That is to say, your lungs! Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Bos-

Indebtedness and Assessment.

The Union Scout of a recent issue has an article on the assessment question which should be widely circulated. It exposes the dishonesty of taxpayers who evade paying just taxes on their money, notes and accounts. It says:
"Figures won't lie" is an old adage, but they make liars out of very many people in Oregon. The assessment rolls for the various counties in Oregon are now on file in the office of the Secretary of State, and the Oregonian in making a statement of the resources of Oregon in its New Year's edition publishes the summaries of the assessment rolls except the new county of Sherman which was not in at that time, and these published summaries ought to be an effective eye-opener for the honest taxpayers of the State. When each tax-payer is assessed, he lists his various kinds of property, giving it in supposedly at its true cash value, and then lists his indebtedness in the state, and strikes a balance which is the net taxable property, or the amount on which he pays taxes. These individual assessments are placed in the assessment roll of the county, the same kind of property and values under each other, and the whole county assessment summarized, showing the whole value of each different kind of property in the county, the gross value of all, the indebtedness in the state, etc., and a balance struck, showing the net taxable property in the county.

Now it is very plain that every debt owed by one man is a note or account belonging to another, and when the one takes it out of his assessment as indebtedness, the other should give it in as a note or account, and since no indebtedness is allowed outside of the state, the indebtedness claimed by individual tax-payers in Oregon should, when added together, be less than the notes and accounts assessed, by the value of those notes and accounts owed by outsiders to our citizens, and which are assessed in our state.

One class of property is listed as "Money, notes, accounts, bonds, shares of stock, etc.," and it is safe to say that in Oregon the two items—notes and accounts—do not aggregate over one-half of the whole list in value, and hence the indebtedness in the state ought not to be over one-half as much as the "Money, notes, accounts, bonds, shares of stock, etc." But the returns show that all this class of property aggregates only $16,253,725, while the indebtedness claimed amounts to $35,598,179, or more than twice as much as the whole of the notes and accounts added to the money, bonds, stock, and county orders in the state.

Now it is probable the indebtedness is given in about right. If so, the money, notes, accounts, bonds, shares of stock, etc., in Oregon "in truth" aggregate not less than $70,000,000 while the assessors return but little over $16,000,000. Now who is it owns these bonds, money, etc., that escapes taxation? Is it the men in ordinary circumstances or is it the wealthy class? But let us take a few of the counties representative of the different parts of the state and compare them:
