the sun gave sufficient light to throw a shadow and form a circular rainbow. In every case the shadow and bow were seen in front of land, and never against the sky. When the sun rose pretty high, the characteristic peculiarity of the shadow was beautifully observed. As a thin wreath of condensed vapor came up the valley at a proper height. a resplendent bow formed round the shadow, while both seemed to stand up majestically in front of the observers, and then the shadow fell down upon the land, and the bow vanished as the mist passed on. About an hour later the sun again shone out, but much higher and stronger than before, and then they saw a brighter and sharper shadow of the peak, this time encircled by a double bow; and their own spectral arms were again visible. The shadow, the double bow, and giant oforms combined to make this phenomenon the most marked in the whole world."-Ascott R. Hope.

DOING ONE'S DUTY

The Highest Privilege and Truest Enjoyment of a True Man.

Most well-disposed persons think their time ought to be fairly divided between duties and pleasures, and their chief trouble of conscionce is as to the proper proportion of time to be assigned in the one direction or in the other. When a plain duty presses them, they are ready to attend to it; but when they have the privilege of enjoying themselves, they want to leave all thought of duty out of their minds. Yet as a matter of simple truth, one's greatest pleasure ought to be found in duty-doing; and one's pleasure ought never to be sought, or one's enjoyment to be found, outside of the plain path of duty. There is, in fact, no truer enjoyment to a true man than in the performance of an unmistakable duty; and there is no privilege so high as that of attending at the moment to that which ought to be attended to just then. Recreation, relaxation and diversion may be the supreme duty of the hour, and when this is the case they ought to be attended to accordingly. And again the straining of every nerve in the doing or the enduring for some earthly loved one, or for the One who is to be loved above all, ought to be a pleasure because it is a duty. He who does not enjoy duty-doing does not know how to enjoy himself in any way, or how to do
