DO NOT TRADE.—Rumors have been circulated this week, principally by Republicans, that this or that candidate on the Democratic ticket would be traded off for the benefit of others. We have investigated the rumors and find there is no foundation for them. The Democracy are united, and the candidates and their friends are contented to fall or stand together. Trading votes should be severely discouraged. The trader generally gets the worst of it as no one can be assurred that the goods are delivered.

A Warrior Bold Was He.

D. P. Thompson marched with the J. W. Geary post, G. A. R. to the M. E. Church, at Eugene, Sunday evening last to attend the memorial sermon. The Sunday Welcome thus exposes his war record pretensions:

The war record of D. P. Thompson, which his boomer Harvey tries to paint in crimson, is not unlike that of Artemas Ward,—and many others,—the least said about the better.

He enlisted for a few days; went to Walla Walla; never discharged a gun; was discharged himself, and now turns out with the real veterans on all occasions, wearing a G. A. R. medal "as big as life, and twice as natural."

If he were such a fierce foe of rebels and of so sanguinary a nature as to pine for Confederate gore, why did he not go East and offer his services to the country for which Scott would now have us believe he was ready to die?

There are no airs about Dave Thompson, neither upon him are there any flies, but when his "coach" Harvey brings him upon the stage as a war worn warrior he makes David look as much out of place and ridiculous as if he were to send him around town grinding a hand organ.

Enforce the Law.

The election laws of Oregon make it obligatory on election officials in incorporated towns to keep strikers and runners out of reach of the polls, the limit being 100 feet. It would be greatly to the comfort of the judges if this law was enforced. If the constituted authorities will not enforce the law the judges have the right to appoint officers. Keep the polls clear; obey the law, and see that the disgraceful scrambles at the polls that so often occur are avoided.

A number of exchanges note the circumstance that D. P. Thompson and his colleague, Phil Metchan lack for auditors when they speak. In Eugene Mr. Thompson took time by the forelock and spoke in the evening. The day was Saturday, and as he came in the morning he had the opportunity of addressing the representative farmers of Lane county. He chose to speak in the evening and the result was that the small audience room of the Court House, was filled with townspeople, a large number being ladies, children and students.

Pennoyer was not afraid to face the men whom he represented. He spoke in the afternoon to an overflowing house composed principally of farmers and laboring men, gathered from almost every precinct in Lane county. Lane county will remember Sylvester Pennoyer June second.

The editor of the Brownsville Times has been traveling in the southern part of Linn county and this is what he says: There was one very significant fact that we noticed on our trip. We talked with a large number of Republicans and Democrats, and did not find a man who favored D. P. Thompson for Governor. All with two exceptions were for Pennoyer. These two were, unless Thompson could prove that he is unalterably opposed to non-taxable bonds. Our trip was a decidedly successful one, and we find the Times is fast growing into favor and popularity as the "people's" friend.

Portland World: A poll of the voters was made last Sunday on the R. R. Thompson, of the 'Longshoremen who went on the excursion to Astoria, and 287 were found that favored Pennoyer, and 13 for Thompson. This is but a sample of how the laboring men will vote. One of 287 was John Duber, who in a short speech on board said: "I am one of the men whose wages Hon. D. P. Thompson reduced when receiver of the Weidler mill, and at the same time asked $1000 a month for his own salary. No working man should support Mr. Thompson."

Every voter who is interested in the general welfare of the country, an economical administration, a close and judicial husbanding of the irreducible school fund, a strict enforcement of the laws, and reverential obedience to the laws of Oregon, without regard to party, sect or creed, should vote for Pennoyer and Webb.

The McKinley "farmers'" tariff raises the duty on jute sacks. Of course the higher price farmers have to pay for sacks—and heretofore under a forty per cent. tax it has been too ridiculously low—the better off they will be. They will have to work harder and hard work is conducive to virtue. Hurrah for the increased tax on grain-bags.

As the day of election draws near the wisdom of the nomination of James Noland for sheriff by the Democratic convention of Lane county becomes apparent. He has made many new friends during the canvass. His qualifications for conducting the business of the important office of sheriff are excellent. He is assured of a heavy vote.

Voters should not believe any report started the last few days of the campaign. All kinds of false rumors are likely to be circulated. It is a sure thing that such reports are always the very worst kind of lies.

The Democratic county ticket is worthy of the united support of the party. The candidates are all well known men and are competent. They secured their nominations without the aid of rings, combinations or cliques.

The Republicans always make a great howl about their love for the poor soldier. For proof, look at the present Republican state and county tickets.

MONEY SENT OUT TO CARRY THE ELECTION.

The People Should Prevent Its Use!

We have it upon reliable information that money has been sent to Florence, Junction, Cottage Grove and Richardson precincts by the Republican managers to corrupt voters. It is also probable and very likely that money has been sent into other precincts for like purposes. Of course the two Eugene precincts will also be plentifully supplied and the "floaters" be taken in if it is possible. This money is generally thought to be put up by Thompson, as he has made the statement to at least twelve men in Oregon that he would spend $100,000 to be elected. The question is, will the people of this county and State, allow the result of this election to be bought. We think not.

The Democratic party of this county and state will not purchase a vote on any account, and we ask the people, irrespective of party, to use all the vigilance possible to see that the election is not carried by corrupt methods. Arrest any man, offering to buy or sell a vote, and send him to the penitentiary, where he rightfully belongs.

Warrants of arrest have been sent to the various precincts, and instructions given to enforce the law at all hazard. The honest electors of each precinct should band themselves together and demand and enforce the election law. The downfall of the republic is surely close at hand, if unscrupulous men are permitted to buy up men to carry elections. We believe the people have the patriotism to prevent it.

When Doctors Disagree.

Henry McGinn, well known in Eugene as a University student, but now Prosecuting attorney of Multnomah county, an office which he has held for four years, had a fisticuff with Tom Jordan, Lotan's first lieutenant a few days ago. Mr. McGinn had personal knowledge of the conduct of the so called Republican primaries of Portland where the vote cast exceeded the combined strength of both parties at the previous election, and concluded to support Pennoyer, hence the wager, then the fight. The Portland Examiner says anent the trouble:

The little "set to," between Prosecuting Attorney McGinn and T. A. Jordan, chairman of the Republican County Committee, has occasioned much talk. They are both Republicans and we have no interest in either one particularly, but it appears to us that Mr. Jordan brought about the trouble and that he got the worst of it, besides we think he will lose his money. Mr. McGinn, like thousands of other good Republicans, is supporting Mr. Pennoyer for Governor, as he is, in their opinion, the better man, and Mr. Jordan's animus was, no doubt, caused by his knowledge that he had foolishly thrown away just $300 by betting on Thompson. Mr. Jordan charged McGinn with being "the meanest man in Oregon," while McGinn retorted by telling Jordan "he ought to be in the penitentiary." In this, too, the public generally coincide with McGinn.

Virtuous Portland.

A Portland journal believes that vote buying will not succeed in that city this year. It gives the following warning:

The political strikers who intend buying votes for the Republican managers this coming election, should bear in mind that the Board of Police Commissioners and Chief of Police S. B. Parrish have authorized this paper to state that on election day every effort will be made to enforce the law and orders all offenders against it most promptly arrested. If vote buying is attempted those engaged in it will land in the penitentiary where they properly belong. Take warning in time.

Notice to the Public.

Statements and communications of a political and personal nature appear from day to day in the Oregonian, directed against the nominees of the democratic party. Many if not all of such statements and communications could be successfully contradicted, but the columns of the Oregonian are denied to us for such a purpose. The reporters of that paper have also ceased to gather information from our headquarters.

B. GOLDSMITH,
Chairman Dem. State Central Com.
Portland, May 28, 1890.

The Register seeks to prejudice the people against the Democratic county central committee for refusing to accede to a request of the Eugene G. A. R. post that the speaking at Junction be foregone on Decoration day. The appointments were made by the chairmen of both parties several weeks since, no decoration exercises were held at Junction, hence there would be no valid reason for annulling the appointment. We notice that Mr. Thompson and other Republican speakers canvassed on that day.

Gov. Pennoyer has given the people of Oregon an honest administration for the past four years. His integrity and ability are not questioned by his opponents. There are no crooked explanations in his career as the state executive, and why should the people not re-elect him? There is no need of a change, especially when that change is clouded with doubt and coupled with political trickery, bribery and corruption. The best interests of Oregon demand a man of Govenor Pennoyer's stamp at the head of the executive department.

The Oregonian no doubt sees the defeat of Mr. Thompson in advance, and is so angry at the fact, that it has lost its temper and assails Governor Pennoyer like a mad bull at a red shirt, with all the bitterness of its combined force. The governor, secure in the knowledge that he will be victorious, enjoys their wild rantings, and tantalizes them just enough to keep up their ridiculous and preposterous assertions so as to disgust the public, not only with that paper, but the whole ticket it supports.

A Republican from Portland, but a Republican who loves his country, his state, the people, aye, even his party, better than a "lean and hungry money-bags," who never did a noble or generous act, considering his wealth, in his life, said yesterday: "If the people of this state could have seen the shameless way in which Dave Thompson, by the use of thousands of dollars, carried the Portland primaries, he would be beaten by 25,000 majority.—E. Oregonian.

The records of Thompson and Pennoyer have been placed before the people. We believe in the intelligence and common sense of the people. They will not encourage a candidacy that is based, almost entirely, upon money considerations from primaries to polls.

C. P. Houston has made many friends in his canvass for the office of county clerk. He is a young man of excellent character, good business habits, and thoroughly qualified to fill the position. Especially at his home in Junction where he is best known, he will receive the support of both parties.

P. J. McPherson made an exceptionally good assessor. He should be again elected to the position which he is so well qualified to fill.

POLITICAL NOTES!

From the "Junction Pilot," Independent Republican.

Houston will make a good clerk.

E P Coleman is an industrious farmer, a kind neighbor and a good citizen.

Let every ticket that enters the ballot box next Monday have on it the name of the laborer's friend—Sylvester Pennoyer.

A man's popularity can best be told by his home vote. The election next Monday will prove that Veatch, Bilyeu, Houston and Noland are the most popular men in the county.

"James E. Noland, the Democratic candidate for sheriff," says one of our prominent Republicans, "is so well and favorably known in this part of the county that he will receive one-half of the Republican votes here."

Some Democrats are sanguine enough to believe that every candidate on their ticket will be elected. This may or may not be true, but when we find the names of such men as R. M. Veatch, R. Doty, L. Bilyeu and E. P. Coleman, followed by C. P. Houston, A. W. Patterson and James Parker, it is a "dead sure" thing that most of them are going to be elected. This must necessarily be the result when such men are nominated.

What is wanted in this county is friendly legislation and relief from burdensome and unnecessary taxation. So it is in the whole state. Hence the importance of electing men to the legislature who are not in sympathy with the dominant party. They have had the machine in this state long enough to right any wrong and they have failed in any particular to do it, but permitted and aided the burdens of the people to increase under the continued promise retrenchment and reform. The people should seriously consider their situation and the facts of it before they vote.

President Harrison has been in office nearly a year and a half and wool is not so high as it was when Mr. Cleveland was in power. This is a stunner to our Republican friends, who said that the Democratic party was responsible for the prevailing low price of wool. Every sensible person ought to know that, if the tariff was so excessive that it proved prohibitory, it could not change the inevitable laws of demand and supply.

Jacksonville Times: D. P. Thompson is entirely too thrifty a man to suit the people. He owns eighteen banks now, and would probably have the greater portion of the state in his bank assets after a four year term as governor. Dave is a schemer of the greatest magnitude and has no use for the office he seeks, excepting the opportunities to enlarge his bank account, that he expects to obtain.

S. P. Thompson would only give $10 to the sufferers of Seattle, but says he will spend $100,000 to receive the honor of being Governor of Oregon. Let the voters compare the notes and then draw a line.

The duped patrons of the State Insurance company should remember McElroy, the school book ring's candidate, at the polls in June. Vote for the Veteran LeRoy for state superintendent.

D. P. Thompson was successful in finding the back door of a Eugene saloon and for a time set them up lively.

For Sale or Trade.

Two good farms of 160 acres each, both deeded land; one is a hay ranch, can cut 126 tons of wild hay on it. The other is farming land, mostly in cultivation, has a good house and barn and a young orchard on it. There is a stream of good running water on both places, and good outside range for any kind of stock. A good school house three-quarters of a mile from one place and two miles from the other. I will trade both places for a good farm in Lane county, a reasonable distance of Eugene. Any one wishing to trade will address

R. J. BAKER,
Riley, Harney County, Oregon.

Land for Sale.

Eighty acres of fine upland, 6 miles west of Junction. Price $8 per acre. Box house 14x20 with "L" 14x14, log barn, well of pure water and 25 acres in pasture. This is a fine bargain at the above price. Address B. F. Minert, Monroe, Benton county, Oregon.

The Hog Question.

SPRINGFIELD, Or., May 29, 1890.

ED. GUARD.—The voters of Lane county will soon have an opportunity of voting on the question of swine running at large. Most of the counties of the Willamette valley have already settled the question to the satisfaction of the farmers by enacting such a law requiring every hog owner to take care of his own hogs. There is probably a mile of fence built in this county for every hog owned, and four-fifths of the cost of the extra fencing necessary to make a fence "hog tight" is a useless expence to the owners of the fences. Even the owner of hogs can better fence in his hogs than to fence his crops against hogs. The character and quality of hogs allowed to run at large, render it almost impossible for farmers to protect their crops with any ordinary fence. The extra fencing necessary to restain the hogs in this county is of greater value to-day than all the hogs in the county, and costs ten times as much as the worth of the food which hogs can "pick up" in the highways. No hog owner would be willing to pay the sum of one dollar an acre for the privilege of pasturing such highways. Then it is certainly an injustice to four-fifths of the people of this county to be compelled to expend ten times as much for fencing as the hogs will derive from the outside pasturage. The day of the "razor back" has passed. They are not profitable, are a source of trouble and injury to every land owner, and there is no justice in requiring a man to fence out his neighbors hogs. My neighbors and myself have concluded that we can buy all the hogs within reach of us, and feed them for the season cheaper than we can build a hog tight fence. I raise hogs, but I take care of them myself, rather than to turn them out to forage on my neighbors' grain fields and gardens. So ought we all to do.

PRICE LIST:

YES COME To the place where you can get value received; where there is a firm that will treat you white and you will get all you pay for. Do you not know that when a man comes to your house with a team and a sewing machine and puts it in your house to sell it to you that he has to make a bigger profit on it than a dealer who does not have to pay a man and a team, and feed the team.

These fellows wear diamonds with the money they virtually steal from the farmers. I caution all persons against these everlasting swindlers and liars, which I assert there is no means too low for them to resort to to make a sale of their machine, and then when you have bought that machine you will find out to your sorrow that you are not dealing with him but with some company, and they will put you to the wall or take the machine back and you will lose all you have paid on it. Now why do you not buy of a firm that buy and sell machines the same as other goods! This the Barker Gun Works does.

We carry in stock at all times the DOMESTIC and DAVIS, the best machines IN THE WORLD. The Davis took more

—GOLD MEDALS—

Than any other machine at the Paris Exposition in 1889. The DOMESTIC needs no commendation, as it is an old reliable company and has always given satisfaction. Do not buy until you have consulted me and looked at my machines. I will save you money and that is worth your time to come and see. Prices of the Davis and Domestic are from $35 up, Cash, and $10 more on time of monthly payments. Good notes at cash prices with interest taken.
