

The Eugene City Guard.

Mill Creek Items.

March 21, 1890.

Mr. C. Cole will get a new stock of goods in a few days. He also contemplates building an addition to his store this summer.

Mr. J. T. Gaerte lost a nice cow a few days ago.

School commenced Thursday on Mill Creek. Miss Millican is the ruler.

Mr. W. McCough is going to California in the near future on a planure and mining expedition. He has rented his place to George Jordan.

Mr. A. L. Montgomery has his mother's farming land rented. He also has one of the finest stock ranches on Mill Creek.

Messrs. Frank and Irvin Lilly of Pendleton have taken ranches on Mill Creek. They are well pleased. Two cooks wanted.

There still remain two or three good locations on Mill Creek open for settlement.

George Whitbeck is mad and says his loss in Mohawk have to go. He is helping put in a flood dam. We know he is a man that always does his part.

Mrs. Barr has gone on a visit to her son at Lebanon, and also to be treated for her cancer.

Miss Ella Burbridge intends teaching school soon.

Mr. Holcomb has made a nice lot of boards.

Mr. Werthally has sold his place and bought at the mill.

Mr. Sam Putney, who has fits met with quite an accident a while back, while alone had a spell and fell on the hot stove burning his face terribly but is better at present.

Many cattle have ranged the hills of Mill Creek and Mohawk this winter without being fed and are looking well.

Several dogs on Mill creek have been killed for destroying imaginary sheep. People get too fast some time.

Big Risk.

The Immigration is Enormous.

Oregonian.

"How large is the immigration this year?" asked a reporter of Assistant General Passenger Agent Charlton, of the Northern Pacific:

"The population of Oregon and Washington will be increased by many thousands," was the reply. "If you were to go East and talk with the ticket agents of the different roads they would all tell you that the great inquiry is for the northwest. Thousands of people are settling all over Oregon and Washington territory, and there is an unusual demand for land, principally timber land. Many are settling on Puget Sound, and the little towns between Portland and Tacoma are building up rapidly. Last summer the Northern Pacific ran an extra train to accommodate the travel, but withdrew it during the winter, thinking the immigration would fall off. Instead, owing to the extraordinary winter, the volume of immigration increased, and for some time it has been necessary to run an extra train as far west as Spokane Falls, to carry the immigrants."

John Scott Harison, brother of the president, is talked of as the Democratic candidate for mayor of Kansas City.

Governor Waterman of California says he wouldn't accept a re-nomination if the salary were a million dollars a year.

Insurance companies doing business in Oregon are now compelled to have a paid up capital of $100,000.

Time changes even the landscape. In Warner valley, a short time ago, 300 tons of hay, valued at $1500, and owned by E. F. McConnaughty and Wm. Rossburned. In 1874 the spot where the fire took place was surveyed as Warner Lake. Goose Lake has subsided five feet since 1869.

Twentieth Century.

The twentieth century begins the instant after midnight, Dec. 31, 1900. The reason is this: The first century didn't end with the year 100, but with the year 101, the second with the year 200, the nineteenth with the year 1799—just as your first hundred dollars ends with number 100, and your second begins with 101 and ends with 200. Some people absolutely won't see this.
