THIS IS NO IDLE BOAST,

But call and price them. Remember the place:—The New Three Story Brick, corner Willamette and Eighth St., Eugene City, Oregon.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and capillaries leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Bos-che's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

What Is It?

That produces that beautifully soft complexion and leaves no traces of its application or injurious effects? The answer, Wisdom's Roborant accomplishes all this, and is pronounced by ladies of taste and refinement to be the most delightful toilet article ever produced. Warranted harmless and matchless. F. M. Wilkins, agent, Eugene City.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25c a bottle.

Take Notice.

That A. Golden has the largest, finest and best stock of Queensware, Crockery and Glassware ever brought to Eugene. Give him a call and he will prove it to you.

Mr. C. J. Smith, traveling salesman for Belford, Clark & Co., Chicago, had the misfortune to sprain his wrist most severely.
"I was suffering great pain," he says, "and my wrist was badly swollen; a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm relieved the pain and reduced the swelling in one night, and in consequence my work and business was not interrupted, for which I am very grateful. I can recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm from personal experience." Sold by Osburn & Co.

When a person tells you they never had such a cold in their life take their words for it and advise them to use Chamberlain's colds and hoarseness it has no experience.

A Waterspout.

News has reached Penitenti that the waterspout Wednesday afternoon, which caused the small tributaries of Birch creek to overflow their banks, resulted not alone in damage to property—human life was lost.
The two-story house of L. Spicer on Johnson creek was carried away by the rush of water, and with it Mrs. Spicer. The unfortunate lady's body was found some distance down the creek this morning at 8 o'clock.
The deceased had been married but a few months, and was a niece of John Capp.
No further damage is reported, but on all the little creeks in the neighborhood of the waterspout destruction of property must have resulted, as the volume of water in every canyon is described as fearful. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Horton, of Penitenti, who were crossing Stewart creek at the time, narrowly escaped being carried away by the moving mass of water.
The waterspout is said to have touched in the neighborhood of Milton also. Beyond a lively shower, no evidence of its presence was felt in Penitenti—East Oregonian, May 31.

Umatilla.

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer: One of the oldest and most historic towns on the Columbia is Umatilla. Back in the sixties it was the shipping point for the country east of the mountains. Heavily loaded wagons and long pack trains could be seen leaving the warehouses nearly every morning, bound for points in the interior—some for Boise, Owyhee or the Blackfoot mines.
The railroad has worked a revolution in this, and now the little hamlet clusters around the depot. Some of the old landmarks remain, but are rapidly falling into decay. The stone warehouses in which were stored goods of all kinds for the interior are unbuilding to ruin, and in a few years will hardly be distinguished from the sand and debris surrounding. This is what might be termed a lunch station, and frequently passengers have a few minutes to satisfy their hunger or assuage their thirst. This, and railroad employees, furnish the principal business of the town, and its former glories have departed.

The Teacher

Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sas-saparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
"Every spring and fall I take a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H.
Eastman, Stoughton, Mass.
"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health." —Miss Thirza L. Cramer, Palmyra, Md.
"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.

A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H.
Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sas-saparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health.
I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Molunus, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. St. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.
"I suffered from Nervous Prostration, with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

A HEART RENDING CATASTROPHE.

A City of 30,000 Destroyed—10,000 Lives Lost by Flood.

No more horrible loss of life ever occurred than happened in the Conemaugh valley in Pennsylvania Friday of last week. Floods had raised the waters of an artificial lake covering several square miles, and the dam which held the water burst, the water rushing down the valley in a wall twenty to thirty feet high destroying populous towns and a city of 30,000 inhabitants. The estimates place the loss of human life at the appalling number of 10,000.

A correspondent of the Salem Journal acquainted with the locality, writes:

The destruction of Johnstown, Pa., is one of the most terrible calamities that has ever befallen any city. The tragedy would not have been much more harrowing and blood-curdling if the earth had opened and gulped the entire city down. On my return from Silverton Saturday evening and first learning of the disaster, I was completely dazed, and it seemed only as a horrible dream, which on waking would disappear, and beautiful Johnstown, my old home, stand secure with its streets teeming with business, life and happiness.

Johnstown, the largest town in Cambria county, situated on a broad flat at the confluence of Stony creek and Conemaugh river, two streams of nearly equal size, is completely surrounded by mountains, and occupies the site of an old Indian town called Kiskapung, and was named after an old German, Joseph John, (or Yahn), as he spelled it, who settled there about 1792, or just two years after the first white settlement came into the county. I have been all the Conemaugh, Stony creek and Kiskapung rivers, and am, perhaps, as familiar with all the country as you may find Stony creek flows into the Conemaugh with a course direct from the north; Conemaugh river's course is from the northeast, and the south fork or main tributary of the Conemaugh has its source on the summit of the Allegheny mountains, about twenty miles east of Johnstown, and its course is northwest following the course of the river. The South Fork is a beautiful mountain stream, clear as crystal, and famous for fine trout.

The "Conemaugh lake" is a myth. There never was a lake where the great reservoir was built. The great sheet of water occupied a rectangular basin or plain, bounded in by high hills on the south side, and its form width, but suddenly narrowing down to a thousand or even less feet at the foot of breast of the dam. When this great body of water, reinforced by the heavy rains and cloudbursts, suddenly rolled down the narrow channel of the Conemaugh, about fifteen miles to Johnstown, our lake may be thoroughly familiar with the valley and its towns, and to some extent realize the awfulness of the dire occasion. The account as given by Saturday's telegrams in relation to the different towns clustered together at Johnstown is in the main correct. What is known as Johnstown to the traveler really consists of numbers of boroughs, just particularly one city, as it lies in one continuous body, extending along in the valley in horseshoe form from Franklin and East Conemaugh boroughs at the northwest extremity to Morrisville and Coopersdale at the northwest extremity, a distance of six miles and containing 20,000 or more souls. As every borough, where it is named, was nearly equally exposed to the fury of the dreadful elements of destruction, it is only a marvel that the destruction of life is not much greater even than as reported. Between the boroughs already named, occupying the extremes of this horse-shoe shaped city are Woodville, Conemaugh, Johnstown proper, Prospect, Aldridge, which named the great Cambria iron works, and Cambria boroughs.

Johnstown has for many years enjoyed the distinction of being one of the most prosperous and wealthy cities of Pennsylvania. Alas! poor, devoted city! how bitter, indeed, is the cry of woe! Johnstown had many costly substantial buildings, private and public, business and residence. It was also a city of fine, beautiful churches, one superlative of this kind alone costing nearly a quarter of a million. If the city is wrecked as badly as reported ten million dollars will not meet covered the loss of property.

The St. Helens must say that unscrupulous men from different places have been advertising the selection of choice timber lands and running in strangers who were unacquainted with the country, or section lines, and showing them a choice body of timber land, and representing that the timber shown was on the piece selected for them, and charging the purchaser from $75 to $100 for selecting and showing them their claim and giving the numbers of the land, when it would afterwards transpire that the same body of timber had been used to locate a dozen or more claims on, and when the same line were run by the owner and found their land on an adjoining burn, or on ben-lock or knotty red fir land that is totally worthless for timber purposes. Many of the persons taking timber claims are direct from the prairie states, and don't know a hemlock from a barberry, and as they have a craze to get hold of timber land readily fall victim to the timber sharks.
