Fire in the Mountains.

As the time is now drawing near when our mountains will be lit up at night by the camp fires of the prespectors, the teamster and the pleasure loving excursionists, we reproduce for the benefit of our readers the following notices which have been ordered posted in the timbered regions west of the Mississippi, by the General Land Office.

"The attention of the public is called to the fact that large quantities of the timber is annually destroyed by forest fires which in many cases, originated through the carelessness of hunting, prospecting and other camping parties; while in some instances they may occur through design.

I take this method of warning all persons, that, hereafter, the cause and the origin of all summer fires will be closely investigated, and where the fire is ascertained to have and where the fire is ascertained to have originated through either carclessness for design, the parties implicated will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Special timber agents are hereby directed to proceed against all offenders under the local laws of the States and Territories, relating to the unlawful setting out of fires, in which the same may occur.

The public, generally, are requested to sid the officers of the government in its efforts to check the evil referred to, and in the punishment of all offenders

The Silver Bill.

The silver bill, which has passed the hous payment being made in treasury notes re-deemable on demand in com, which are de-clared legal tenders for the payment of all debts except where otherwise stipulated by contract. Such portions of the bullion pur-chased are to be coined as may be necessary to provide for the redemption of the treasu-ry notes provided for. Whenever the market price of silver is $1 for 371.25 grains of pure silver the bill declares it shall be lawful for the owner of any silver bullion to deposit the same at any mint of the United States to be coined into standard silver dollars.

The Oregonian publishes a table of the official returns from all the counties in Or-egou except Harney, Lake, Sherman and Wallowa, and in these counties named either actual or estimated majorities are given. The result shows Hermann to have more than 10,000 majority over his democratic competitor, and more than 7,000 over both opponents. Pennoyer's majority is 0. The majorities on the balance of the state ticket are given as follows: McBride, secretary of state, 7,655; Metschan, treasurer, 6,640; McElroy, school superintendent, 4,456; Baker, state printer, 6,218; Bean, supreme court judge, 8,088. The total vote of the state will be about 71,000.

The Salem Statesman says: Governor Penneyer yesterday commuted the sentence of Hazel Nelson, who was committed to the prison January 30th, last, sentenced from Mulinomah county for a term of two years. Her crime was robbery, and she will be given her freedom this morning. The sentence of the once fair girl was commuted at the recommondation of the prison physician, he having reported her as about to become a mother. This leaves but one woman in the University. penitentiary. Of men there are 325.

Governor Pennoyer on June 17th commu-ted the death sentence of Clinton Penning-ton, convicted at Baker City of the murder of ton, convicted at Baker City of the murder of Charles Balcom about a year ago, to life im-prisonment in the state penitentiary. Pen-nington has been in juli, sectenced to death, a good many months. The supreme court granted no new trial, and the trial judge gave a respite until August. The reason given for the commutation of Pennington's sentence by Governor l'ennoyer are two, viz.: "Only one of the two witnesses to the homi-cide was permitted to testify upon the trial; there are grave doubts as to premeditation."

In a speech before a Boston political club, Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson called the attention of his heaters to the alarming fact that while there are 255 republican dailies printed in this country with a circulation of over 1000, there are 320 democratic dailies printed; while the republican dailies have a circulation of 1,500,000, the democratic dailies have 2,500,000. The magazines that support the democratic party have a circulation of nearly half a million, while those that support the republican party, even by indirection, have less than one hundred thousand.

A CENSUS INCIDENT.—A census enumerator from one of the outlying districts showed up yesterday, and in response to a question as to the most singular incident so far in his experience, said it was at a house last Tuesday of a woman who said she had been a widow five years. There were two children, one three years and the other about a year fild. He asked, "Whose children are those;" "Mine," was the wnswer. "What's year pid. He asked, "Whose children are these," "Mine," was the answer. "What'a their father's name?" "None of your business." He left .- Astoriau.

Portland has taken the preliminary steps to get up a mammoth Fourth of July celebra-tion. Welcome: Those who are adepts at "counting noses" aver that John H. Mitchell will be the caucus nominee of his party for the Senate but that there will be enough discentented Republicans refusing to support him under any circumstances, to force him to again look to independent Democrats for assistance.

While such unwise organs as the Cleveland Lender are delaying that our protected manufacturers are selling cheaper to forethners than to Americans, the organ of the tariff league, the American Economist, of June 6th, boldly declares they are "about five per cent."

The officers of the Washington Tariff Reform Club and Colored Bureau of Leformation have issued an address to the colored voters of the United States, and especially to those of the South, in which the division of their votes among all political parties is asked. The circular says:

"We were once needed to assault forts on battlefields, now we are needed at the ballot box to protect high tariff monopoly, and when we cease to give aid to this extraordinary high tariff and thousands of white Republican office holders, we will be abandoned again and relegated to a political shade of quietude." The circular says that all the love Repub-

The circular says that all the love Republican leaders have for the colored man is to receive his vote. It declares that the negro was freed simply as a war measure. Two colored regiments organized in Massachusetts lay for a year without being recognized as part of the Union army. Force of circumstances drove the country to it.

"So you can see," continues the circular, "that you freed the Northern Republicans. Negroes differ religiously, why not politically, it is asked."

It is declared that the Southern problem will not be solved by the passage of national

All listened and again some one was calling. The words "congar" and "gun" could be made out. Charlie and Johnnie got their guns and hied themselves thitherward. Now Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pope had been spending the day with Mr. and Mrs. Pottert, and had started home after supper. They had walked down the road near Ed. Potter's house, when they were surprised by finding two large congars—one lying in the road and the other on a log not ten feet away. The congars were very poor, hungry and fieres looking. They were there for meat, and they certainly looked like they needed it. They acted like they wanted it, too. They they certainly looked like they needed it. They acted like they wanted it, too. They arose with dignity, flourished their tails by way of salute, grinned like a bungry tramp at a barbecue, and refused to give the road. Then the one in the road made for Mrs. Pope. It was then that Howard said some naughty words. He and Mrs. Pope had to rou, the proper thing under the circumstances. He followed them about one hundred yards. Howard waived a huge bouquet that Mrs. Potterf had given to Mrs. Pope, at it, and said naughty things as he pursued Mrs. Pope. The congar gave up the chase. Whether it was from the scent of the flowers—what Howard said—or from the dust thrown in his face by flying feet, it is not -what Howard said-or from the dust thrown in his face by flying feet, it is not known. When they got near enough to make anyone hear they called for help. Charlie and Johnnie got to them with the dog and the gons. Johnnie showed his courage and gallentry by undertaking to escort Mrs. Pope down to the scene of action. He gave Howard his gun, and while Charlie and Howard ran on ahead he Churite and Howard ran on ahead he brought up the rear with only a knile for defense. Arrived at the spot, the congars had gone. The dog put one up an alder tree in about three minutes. Both boys got in a shot and the congar fell in the creek. The dog jumped in on top of it and pulled it ashore. In ten minutes more the dog scented the other one inside of the field in some high fern along a high picket fence. The dog was on the outside. The boys ran across the field to them. The congar ran up and down the fence, the dog keeping up with it. It was some little time before a shot was fired as there was danger of shooting the dog. Finally Charlie ran in behind the congar and got in a shot, then Howard ope. congar and got in a shot, then Howard one. It took another shot each to fluish it. Mrs. Pope and Johonie sat on the fence and saw the fun. COME To the place where you can get value received; where there is a firm that To the place where you can get will treat you white and you will get all you pay for. Do you not know that when a man comes to your house with a team and a sewing machine and puts it in your house to sell it to you that he has to make a bigger profit on it than a dealer who does not have to pay a man and a team, and feed the team.

These fellows wear diamonds with the money they virtually steal from the farmers. I caution all persons against these everlasting swindlers and liars, which I assert there is no means too low for them to resort to to make a sale of their machine, and then when you have bought that machine you will find out to your sorrow that you are not dealing with him but with some company, and they will put you to the wall or take the machine back and you will lose all you have paid on it.
