Gives His Reasons.

The editor of the Woodburn Independent, independent in policy as in name, gives his reasons for supporting Pennoyer as follows: We shall support Sylvester Pennoyer for governor in true accord with our principle of "the best man for the office, irrespective of "the best man for the office, irrespective of politics." Governor Pennoyer has, during his administration, made some mistakes, but no man is infallible. If he has erred in some things, it has been an error of the bead, not of the heart; and as he has erred in some things, he has been pre-eminently right in others. He has stood for the right of the Republican primaries was known the "Daily Oregonian" said:

In doing this he has borne the bit-ter denunciations of a partisan press and consulted the best interest of the people in-stead of his own. With all that has been against him, he has never been accused of dishonesty and we believe that his adminis-tration has been the purest and best that we cans and Democrats from stealing the swamp lands. Thayer was governor before Moody, and the acts of Moody were but little, if any, worse than those of his Democratic prede-cessor. Neither the legislature nor all the executive branches of the state have been in political accord with the governor and to a easonable man there can be no wonder that Sovernor Pennoyer has been the recipient On the other hand, we find but one reason for supporting Mr. Thompson. In fact the only reason offered is that Mr. Thompson at some remote time worked at the blacksmith trade and also packed a surveyor's chain; that he has been wise and amassed much that he has been wise and amassed much wealth, and, if necessary, will pay out $100. 000 to secure his election. To offset these remarkable virtues we have the record of his action on the well known "Lock and dam swindle," his stand on the Bull Run water scheme and the fact that ha is the figure head of the successful wing of the Republican ring, which triumphed over Simon by $1 was paid at some places. swindle," his stand on the Bull Run water scheme and the fact that he is the figure head of the successful wing of the Republican ring, which triumphed over Simon by the liberal use of money. That this money was furnished by Thompson, no one can deny; that the fight made in Portland was a disgrace to the party and its result a travesty on every principle of political purity, all admit. Therefor, how can we do otherwise than support Pennoyer?

Mrs. Winalow's Scothing Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25c a bottle.

Change is one of the irresistable laws of nature, and fortunately the change is almost invariably for the better. As an instance of this, St. Patrick Pills are fast taking the place of the old harsh and violent cathartics, because they are milder and produce a pleasanter effect, besides they are much more beneficial in renoving morbid matter from the system and preventing ague and other malarious diseases. As a cathartic and liver pill they are almost perfect. For alle by Osburn & Co.

The result of the primaries held Saturday is regarded by the defeated faction as showing a tery ominous state of affairs. Thus in South Portland, precinct No. 3, where charges of ballot box stuffing were claimed, there were 852 votes, against a to-tal vote, Democratic and Republicau, of two years ago, of 650. So also in North Portland, No. 1, carried by the Lotanites, tration has been the purest and best that we have had in a decade and a half. His administration has been passed under many difficulties that never beset his predecessors. He assumed the reins of government from the hands of Moody, a man whose connection with the swamp land steals and the unappropriated school fund will forever stamp him as a man beyond the bounds of integrity or else a common fool, unable in his ignorance to know right from wrong and without the manhood to stop both Republicans and Democrats from stealing the swamp lands. A STORY OF CHRISTMAS.

Oregonian, Jan. 7, 1889.

Governor Pennoyer managed the labor vote so well that he ran into the governorship of Oregon with it. He owes something ing the executive and give his excellency credit for kindness of heart even though his opponents may credit his act to his political ambition. On Christmas day, as the Governor was dispensing from his plenteous boord there came a telegram from Mr. Wallis Nash, who is prominently connected with the Oregon Pacific railroad. In the absence of Mr. Hong he was manager and his telegram read that some hundreds of working men who were unable to collect wages due them for work done, were walking the railroad track from Albany and would be at Corvallis in due time. Trouble was anticipated when they should arrive, and the officials of the O. P. road requested the executive to authorize the Sheriff to call out the militia and defend them from violence. No one need question the fact that the

Of course, no one will ever know exactly how much was spent, and random estimates are so susceptible to exaggeration.

While there is doubt as to the exact sum spent, there is no doubt that money was used openly and shamelessly. Both sides were in glass houses and there was no stone throwing. Neither dared go into the contest without money, and each relied upon its ability to outwork, outcomet, and last, but not least, outbuy the other. Men walked like sheep to the polls, deposited their ballots and turned and received the pairry price of their votes from herders who stood within soon determined what course to take.

No answer was returned to the tele gram, but the next morning he took the train south and went to Corvallis in person. Arriving there he soon found Nash, and told him the impression his telegram made, adding: "There is just one thing for you to do. Pay these men what is due them and there will be no difficulty." Mr. Nash said the company didn't owe them.

It was the contractors they had claims against. The Governor reminded him that the contractors were ruined by trying to work after estimates that the company's engineer had made. "You haven't paid the contractors over half what the work was worth, and you can well afford to pay is winked at and allowed to pass unrebuked these men. I can't help you and advise the election will next be carried by the "open you to rustle around and pay them immediately," or words to that effect. This was the Governor's advice and it was immediately acted upon. The men got their money and "all was quiet on the Potomac." Finding there was no way to enlist the State of Oregon in a war with their employees the ompany paid their dues.

Be the Governor ever so much of a dema-Mr. Chas. McKenzie will work in Kelley's gogue on the labor question he deserves credit for his course in this instance.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10 .- C. P. ern roads that I am familiar with. Our complexion, the most elegant and only really we can think of building much new road. Our central route has for some time been a sort of kindergarten for the entire system. My policy will be to build feeders into all fertile little valleys and to put branch roads wherever I see a district that needs a road and can support one. We have ordered surveys to be made for a tunnel through the Siskiyou mountains. This is to shorten the route, cutting off short curves and avoiding some severe grades. This tunnel, which we will build some day, will be between four and five miles long. It would make the road about 1500 feet lower than it is now. Travel on this route is growing, and it is bound to be the main line to the north. We will bring this road up as well as all other properties of the system to what in my julgment a road should be."
