A Trace of Hatch.

From A W Powers, of the McKenzie Bridge, we learn that a small portion of the remains of the missing man, Hatch, was found recently. As will be remembered be started to climb the mountain from Blue river to the quartz mines about the first of January and never resched his destination. His hat, the left sleeve of his coat and a hu-man thigh bone were found about one-half mile from the Blue River Mining Compa-ny's cabin. Hatch had surmounted the hardest climb and was on comparatively easy ground, but either the effort was greater than be was capable of sustaining or hungry panthers had posneed upon him. At any rate the beasts had fed upon and scattered his remains. The snow on the mountain is from two to eight feet deep ac cording to the exposure. The search will continue until the entire remains of the unfortunate man are found Snieide.

Sunday evening last about 6:15 o'clock, T. Smith committed suicide in his lodging com over Eastland & Wilson's store by hooting himselt in the head, the ball entering the head just above and back of the right ear, passing through the brain and lodging under the skin back of the left ear. The weapon used was a 4t calibre Smith & Wesson self acting revolver. The shot did not cause immediate death, but he was unconscious until death ensued at 9 o'clock Mr. Smith's health had been declining since last fall and he could obtain no aithough physicians had been consulted in Eugene, Portland and San Francisco. The sickness was beginning to affect his mind, and of late at times he acted strangely.

It seems that he deliberately concluded to commit the fatal deed. He called Geo. B Dorris to his room the afternoon of shooting and directed the writing of his will clearly, and apparently without excite-ment. D. E. Rice and Wm. Renshaw were called to witness the will. He told them that he had resolved to kill himself, that his pain was greater than he could bear, and that he had given up hope of recovery deemhis case incurable. They reasoned with him for some time, and thought before leaving that he would not fulfill his threat. Dorris returned in about fifteen minutes and found him lying on the bed unconscious, with a bullet hole through his head. Coroner Harris impaneled a jury Monday morning, consisting of J M Hodson, Rodney Scott, R D Paine, I E Stevens and F. M. Wilkins, who after hearing the facts sub-stantially as narrated above brought in a verdict that he died from a pistol shot from his own hand, while in a state of menta despondency caused by sickness.

Mr. Smith was born in Illinois in 1852 and came to Lane county with his parents, while still of a tender age. His parents, brothers and sisters are dead, except one brother, Mr. J. F. Smith, one of the county commissioners of this county. He had accumulated some property, his estate being valued at twelve to fifteen thousand dollars with several thousand dollars indebtedness. His will provides a legacy of $500 for his brother, J. F. Smith, $2500 for funeral expenses and builting a family measurement. penses and building a family monument, $500 to Geo. B. Dorris, who is appointed executor, for services in settling his estate in lieu of executor's lees, the remainder after debts are paid, in trust to Mr. Dorris for the benefit of a third person who, it is whispered, is a woman living in Portland. The deceased was an exempt of Eugene Hook & Ladder Co., being, if we mistake not, a charter member. In his younger days he took great interest in fire matters. The funersi was well attended by the exempts, and the members of the Fire Department in uni-form and took place to the Masonic cemetery Tuesday forenoon at 10 o'clock. A the grave Hon, L. L. Bilyen made a few appropriate remarks.

Body Found.

The readers of the Guand will remembe the account of a land slide at the head of tide on the Siuslaw during the February storm, whereby Mrs. O. Andrews, a daughter 20 years of ags, and a son of 12 years lost their lives. The river has at last given up one of the dead. The body of one of the women was found in the river a short distance above the Bean place, one mile below the scene of the accident, on the 8th of this the scene of the accident, on the 8th of this month by some squaws who were fishing. Our informant states that the body was in a fair state of preservation, but for some reason which he could not explain, it was with difficulty that the husband and neighbors could determine whether it was the mother or daughter. The presence of some gray bairs finally led to the conclusion that it was Mrs. Andrews. One breast had been torn off and one leg broken. The burial took place on the 9th.

New Brick Yard.—Mesars. Whitsomb & Abrams have leased ground on the west side of the Judkins point, adjoining the railroad, and are engaged to grading the ground and preparing it for a brick yard. They engaged an expect and his assurance is that the clay will make first-class brick. The brick will be turned out by a machine having a capacity of 20,000 daily. The machinery arrived Monday and will be placed in operation as soon as the yard can be prepared. A large shed will be built so that operations can be carried on during wet weather. The gentlemen propose to run their yard in a business like way, and expect to have at least 300,000 manufactured, after all demands this season are supplied, for builders to commence work with next spring. Building operations heretofore have been greatly retarded by lack of brick, and this new enterprise proposes to supply the NEW BRICK YARD .- Mesars.
