

Clean Talk.

This is the way the Benton Leader talks: The people will be found wide awake at the approaching election. Everywhere are the Republicans endorsing the administration of Governor Penney, and he will be found invincible with the people. The Portland ringsters were a little too bold in the last legislature and the grangers are aroused. Let the Democracy remain quiet and let the clean cut issue of an honest administration aggressively in the people's interest.

Free Wool.

[From Wade's Fibre and Fabric.] If we get the same rate of duty on finished wool that we have on raw wool, it will postpone the evil day long enough to elect a Democratic President. If that is what the Republicans want, all right. But if they desire to continue in office they will give us free wool, which means protection. If they make an honest effort to do this this year, and give us proper protection on fine wools, the evil day will be postponed, and perhaps not too long.

With his customary relish the doughty editor of the Oregonian once more gets down into the sewers of his imagination, to revile the memory of Henry W. Grady of the Atlanta Constitution, who was regarded as one of the best exponents of the new South as well as one of the most brilliant men of the nation, and whose death afforded the Portland school the long anticipated pleasure of beheading his bier. He even descends in this instance to the lowest level of all, the beheading of the dead man by holding up to ridicule his personal appearance. Truly the union of high intelligence with low desires has produced a remarkably contemptible character in the editor of the Oregonian, a character who will be suitably contemptible to his own countrymen as long as he lives, and whose personal influence for evil has passed away.—Jacksonville Times.

A gigantic wire trust has been formed under the shelter of the tariff, and as a consequence, wire cables have been advanced 50 cents per pound. The wire trust has been advanced 20 per cent. A trust of spring manufacturers is contemplated, which, if consummated will advance prices 50 per cent. The tack manufacturers have formed a combination, and advanced prices 65 per cent. over those prevailing a few weeks ago, under free competition. At the former prices tacks were actually exported to European countries. The 75 per cent duty simply affords them the opportunity of bleeding the consumers to the extent of 65 per cent., as they are doing today.

The Dakota twins are in a bad way. They were forced into the Union for the purpose of producing four Republican United States Senators. One of the Senators chosen was a man discharged from the United States Army for dishonorable conduct. Immediately after the admission of the twins there was an appeal to the common country for charity because a blizzard had ruined their crops. And now it is reported that their State Governments are bankrupt. But they have four votes in the Senate all the same.

It is not generally known that Ralston Cox, the Corvallis real estate dealer, is a nephew of the late "Sunset" Cox of New York, but such is the case. Owing to his loose habits he was sent out to the "wild and woolly West," in order not to disgrace his family. After a rather checkered career in Corvallis, he was married to a good woman, was started in business, and to-day is considered one of the best and brightest business men of Benton county.—Ex.

Red and black are the devil's colors, it is said. These were the tints in which the Anarchists of New York suitably decorated a hall in which they celebrated their principles. Among the mottoes were one or two suggestive enough, like the following: "If you assassinate us with Gatling guns, we will dynamite you." "Our silence in the grave is more powerful than words can be."

Newport Republican: During the past two months the necessity of a life saving station at this point has been abundantly demonstrated. It is now nearly a year since the act was passed to establish a life saving station at Yaquina and the site was selected six months ago. Some time during the present century probably the station will be in operation.

The largest amount of wild honey ever taken from one tree was reported from Oregon recently. A farmer took 700 pounds from one cottonwood tree in which a swarm of bees had stored up the annual accumulations for many years.

Mrs. J. C. McCallister committed suicide at her home on Prairie creek, Wallawa county, a few days ago. Trouble with a worthless and contemptible husband was the cause of the act.

Governor Penney has appointed Morton D. Clifford, Judge of the Sixth district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge L. B. Ison. The appointment is a good one.

Mohawk Items.

January 6th, 1890.

Sleigh riding. The snow is about 8 inches deep. Misses Minnie Evans and Ernest Whitmore spent the holidays at their respective homes on Mohawk.

Mr. T. L. Zumbach and family spent the holidays at his brothers, A. J. Zumbach, near Irving.

The Mohawk has presented quite a lively appearance during the past week. Six million feet of logs have been run to the McKenzie.

We understand that a couple of young "chaps" went up Mohawk one day last week on their way back got too much "rattle foot" aboard and when found their teams were standing in a fence corner and they were sprawling in the mud. A neighbor seeing their condition took pity on them and landed them home and when they arrived, thrashed him for his kindness.

Quite an enjoyable time was had at the residence of C. A. Stewart, Jan. 5th. It is said one young fellow engaged six partners being standing in a fence corner and they were sprawling in the mud. A neighbor seeing their condition took pity on them and landed them home and when they arrived, thrashed him for his kindness.

Since the Professor's marriage he walks three miles home, instead of boarding in the district.

We like to read the news furnished by "Bugs" why don't you correspond regularly? There are twice as many readers' contributions as in any other column.

The young sports of this vicinity had an exciting episode on West Forest last Monday.

Goshen Items.

Jan. 1, 1890.

Miss Ida Spitzer has returned to Springfield.

Mr. U. W. Dillard is home from Albion to make a short visit.

Miss Angie Patterson, of Eugene, visited friends near Goshen last week.

A little dance given at the Grange hall Friday evening was an enjoyable affair.

Mr. Johnny Hampton came down from The Dalles to spend the holidays at home.

Mr. W. L. Wheeler and wife returned Sunday from a visit to relatives near Irving.

Several from Goshen attended the ball at Cottage Grove last night and report a good time.

Chas. Sellers has returned to Monmouth to attend the Normal school, after spending the holidays at home.

While E. M. Warren was out Monday he sold some lots in Goshen to Henry Harms, and some 15 acres adjoining Goshen to Mr. J. Sellers. Vardly Goshen boometh.

What has become of our brother "itemizers" of the adjacent localities, Creswell and Springfield most especially? Here's one who reads your items with interest.

Last Saturday morning about 8 a. m., the people residing east of the village for a mile or so were horror-stricken (more or less) by a succession of blood curdling yells that immediately followed two reports from a shotgun. The good citizen although apparently bound for some three minutes by these lusty shouts, allowed their excitement to fall somewhat, when they were heard no more, and there was no knowledge of the whereabouts of all till Charles Henry Matthews set out for Eugene informing us all as he passed that he had killed a coyote.

Boundary Notes.

A correspondent of the Albany Democrat gives local happenings on the boundary line between Lane and Lane counties as follows:

Mr. Geo. Smith and wife, of Missouri, are visiting Mrs. M. A. E. Smith at present. Mr. Smith is a brother of the late Hiram Smith and is said to resemble him very much.

Miss Clara Tilton came home from Monmouth to spend the holidays.

Miss Clara Phillip, who has been attending school at Albany, spent the holidays with home folks.

Jennie Bowlsby has been visiting friends here for the past two weeks.

A dancing party at Perry Smith's, one at Mr. Allingham's and the ball at Coburg has claimed the attention of the young people the past week. A musicale at Mr. William Grimes on Saturday will probably wind up the holiday gayeties.

There was a light fall of snow here on Thursday.

Miss Maggie Boyman has been spending a week with friends on Lake creek.

Miss Alma Allingham will go to Eugene next week to attend the Sisters' school there.

Salem Statesman, Jan. 1: One man regained his freedom at the penitentiary yesterday. It was E. F. Watkins, a United States prisoner, who was sentenced from Portland to serve a two-year term. Watkins' crime was that of robbing the mail. He was route agent on the narrow gauge, and was sentenced for a crime of which his friends and acquaintances think him innocent. Although sentenced to a two-year term, he served but a little over half that time, having been made a trusty soon after entering the prison. He was an honest, industrious prisoner, and served a good portion of his confinement as nurse to the sick. He was with the boy murderer, Johnny McAllister, during his final illness. The man who became free yesterday has a family at Portland, for which place he left yesterday.

The Portland Lumber Oil company writes to James Fletcher, of McMinville, requesting him to contract with farmers for their crop of flax at the rate of $1.40 per bushel. They have need of a large amount of the seed and will furnish seed to farmers desiring to put in the crop for $1.50 per bushel, without interest, until the crop is harvested. The average yield per acre is 20 bushels, so the farmer can do better raising flax than wheat.

The great drainage scheme Chicago has in contemplation is a canal connecting Lake Michigan and the Illinois river, and of such dimensions that large lake vessels could navigate it to the Mississippi and the Gulf. A monster railway combination to defeat the scheme is rumored.

Strayed.

From the undersigned, in Eugene, Monday, Dec. 23, 1889, one mare and colt; mare has small white spot in forehead, one white hind foot, branded on left shoulder with "B," with under half circle. Colts same color as the mare. A suitable reward will be paid for their return to W. H. Parsons, Eugene.
