes that a Bible miracle sets aside the laws of nature?" "Why was Abel's offering accepted, and Cain's not?" "How can you prove the Bible true?" "How can Christ be an eternal son?" "Why was it necessary for Christ to die?" "Do you believe a man can be saved in an instant?"

If mothers studied their best interests, they would find that Dr. Hensley's Dandelion Tonic is the best household remedy. Many of the ills peculiar to females could be avoided by its use. It is as pleasant to take as a glass of wine. Sold by druggists.

Why people will continue to suffer from day to day, constantly complaining to their friends of pain in the back and loins and with every symptom of that terrible source, Bright's disease of the kidneys starting them in the face, is certainly a mystery when they might be made strong, healthy and happy by using Oregon Kidney Tea. It has wonderful medicinal properties and if given a fair trial, will prove a boon to those afflicted with disorders of the kidneys or urinary organs.

A lady who was afflicted with Salt Rheum on the face and other parts of the body for many years and who was treated by the best physicians on the Pacific Coast without any but temporary relief says, Dutard's Specific has entirely cured me of my troublesome complaint and although I have not used the medicine for many months, I have had no return of the disease. Sold by druggists.

Independence, Or. December 13. Both myself and wife have been for some years afflicted with diseases of the kidneys, and had tried many remedies without obtaining any permanent relief. About three months ago we were induced to try a package of Oregon Kidney Tea which has apparently entirely cured both of us, as since taking it two weeks we have felt no symptoms of the disease. We can heartily recommend it to others similarly affected as we believe it will do all that is claimed for it. M. I. Waitz.

Leahurg Items.

Jan. 6, 1889.

The holidays are now over, and everything is again quiet. Mr. John Anderson is lying very low with typhoid fever. Dr. Russell is attending on him.

The shooting match on Jan. 1 was not very well attended. One gent said that he would rather visit school than go to the shooting match.

The Xmas tree at Mr. Anderson's could not be beat. There were about sixty persons present and Santa Claus had a whole bundle of jokes which all enjoyed. After the tree the young folks enjoyed themselves dancing. There were a great many very nice presents received.

The exhibition given at the close of Miss Olla Bald's school was a grand success. The house was full and overflowing. It consisted of recitations, essays, tableaux, dialogues and the Leahurg Plaindealer, which had very many good and laughable jokes in it. All did credit to themselves and teacher.

We had a wedding in our midst on the afternoon of Jan. 2, '89. A large crowd assembled at the residence of Mr. Andy Godard, to be witness the marriage of Miss Mollie Godard and Mr. Joe Peilot. After the ceremony all partook of a nice dinner which consisted of every thing nice, and thereafter went home, wondering who would be the next to enter into married life.

Minnie Ozment is on the sick list. Born, to the wife of Wm. Hawley, a son. Mrs. Russell has been quite indisposed for the last few days.

L. E. Ward is so proud of his new chair that he will hardly let the "school marm" sit in it.

Spelling schools are now in vogue, one being held every Thursday evening at the Sinslaw school house.

In last Saturday night's debate the chief features were, "The Ants of China" and the Ducks of—who knows where.

A Sinslaw expert managed to get away with three dogs and a deer no long since. Two of the dogs belonged to L. Ward.

The literary exercises for next Saturday will be somewhat changed, having a spelling school instead of the usual declamations, essays, songs, etc.

Jan. 10, 1889.

Miss Clara Stouffer returned from Idaho, Dec. 31, 1888. Mrs. Markley has been visiting her daughter in Eugene the past week.

Mr. Charles McFarland has been sick from lung trouble but is convalescent now.

A number of our citizens went to Eugene last Thursday to hear Rev. Moody lecture.

Amarger and wife of Eugene were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kibbebeck, Sunday, the 6th inst.

A Mr. Babcock and family, son of the Rev. Babcock, arrived here from Minnesota the 31 of this month.

Mr. Joe Danewood returned to this place Wednesday evening from the O. P. R. where he has been laboring for some time.

VENITT.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of Mrs. R. Carey, who departed this life at Cottage Grove, Or., Jan. 8th, 1889, aged 55 years.

Grieve not, O loving ones bereaved, For her who leaves you thus; But draw aside the veil that hides The better land from us.

And see! the lark has touched the shore And 'mid the waiting throng, Friends and relatives welcome her, Whom they have looked for long.

Then drop the curtain tenderly, Shut out the sight of bliss; Oh, nevermore, we'll wish her back To such a land as this.

But when the boatman comes for us, When all our strife is over, We'll float along the stream and join The one who's gone before.
