EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1889.
A Kick Amongst the Brethren.

A Washington dispatch in the Statesman announces that Gen. W. H. Beaulieu has sent in his resignation as superintendent of the Indian training school at Chemawa. It is stated that the Oregon delegation in the Indian school is a man of large experience in Indian school work, but he will not make a better man for the place than Gen. Beaulieu, nor will he give better satisfaction to the real friends of the school here or elsewhere. The R. V. M. Irwin has no doubt done more for the Oregon delegation in a political way than has Gen. Beaulieu; but he is not a better man for the school in any other respect. It should be free from the miserableickerings of politicians and all their paltry and greedy friends. This school has been unfortunately in the past to deserve a good superintendent; and if Rev. Mr. Irwin can make a better man for the school, he will make just such an officer as the Statesman (R. V.)
