ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child it restores the mother. Price 25c a bottle.

Mr. C. J. Smith, traveling salesman for Belford, Clark & Co., Chicago, had the misfortune to sprain his wrist most severely. "I was suffering great pain," he says, "and my wrist was badly swollen; a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved the pain and reduced the swelling in one night, and in consequence my work and business was not interrupted, for which I am very grateful. I can recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm from personal experience." Sold by Osburn & Co.

When a person tells you they never had such a cold in their life take their words for it and advise them to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure. For coughs, colds and hoarseness it has no experience. Sold by Osburn & Co.

Rich food, and lack of exercise, during the winter months, causes the system to become torpid and the blood impure. A dose or two of St. Patrick's Pills will cleanse and invigorate the system, purify the blood and do more good than a dollar bottle of blood purifier. Sold by Osburn & Co.

A person is seldom sick, when their bowels are regular and never well when they are irregular. Bear this in mind and keep your bowels regular by an occasional dose of St. Patrick's Pills. Sold by Osburn & Co.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs! All your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, asthma, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Rose's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Silver and Summer Lakes.

A correspondent of the Lakeview Examiner says:

We visited Summer Lake river, where it jumps out of the ground at the north end of the valley. It rarely deserves the name of being a great curiosity, rising as it does in half a dozen springs, each of which covers from half to an acre of ground, perfectly clear and pure. The ponds lie in one continuous chain, the first running something like 1,500 inches of water, when after it runs through the second pond there must be nearly 3,000 inches of water, and so on through all the ponds until there is quite a large body of water, which is not utilized by anyone. This river could be made to irrigate from seven to ten sections of the finest sage brush land in Oregon.

Silver Lake is going dry very rapidly owing to the absence of any snows to speak of in the mountains, and no streams running into it as feeders. Silver creek don't touch the lake any more, it being used for irrigating purposes. The shore of the lake in many places is now half a mile out of the original line, and the bed of the lake is being plowed and sown to grain in several places. As the lake is not much more than 45 feet deep, it is thought, with another snowless winter it will go entirely dry.

If any of our incredulous readers think that Chinese do not quickly pick up the evil and winnow the good of American civilization, let them visit the saloon on Alder street near Third just back of the Royal theatre, and see them stand at the bar and ask for "bianchi" and "vino bianco" play fifteen all pool, and call shots, crying out "side pocket," etc., and what is worst of all, gamble at dominoes, tan and dice shaking in full view, notwithstanding the law against such pastime and the fact that white men are debarred the fascination of taro and stud.

A Street R. E. Accident.

SEATTLE, W. T., May 12.—This afternoon at 5:30 o'clock a terrible accident occurred on the Front Street cable road on the corner of Pine and Second streets. As dummy No. 2 came down on the Second street hill the brake refused to work. The car obtained great momentum and in making the turn into Pine street the passengers on the left side were thrown off.

Rich and Poor.

Leading physicians recommend these pills for Stomach and Liver Troubles, Costiveness, Biliousness, and Sick Headache; also, for Rheumatism, Jaundice, and Neuralgia. They are sugar-coated; contain no calomel; are prompt, but mild, in operation; and, therefore, the very best medicine for Family Use, as well as for Travelers and Tourists.

Emil Weber Killed by Sandy Olds.

Emil Weber, a well-known gambler, was shot and killed by "Sandy" Olds, another gambler, in front of the Masonic temple on Third and Alder streets, Portland, about 1:30 Friday afternoon, May 10th. The two men met on the corner, and after exchanging a few words, Olds drew a revolver and fired at Weber, the ball striking him behind the right ear, coming out of the left side of the neck. Weber fell into the gutter, while Olds dispatched three more balls into his victim, one striking him in the middle of the spine, another in the back a few inches lower than the first, and the third in the back of the head. Weber never spoke after the first shot. Olds walked in the direction of the police station, but was met by an officer, who took him in charge.

In an interview a few minutes after his arrest, Olds stated that Weber had been dogging him a long time. When he met him on the street he saw him draw something from his pocket which he supposed was a pistol. He then fired. An eye witness says that when the two men met Weber drew a heavy brass weight from his pocket just before Olds fired.

There had been bad blood between the two for a long time. They had a fight in the street about a week before, and trouble had been expected when the men met.

The affair caused intense excitement, and in a few minutes the streets in the vicinity of the scene were packed.

Weber was a native of Ohio, and came to Portland about six years ago, and engaged in the gambling business, in which he made a considerable fortune. The greater part of which was dissipated in a protracted divorce suit. He was generous so far as money went, but had no faculty for retaining friends. Even his brothers were always arrayed against him in his numerous law suits.

The Coroner's jury brought in a verdict of murder against Olds.

A Wire Water Witch.

The Milton Eagle tells the following about the way water is found by Messrs. Watson and Dean, who have been experimenting on Eureka Flat:

"Watson seated himself in a buggy with a steel wire rod grasped in his hands. On each end of this rod were two copper-wire handles, one for each hand, and the rod itself was composed of various kinds of wire twisted around the main piece. The shape of the rod was something like the letter 'U' the two ends forming the handles and the bow turning upward. Speeding along in the buggy, Mr. Watson held firmly to the handles of his rod until the first four miles were passed over, when suddenly the rod began to turn, not in a straight direction, but diagonally with the rod in a twisted manner. The team was directed in obedience to Mr. Watson's directions and very soon the rod bent straight down and he signified his willingness to guarantee water at no great depth beneath the spot on which they stood. Many farms were visited, on some of which the rod refused to turn and on others it would quickly bend over. Mr. Watson claims that it will not turn over stagnant or seepage water, but only where live underground currents exist. He states that a number of his wells along the Northern Pacific were discovered while riding on a passenger train at 30 to 40 miles per hour.

Mr. Watson has obtained $16,000 worth of contracts from prominent farmers on the flat, among them being Messrs. Henry, Laman, Woodworth, Moorehead, Upton, Thompson, Welch, Barnaby, Painter and others. To many of them he has guaranteed 500 to 1000 gallons per day or no pay for his work or expenses. He sent for his machinery plant and work will commence in a few weeks, and the efficiency of his divining rod will soon be known, though it has proved an unfailing servant at many points along the Northern route.

Minnesota's New Law Regarding Executions.

The new law pertaining to executions in Minnesota is a peculiar one. Under its provisions the prisoner is to be kept in solitary confinement and to see no one but his family, his lawyer and his spiritual adviser. He is to be executed before sunrise and may invite three persons to be present. The sheriff invites six persons beside the surgeon. The most unique feature of the law, however, is the provision which makes it a misdemeanor for any newspaper to print anything more about the matter than the mere announcement. This is for the purpose of preventing the circumstances and sensational accounts of executions usually printed. There is to be an execution in the northern part of the State soon and it will be interesting to see what course the papers will pursue. The same provision is made in the recently enacted New York law, but it has not been tested. A number of lawyers have expressed the opinion that the newspaper feature of the new law will not hold water.

Unnatural Father Held.

Frank Jarvis, a large, robust granger, of Rooster Rock, charged by his daughter, Mrs. D. W. Ross, with the heinous crime of incest, had an examination before Justice Tuttle at Portland Saturday.

Mrs. Ross, accompanied by her three weeks-old babe, and attended by her husband, was in court bright and early. She told the stand, and amid an abundant flow of tears, related in a very strong case against Others injured are Ed. S. Gill, agent of the Grimes Devises company, left ankle sprained; Dr. A. E. Gray, face and head cut.

Unnatural Father Held.

For a year and a half Frank McGowan, a young man employed by the inventor Edison and who has just returned to New York, has been wandering through the unbroken forests and swamps of South America in search of a particular kind of bamboo which Mr. Edison has found to be invaluable in electric lights. The adventures of Mr. McGowan would fill a book. He has fought with wild beasts, braved crocodiles and snakes, forded rivers, waded swamps and scaled Cordillera peaks. He has ascended the Amazon river 2300 miles, gone 110 days without eating meat, and nearly as many days without changing his shirt. All this he did, and his health is somewhat shattered, but he comes back with the precious bamboo, and to know Mr. Edison is to feel sure that the plucky and able lieutenant will be properly rewarded.
