

EUGENE SHOEOING SHOP.

MELSON & SCOTT, Props.

The only Shop in Eugene
USING HAND MADE SHOES.

Interfering, Knee Hitting, Forging, and all Faulty Feet cured without extra charge.

Horses sent for and returned to any part of the city.

Shoing Racing and Trotting Horses a specialty.

On Seventh street, between Willamette and Olive streets, in Cleaver's old Machinery Hall.

GEO. F. CRAW,

POSTOFFICE
Cigar store,
Eugene City, Oregon.

OVERLAND TO CALIFORNIA,

VIA
Southern Pacific Co's Line,
THE MT. SHASTA ROUTE.

Time between Eugene and San Francisco, 33 hours.

CALIFORNIA EXPRESS TRAINS BUS DAILY
Between Portland and San Francisco.

South	North
4:00 p.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 10:45 a.m. Portland
7:45 a.m. Ar Eugene	Lv 4:15 a.m. Portland
7:45 a.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 1:00 p.m. Portland

LOCAL PASSENGER TRAIN DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAY.)

8:00 a.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 9:00 a.m. Portland
12:40 p.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 1:00 p.m. Portland
2:40 p.m. Ar Eugene	Lv 9:00 a.m. Portland

PULLMAN SLEEPING CARRIAGES.

For accommodation of Second Class Passengers, attached to Express Trains.

The S. P. Co's Ferry makes connection with all the regular trains on the East Side Division from foot of F Street Portland.

West Side Division.
BETWEEN PORTLAND AND CORVALLIS.
MAIL TRAIN DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAY.)

7:30 a.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 6:20 p.m. Portland
12:25 p.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 1:30 p.m. Corvallis

AT Albany and Corvallis connect with trains of Oregon Pacific Railroad.

EXPRESS TRAIN DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAY.)

4:50 p.m. Lv Eugene	Ar 9:30 a.m. Portland
8:00 p.m. Ar Eugene	Lv 5:45 a.m. McMinnville

THROUGH TICKETS to all Points
South and East
VIA CALIFORNIA.

For full information regarding rates, maps, etc., call on Company's agent at Eugene.
R. KOEHLER, E. P. ROGERS,
Manager, Ast. G. F. and Pass Agt.

THE YAQUINA ROUTE.

OREGON PACIFIC RAILROAD
AND
OREGON DEVELOPMENT CO'S STEAMSHIP LINE.

225 MILES SHORTER, 20 HOURS LESS TIME
Than by other route. First-class through Passenger and Freight line from Portland and all points in the WILLAMETTE VALLEY
To and from
San Francisco, Cal.

O. and U. trains connect at Albany and Corvallis. The above trains connect at Yaquina with the Oregon Development Company's Steamship line between Yaquina and San Francisco.

For information apply to C. C. HODGE,
Acting Gen'l Frt & Pass Agt.
Oregon Pacific R.R. Co.
SAILING DATES.

From Yaquina.	Tuesday, October 1
Willamette Valley.	Sunday, " 12
"	Wednesday, " 23
From San Francisco.	Monday, Oct 7
"	Friday, " 18
"	Tuesday, " 29

This Company reserves the right to change sailing dates without notice.

Passengers from Portland and other Willamette valley points can make close connections with the trains of the Yaquina route at Albany and Corvallis, and if destined to San Francisco, should arrange to arrive at Yaquina the evening before date of sailing.

Passenger and Freight rates the lowest
C. H. HAWKELL, Jr.,
Gen. Frt & Pass Agt.,
Oregon Development Co.,
304 Montgomery St., San Francisco.

C. HODES,

Keeps on hand Fine
LIQUORS, WINES, CIGARS AND A
POOL AND BILLIARD TABLE.

Willamette street, between Eighth and Ninth.

E. R. SKIPWORTH,

Attorney-at-Law,
EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

Office—Upstairs in Register Block, first door to the left.

Will do a general law practice in all the Courts of the State. All business promptly attended to.

HOFFMAN HOUSE

Between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said date. At 11 o'clock, A. M. of that day.

EUGENE, Oregon, Nov. 29, 1889.

JOHN M. SLOAN,
Sheriff of Lane County, Oregon.

DR. JOSEPH P. GILL,

Can be found at his office or residence when not professionally engaged.

Residence on Eighth street, opposite Presbyterian Church

Boot & Shoe Store

A. HUNT, Prop.

Will hereafter keep a complete stock of Ladies' Misses' and Children's SHOES.

BUTTON BOOTS,
Slippers, White and Black Sandals,
FINE KID SHOES.

MEN'S AND BOY'S
BOOTS & SHOES

And in fact everything in the Boot and Shoe line, to which I intend to devote my special attention.

—MY GOODS ARE FIRST CLASS.—
And guaranteed as represented, and will be sold for the lowest prices that a good article can be afforded.

A. HUNT

Administrator's Sale!

REAL PROPERTY.

In the matter of the estate of Samuel Meek, deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN BY virtue of an order duly made by the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, in the above matter, at the regular December, 1889, term thereof, ordering the administrator of said estate to sell the lands hereinafter described to satisfy claims against said estate and expenses of administration.

I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, at the Court House door in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, on Saturday, the 4th day of January, 1890, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., to-wit: at 1 o'clock p. m. of said day, the following described real property belonging to said estate, to-wit:

The Contention land claim of Thomas Graham and Sarah Graham, his wife: E 1/2 of N E 1/4, and lots 7 and 8 of Sec 31, in T 15 S, R 4 W, W. M., containing 139.20 acres, in Lane County, Oregon;

ALSO

The W 1/2 of the South East 1/4 of section 29, T 15 S, R 4 W, W. M., containing 80 acres, in Lane County, Oregon;

ALSO

Commencing at the N. W. corner of the donation land claim of Hugh Love, Not. number 2871, in T 15 S, R 4 W, thence south on west boundary of said claim 40 chains, most 3/62 chains, north 40 chains, and thence East 3 1/2 chains to the place of beginning, containing 12.10 acres, in Lane County, Oregon;

ALSO

The donation land claim of Paul Sumners, Not. 2955, and claim number in sections 4 and 5, in T 16 S, R 4 W, W. M., containing 320 acres, in Lane County, Oregon;

ALSO

The North East 1/4 of the South West 1/4, and the North 1/2 of the South East 1/4 of section 4, and North West 1/4 of the South West 1/4 of section 3, all in T 16 S, R 4 W, W. M., and containing 160 acres, in Lane County, Oregon;

ALSO

The East 1/2 of the North 1/2 of the West 1/2 of the donation land claim of G. W. Meek, Not. 6554, and claim number in sections 3, 4, 9 and 10, in T 16 S, R 4 W, W. M., and containing 240 acres, in Lane County, Oregon;

ALSO

The South East 1/4 of the South West 1/4 of section 4, in T 16 S, R 4 W, W. M., containing 40 acres, in Lane County, Oregon, except 33 feet square in S E corner of said tract two feet from E- and line and 10 1/2 feet from the south line thereof.

Dated, December 7, 1889.

A. A. MEER,
Administrator of Estate of Samuel Meek, deceased.

Eugene National Bank

EUGENE CITY, OREGON.

PAID UP CAPITAL, $50,000
SURPLUS FUND, 10,000

Transacts a general banking business.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:
F. B. DUNN, F. W. OSBORN, J. C. CHURCH, S. M. YORAN, J. B. HARRIS, CHARLES LAUER.

Tutt's Pills

CURE
Malaria, Fever and Ague,
Dumb Chills, Wind Colic,
Bilious Attacks, etc.

They produce regular, natural evacuations, never griping, and are a daily business. As a family medicine, they should have a place in every household. Price, 25 cents per box.

Sold Everywhere.
Office, 44 Murray St., N. Y.

J. S. LUCKEY,
SALER IN
Clocks, Watches, Chains, Jewelry, Etc.
Repairing Promptly Executed.
All Work Warranted.

J. S. LUCKEY.

WHEAT SACKS, HOP BURLAP, Kiln Cloth,

FOR SALE BY
S. H. FRIENDLY.

Northern Pacific Railroad.

POPULAR ROUTE FROM PORTLAND TO THE EAST.

TWO TRAINS DAILY
No Change of Cars of Any Class
No other line runs Palace Dining Cars between Portland and the East.

THE FINEST
EMIGRANT SLEEPING CARS
In the world are run on all through trains, day and night, without change and free of charge.

PULLMAN PALACE SLEEPING CARS.
The Finest, Best and Safest in Use Anywhere.

SEE THAT YOUR TICKETS READ via the Northern Pacific R R

Portland Ticket Office No 2 Washington St.
Depot Ticket Office over 1st and G, Portland.
A. B. CHARLTON, Gen'l Pass Agt.,
Northern Pacific Railroad,
21 First St., Cor. Washington, Portland, Or.

Sheriff's Sale.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT by virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court of Lane County, State of Oregon, No. 20, 1889, upon a judgment rendered in said Court on the 30th day of October, 1889, in favor of the Board of School Land Commissioners of the State of Oregon, plaintiff and against J. S. Ecker and M. A. Ecker, his wife, defendants, for the sum of three hundred and nineteen dollars and eighty cents ($319.80) and fifty dollars ($50) attorney fees, together with the costs and accruing costs and expenses of sale and a decree for the sale of the following described property, to-wit: The North West one-quarter of the South West one-quarter and the South West one-quarter of the North West one-quarter of Section 13, in Township 16 South, Range five West, containing eighty acres more or less, all in Lane County, Oregon.

Now, therefore, by virtue of said writ and to satisfy said judgment and interest at the rate of eight per cent. per annum from the 30th day of October, 1889, together with costs and accruing expenses of sale, I will sell the above described premises at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in hand at the Court House door in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, on

MONDAY, JANUARY 6, 1890,
Between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said date. At 11 o'clock, A. M. of that day.

EUGENE, Oregon, Nov. 29, 1889.

JOHN M. SLOAN,
Sheriff of Lane County, Oregon.

Administratrix Notice.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the undersigned Mrs. Lena Reed has been by the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, duly appointed administratrix of the estate of C. M. Reed, deceased, and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same to said administratrix at the law office of L. B. Hays in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, within six months from the date hereof.

L. B. HAYS, Adm'r.

Dated Nov. 16, 1889.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clearly based upon the principles that govern the professor who knows anything about it. Waiving this, we extract a few points of public interest:

There are 26,000 Post offices in the country, and 150,000 employees. During the year ending June 30, 1889, the Post Office Department sent out 20,000 of these and replaced them with material better suited to their taste. It is a pity that they stop with June; for since that time the firing process has been much more rapid. It is estimated that there have now been 60,000 discharges.

Mr. Wannamaker expresses his desire to get rid of Sunday work in the Post office so far as possible. He believes that penny postage will ultimately come, but is opposed to it at present. He wants postal savings banks, after the British style. He painfully exhibits how the Western Union knocked him out on telegraph rates, but stops short of recommending it.

He has a deficit in his fiscal year, of $3,454,017.21—the worst showing, if memory serves, since the war. A few years ago his Post-office paid for itself.

If there is any interest in the Post-office it has escaped attention.

Lexington, Or., Budget: The Oregonian says that chittin or sacred bark, which is used for medicinal purposes, is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City and is now worth twenty cents a pound, a fall of sixty cents on the price commanded a few months ago. Yes, indeed; chittin bark is used for medicinal purposes, and probably has been since the Willamette valley was first settled. It is quite possible that the stuff has some virtue as a blood-purifier and remedy for or preventive of fever and ague, but by the average Webfooter it is industriously chewed for every ill, real or imaginary, with which he may be afflicted. He carries it in his pocket and offers it as a cure for the most diverse ailments, from a friendly chew. The stronger would laugh it to be pleasant to the taste, but it isn't. On the contrary it combines the bitterness of the bitterest of all the bitterest things in the materia medica. In comparison with it the dearest hore of woman scorned is so like a sweet as honey. Nothing but a trial of it can convey to the reader any idea of the taste of the sovereign of the Webfooter, and the rash experimenter would be glad to raise his mouth with kerosene. In this is an argument for the churchman, for an all-wise Providence who planted malaria and chittin trees in the same vicinity also endowed the inhabitants with palates capable of relishing chittin bark.

Most of our readers will remember the sensational items in the Eastern papers and associated press dispatches a few years ago about Senator Jones, the Florida Senator, falling in love with a young lady, following her up and making love to her promiscuously, the affair terminating in Jones becoming the laughing stock of the country. The young lady is now in Seattle, where she resides. She is really a charming young lady and is said to have inherited the heart of a former resident of Oregon, now in the newspaper business there.

It Pays.—That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons have purchased there this month, and nearly every reader in the N. W. Empire is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, not having the least faith in the place, but they are selling it at an advance on the strength of advertising which the place is receiving.

The Oregonian remarks that the Linn county business council, Patrons of the Industry, are taking a praiseworthy interest in their brother farmers in Wasco county who were left in straitened circumstances by the partial failure of the wheat crop last season. Hon. R. A. Irvine was delegated to visit Wasco county and inquire into the necessities of the farmers in that section.

The new state of Washington wants an annotated code of its laws. Mr. Hill, who is the annotator of Oregon's code, offers to furnish it all printed and bound for $21,000, while local parties offer to do it for about $7,000, yet some of the legislators prefer to give the job to Mr. Hill. This is what a printer would call a "fat take."

Many years ago ex-Senator J. K. Kelley, of Portland, took a piece of land supposed to be nearly worthless, lying near Astoria, in payment of an attorney fee which the owner of the land owed him, and could not pay any other way. Last week he sold it or part of it, for $100,000.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clearly based upon the principles that govern the professor who knows anything about it. Waiving this, we extract a few points of public interest:

There are 26,000 Post offices in the country, and 150,000 employees. During the year ending June 30, 1889, the Post Office Department sent out 20,000 of these and replaced them with material better suited to their taste. It is a pity that they stop with June; for since that time the firing process has been much more rapid. It is estimated that there have now been 60,000 discharges.

Mr. Wannamaker expresses his desire to get rid of Sunday work in the Post office so far as possible. He believes that penny postage will ultimately come, but is opposed to it at present. He wants postal savings banks, after the British style. He painfully exhibits how the Western Union knocked him out on telegraph rates, but stops short of recommending it.

He has a deficit in his fiscal year, of $3,454,017.21—the worst showing, if memory serves, since the war. A few years ago his Post-office paid for itself.

If there is any interest in the Post-office it has escaped attention.

Lexington, Or., Budget: The Oregonian says that chittin or sacred bark, which is used for medicinal purposes, is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City and is now worth twenty cents a pound, a fall of sixty cents on the price commanded a few months ago. Yes, indeed; chittin bark is used for medicinal purposes, and probably has been since the Willamette valley was first settled. It is quite possible that the stuff has some virtue as a blood-purifier and remedy for or preventive of fever and ague, but by the average Webfooter it is industriously chewed for every ill, real or imaginary, with which he may be afflicted. He carries it in his pocket and offers it as a cure for the most diverse ailments, from a friendly chew. The stronger would laugh it to be pleasant to the taste, but it isn't. On the contrary it combines the bitterness of the bitterest of all the bitterest things in the materia medica. In comparison with it the dearest hore of woman scorned is so like a sweet as honey. Nothing but a trial of it can convey to the reader any idea of the taste of the sovereign of the Webfooter, and the rash experimenter would be glad to raise his mouth with kerosene. In this is an argument for the churchman, for an all-wise Providence who planted malaria and chittin trees in the same vicinity also endowed the inhabitants with palates capable of relishing chittin bark.

Most of our readers will remember the sensational items in the Eastern papers and associated press dispatches a few years ago about Senator Jones, the Florida Senator, falling in love with a young lady, following her up and making love to her promiscuously, the affair terminating in Jones becoming the laughing stock of the country. The young lady is now in Seattle, where she resides. She is really a charming young lady and is said to have inherited the heart of a former resident of Oregon, now in the newspaper business there.

It Pays.—That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons have purchased there this month, and nearly every reader in the N. W. Empire is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, not having the least faith in the place, but they are selling it at an advance on the strength of advertising which the place is receiving.

The Oregonian remarks that the Linn county business council, Patrons of the Industry, are taking a praiseworthy interest in their brother farmers in Wasco county who were left in straitened circumstances by the partial failure of the wheat crop last season. Hon. R. A. Irvine was delegated to visit Wasco county and inquire into the necessities of the farmers in that section.

The new state of Washington wants an annotated code of its laws. Mr. Hill, who is the annotator of Oregon's code, offers to furnish it all printed and bound for $21,000, while local parties offer to do it for about $7,000, yet some of the legislators prefer to give the job to Mr. Hill. This is what a printer would call a "fat take."

Many years ago ex-Senator J. K. Kelley, of Portland, took a piece of land supposed to be nearly worthless, lying near Astoria, in payment of an attorney fee which the owner of the land owed him, and could not pay any other way. Last week he sold it or part of it, for $100,000.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clearly based upon the principles that govern the professor who knows anything about it. Waiving this, we extract a few points of public interest:

There are 26,000 Post offices in the country, and 150,000 employees. During the year ending June 30, 1889, the Post Office Department sent out 20,000 of these and replaced them with material better suited to their taste. It is a pity that they stop with June; for since that time the firing process has been much more rapid. It is estimated that there have now been 60,000 discharges.

Mr. Wannamaker expresses his desire to get rid of Sunday work in the Post office so far as possible. He believes that penny postage will ultimately come, but is opposed to it at present. He wants postal savings banks, after the British style. He painfully exhibits how the Western Union knocked him out on telegraph rates, but stops short of recommending it.

He has a deficit in his fiscal year, of $3,454,017.21—the worst showing, if memory serves, since the war. A few years ago his Post-office paid for itself.

If there is any interest in the Post-office it has escaped attention.

Lexington, Or., Budget: The Oregonian says that chittin or sacred bark, which is used for medicinal purposes, is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City and is now worth twenty cents a pound, a fall of sixty cents on the price commanded a few months ago. Yes, indeed; chittin bark is used for medicinal purposes, and probably has been since the Willamette valley was first settled. It is quite possible that the stuff has some virtue as a blood-purifier and remedy for or preventive of fever and ague, but by the average Webfooter it is industriously chewed for every ill, real or imaginary, with which he may be afflicted. He carries it in his pocket and offers it as a cure for the most diverse ailments, from a friendly chew. The stronger would laugh it to be pleasant to the taste, but it isn't. On the contrary it combines the bitterness of the bitterest of all the bitterest things in the materia medica. In comparison with it the dearest hore of woman scorned is so like a sweet as honey. Nothing but a trial of it can convey to the reader any idea of the taste of the sovereign of the Webfooter, and the rash experimenter would be glad to raise his mouth with kerosene. In this is an argument for the churchman, for an all-wise Providence who planted malaria and chittin trees in the same vicinity also endowed the inhabitants with palates capable of relishing chittin bark.

Most of our readers will remember the sensational items in the Eastern papers and associated press dispatches a few years ago about Senator Jones, the Florida Senator, falling in love with a young lady, following her up and making love to her promiscuously, the affair terminating in Jones becoming the laughing stock of the country. The young lady is now in Seattle, where she resides. She is really a charming young lady and is said to have inherited the heart of a former resident of Oregon, now in the newspaper business there.

It Pays.—That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons have purchased there this month, and nearly every reader in the N. W. Empire is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, not having the least faith in the place, but they are selling it at an advance on the strength of advertising which the place is receiving.

The Oregonian remarks that the Linn county business council, Patrons of the Industry, are taking a praiseworthy interest in their brother farmers in Wasco county who were left in straitened circumstances by the partial failure of the wheat crop last season. Hon. R. A. Irvine was delegated to visit Wasco county and inquire into the necessities of the farmers in that section.

The new state of Washington wants an annotated code of its laws. Mr. Hill, who is the annotator of Oregon's code, offers to furnish it all printed and bound for $21,000, while local parties offer to do it for about $7,000, yet some of the legislators prefer to give the job to Mr. Hill. This is what a printer would call a "fat take."

Many years ago ex-Senator J. K. Kelley, of Portland, took a piece of land supposed to be nearly worthless, lying near Astoria, in payment of an attorney fee which the owner of the land owed him, and could not pay any other way. Last week he sold it or part of it, for $100,000.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clearly based upon the principles that govern the professor who knows anything about it. Waiving this, we extract a few points of public interest:

There are 26,000 Post offices in the country, and 150,000 employees. During the year ending June 30, 1889, the Post Office Department sent out 20,000 of these and replaced them with material better suited to their taste. It is a pity that they stop with June; for since that time the firing process has been much more rapid. It is estimated that there have now been 60,000 discharges.

Mr. Wannamaker expresses his desire to get rid of Sunday work in the Post office so far as possible. He believes that penny postage will ultimately come, but is opposed to it at present. He wants postal savings banks, after the British style. He painfully exhibits how the Western Union knocked him out on telegraph rates, but stops short of recommending it.

He has a deficit in his fiscal year, of $3,454,017.21—the worst showing, if memory serves, since the war. A few years ago his Post-office paid for itself.

If there is any interest in the Post-office it has escaped attention.

Lexington, Or., Budget: The Oregonian says that chittin or sacred bark, which is used for medicinal purposes, is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City and is now worth twenty cents a pound, a fall of sixty cents on the price commanded a few months ago. Yes, indeed; chittin bark is used for medicinal purposes, and probably has been since the Willamette valley was first settled. It is quite possible that the stuff has some virtue as a blood-purifier and remedy for or preventive of fever and ague, but by the average Webfooter it is industriously chewed for every ill, real or imaginary, with which he may be afflicted. He carries it in his pocket and offers it as a cure for the most diverse ailments, from a friendly chew. The stronger would laugh it to be pleasant to the taste, but it isn't. On the contrary it combines the bitterness of the bitterest of all the bitterest things in the materia medica. In comparison with it the dearest hore of woman scorned is so like a sweet as honey. Nothing but a trial of it can convey to the reader any idea of the taste of the sovereign of the Webfooter, and the rash experimenter would be glad to raise his mouth with kerosene. In this is an argument for the churchman, for an all-wise Providence who planted malaria and chittin trees in the same vicinity also endowed the inhabitants with palates capable of relishing chittin bark.

Most of our readers will remember the sensational items in the Eastern papers and associated press dispatches a few years ago about Senator Jones, the Florida Senator, falling in love with a young lady, following her up and making love to her promiscuously, the affair terminating in Jones becoming the laughing stock of the country. The young lady is now in Seattle, where she resides. She is really a charming young lady and is said to have inherited the heart of a former resident of Oregon, now in the newspaper business there.

It Pays.—That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons have purchased there this month, and nearly every reader in the N. W. Empire is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, not having the least faith in the place, but they are selling it at an advance on the strength of advertising which the place is receiving.

The Oregonian remarks that the Linn county business council, Patrons of the Industry, are taking a praiseworthy interest in their brother farmers in Wasco county who were left in straitened circumstances by the partial failure of the wheat crop last season. Hon. R. A. Irvine was delegated to visit Wasco county and inquire into the necessities of the farmers in that section.

The new state of Washington wants an annotated code of its laws. Mr. Hill, who is the annotator of Oregon's code, offers to furnish it all printed and bound for $21,000, while local parties offer to do it for about $7,000, yet some of the legislators prefer to give the job to Mr. Hill. This is what a printer would call a "fat take."

Many years ago ex-Senator J. K. Kelley, of Portland, took a piece of land supposed to be nearly worthless, lying near Astoria, in payment of an attorney fee which the owner of the land owed him, and could not pay any other way. Last week he sold it or part of it, for $100,000.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clearly based upon the principles that govern the professor who knows anything about it. Waiving this, we extract a few points of public interest:

There are 26,000 Post offices in the country, and 150,000 employees. During the year ending June 30, 1889, the Post Office Department sent out 20,000 of these and replaced them with material better suited to their taste. It is a pity that they stop with June; for since that time the firing process has been much more rapid. It is estimated that there have now been 60,000 discharges.

Mr. Wannamaker expresses his desire to get rid of Sunday work in the Post office so far as possible. He believes that penny postage will ultimately come, but is opposed to it at present. He wants postal savings banks, after the British style. He painfully exhibits how the Western Union knocked him out on telegraph rates, but stops short of recommending it.

He has a deficit in his fiscal year, of $3,454,017.21—the worst showing, if memory serves, since the war. A few years ago his Post-office paid for itself.

If there is any interest in the Post-office it has escaped attention.

Lexington, Or., Budget: The Oregonian says that chittin or sacred bark, which is used for medicinal purposes, is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City and is now worth twenty cents a pound, a fall of sixty cents on the price commanded a few months ago. Yes, indeed; chittin bark is used for medicinal purposes, and probably has been since the Willamette valley was first settled. It is quite possible that the stuff has some virtue as a blood-purifier and remedy for or preventive of fever and ague, but by the average Webfooter it is industriously chewed for every ill, real or imaginary, with which he may be afflicted. He carries it in his pocket and offers it as a cure for the most diverse ailments, from a friendly chew. The stronger would laugh it to be pleasant to the taste, but it isn't. On the contrary it combines the bitterness of the bitterest of all the bitterest things in the materia medica. In comparison with it the dearest hore of woman scorned is so like a sweet as honey. Nothing but a trial of it can convey to the reader any idea of the taste of the sovereign of the Webfooter, and the rash experimenter would be glad to raise his mouth with kerosene. In this is an argument for the churchman, for an all-wise Providence who planted malaria and chittin trees in the same vicinity also endowed the inhabitants with palates capable of relishing chittin bark.

Most of our readers will remember the sensational items in the Eastern papers and associated press dispatches a few years ago about Senator Jones, the Florida Senator, falling in love with a young lady, following her up and making love to her promiscuously, the affair terminating in Jones becoming the laughing stock of the country. The young lady is now in Seattle, where she resides. She is really a charming young lady and is said to have inherited the heart of a former resident of Oregon, now in the newspaper business there.

It Pays.—That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons have purchased there this month, and nearly every reader in the N. W. Empire is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, not having the least faith in the place, but they are selling it at an advance on the strength of advertising which the place is receiving.

The Oregonian remarks that the Linn county business council, Patrons of the Industry, are taking a praiseworthy interest in their brother farmers in Wasco county who were left in straitened circumstances by the partial failure of the wheat crop last season. Hon. R. A. Irvine was delegated to visit Wasco county and inquire into the necessities of the farmers in that section.

The new state of Washington wants an annotated code of its laws. Mr. Hill, who is the annotator of Oregon's code, offers to furnish it all printed and bound for $21,000, while local parties offer to do it for about $7,000, yet some of the legislators prefer to give the job to Mr. Hill. This is what a printer would call a "fat take."

Many years ago ex-Senator J. K. Kelley, of Portland, took a piece of land supposed to be nearly worthless, lying near Astoria, in payment of an attorney fee which the owner of the land owed him, and could not pay any other way. Last week he sold it or part of it, for $100,000.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT

in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," Gilmore Shirley of Eugene, County of Lane, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 1, for the purchase of the S E 1/4 of Section 8, Township 17 S, Range 2 E, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Roseburg, Oregon, on Friday, the 17th day of January, 1890.

He names as witnesses: C. H. Natsick, David Shaw, Otto Eger, of Leaning, Lane County, Oregon; Ever Evenson, of Eugene, Lane County, Oregon. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 17th day of January, 1890.

CHAS. W. JOHNSTON, Register.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

LAND OFFICE AT ROSEBURG, OR.,
Dec. 10, 1889.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the undersigned names settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof to support his claim, and that said proof will be made before the Judge or in his absence before the Clerk of the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, at Eugene, Oregon, on Tuesday, January 21st, 1890, viz: Leaman P. Fawer, Homestead Entry, No. 4630 for the Lots 1 and 2, and N 1/2 of S E 1/4, Sec. 28, T. 16 S, R. 2 West, W. M.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz: George E. Hodgkins, J. F. Mulkey, R. P. Houston, Sidney Scott of Mowhawk, Lane Co., Or.

CHAS. W. JOHNSTON, Register.

DELINQUENT NOTICE.

By order of the Board of Directors of the Blue River Mining Company, at a meeting held on November 12, 1889, the following stock was declared delinquent and ordered sold:

Said stock, $150.00 due.

The highest bidder, at the office of B. F. Dorris, in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, on Saturday, December 21, 1889, at 7:30 P. M., to satisfy said assessment.

R. M. DAY, Secretary.

B. F. DORRIS, President.

Administratrix Notice.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the undersigned Mrs. Lena Reed has been by the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, duly appointed administratrix of the estate of C. M. Reed, deceased, and all persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same to said administratrix at the law office of L. B. Hays in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, within six months from the date hereof.

L. B. HAYS, Adm'r.

Dated Nov. 16, 1889.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clearly based upon the principles that govern the professor who knows anything about it. Waiving this, we extract a few points of public interest:

There are 26,000 Post offices in the country, and 150,000 employees. During the year ending June 30, 1889, the Post Office Department sent out 20,000 of these and replaced them with material better suited to their taste. It is a pity that they stop with June; for since that time the firing process has been much more rapid. It is estimated that there have now been 60,000 discharges.

Mr. Wannamaker expresses his desire to get rid of Sunday work in the Post office so far as possible. He believes that penny postage will ultimately come, but is opposed to it at present. He wants postal savings banks, after the British style. He painfully exhibits how the Western Union knocked him out on telegraph rates, but stops short of recommending it.

He has a deficit in his fiscal year, of $3,454,017.21—the worst showing, if memory serves, since the war. A few years ago his Post-office paid for itself.

If there is any interest in the Post-office it has escaped attention.

Lexington, Or., Budget: The Oregonian says that chittin or sacred bark, which is used for medicinal purposes, is obtained in large quantities in the vicinity of Crescent City and is now worth twenty cents a pound, a fall of sixty cents on the price commanded a few months ago. Yes, indeed; chittin bark is used for medicinal purposes, and probably has been since the Willamette valley was first settled. It is quite possible that the stuff has some virtue as a blood-purifier and remedy for or preventive of fever and ague, but by the average Webfooter it is industriously chewed for every ill, real or imaginary, with which he may be afflicted. He carries it in his pocket and offers it as a cure for the most diverse ailments, from a friendly chew. The stronger would laugh it to be pleasant to the taste, but it isn't. On the contrary it combines the bitterness of the bitterest of all the bitterest things in the materia medica. In comparison with it the dearest hore of woman scorned is so like a sweet as honey. Nothing but a trial of it can convey to the reader any idea of the taste of the sovereign of the Webfooter, and the rash experimenter would be glad to raise his mouth with kerosene. In this is an argument for the churchman, for an all-wise Providence who planted malaria and chittin trees in the same vicinity also endowed the inhabitants with palates capable of relishing chittin bark.

Most of our readers will remember the sensational items in the Eastern papers and associated press dispatches a few years ago about Senator Jones, the Florida Senator, falling in love with a young lady, following her up and making love to her promiscuously, the affair terminating in Jones becoming the laughing stock of the country. The young lady is now in Seattle, where she resides. She is really a charming young lady and is said to have inherited the heart of a former resident of Oregon, now in the newspaper business there.

It Pays.—That it pays to advertise is proven by the Pasco scheme. One thousand persons have purchased there this month, and nearly every reader in the N. W. Empire is compelled to "keep an eye on Pasco." Sixteen men put $16,000 together and bought a tract of land, not having the least faith in the place, but they are selling it at an advance on the strength of advertising which the place is receiving.

The Oregonian remarks that the Linn county business council, Patrons of the Industry, are taking a praiseworthy interest in their brother farmers in Wasco county who were left in straitened circumstances by the partial failure of the wheat crop last season. Hon. R. A. Irvine was delegated to visit Wasco county and inquire into the necessities of the farmers in that section.

The new state of Washington wants an annotated code of its laws. Mr. Hill, who is the annotator of Oregon's code, offers to furnish it all printed and bound for $21,000, while local parties offer to do it for about $7,000, yet some of the legislators prefer to give the job to Mr. Hill. This is what a printer would call a "fat take."

Many years ago ex-Senator J. K. Kelley, of Portland, took a piece of land supposed to be nearly worthless, lying near Astoria, in payment of an attorney fee which the owner of the land owed him, and could not pay any other way. Last week he sold it or part of it, for $100,000.

THE EUGENE CITY GUARD.

SAURDAY, DEC. 21, 1889.

Our Postal Service.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

John Wannamaker has made his first annual report as Postmaster General, and it is almost as long as the bargain counter in his Philadelphia store.

It opens with a sophomoric essay on the way to run a department—clear