The Census of Washington.

The result of the official count of the state of Washington was wired Governor Ferry Aug. 30 by the census bureau. The Statistics of two supervisory districts, however, have not been received. The population of the state, exclusive of these, is given at 343,564. The missing districts will probably increase this number to about 346,000.

The population of the territory in 1880 was 75,116. The following are the populations of the more thickly settled counties: King, 65,443; Pierce, 51,126; Spokane, 35,003; Walla Walla, 12,105; Whatcom, 18,308; Whitman, 19,011; Clark, 11,634; Lewis, 11,443.

The census office to-day announced the result of the count of the population of 75,116. The following are the populations of the more thickly settled counties: King, 65,443; Pierce, 51,126; Spokane, 35,003; Walla Walla, 12,105; Whatcom, 18,308; Whitman, 19,011; Clark, 11,634; Lewis, 11,443.

The revised returns of the Seattle and Tacoma census gives the former 43,914 and the latter 35,858. The population of each in 1880 was respectively 3553 and 1008. These figures increase the first estimates for Seattle about 4000 and reduce those made for Tacoma about 1000. The growth of both cities is a surprise to the entire country.

State Superintendent E. B. McElroy has received the appointment by the executive committee and president of the National Teachers' association, as one of the six commissioners to represent the United States in the educational department of the World's fair in 1893 at Chicago. This is quite an honor to Oregon's superintendent.

HALLEY, Or., Aug. 1, 1890. An old soldier's story: In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea, since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. Bending, Halley, Or. For sale by F. M. Wilkins.

Don't Believe It When told that F. M. Wilkins, the druggist, is not selling "Wilm's" or "Roberts'" in the completion, the most elegant and only really harmless preparation of its kind in the world, and giving a beautiful picture card with every bottle.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs: Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Bosc's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

The Atchison (Kan.) Champion, one of the oldest and most influential Republican papers in Kansas, came out July 31 with a free trade flag at its masthead. It says that protection has so impoverished the farmers of the West and enriched the manufacturers of the East that nothing can bring a cure except free trade.

Lakeview Examiner: Mr. Thos. McDonald harvested 3,900 lbs of hay from less than one-sixth of an acre of land, on the A. Cogg well place in the south part of town. The yield being at the rate of over ten tons to the acre.

The Farmer's Alliance of Kansas has addressed a petition to the judge of the Eighth judicial district praying that mortgages may not be foreclosed against farmers, because of crop failures and stringency in the money market.

F. M. Wilkins, the druggist, wishes to remind his patrons that it is a dangerous policy to wait until taken sick before buying a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Every family should be provided with some reliable remedy for bowel complaints, ready for immediate use, whenever required, during the summer months, and this remedy is unquestionably far superior to any other. It can always be depended upon, and is pleasant and safe to take. It is put up in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

A Little Too Late—to doctor when Bright's Disease has done its work. Take Wright's Kidney and Liver Cure for inflammation of kidneys and liver, pain in back and other warnings of kidney trouble. Sold by all druggists.

Fruit Going This Week.

Ashtand Tidings, Aug. 22: The value of the fruit trade to the people of Ashtand even now before the young orchards have come into general bearing may be appreciated from an observation of the shipments of fruit now being made. Shippers reported yesterday that that day's shipment brought $1000 to the town. Think what it will be when the hundreds of young orchards come into full bearing. At the prices paid for peaches this season, 2 to 3 cents per pound, a matured peach tree, with 200 to 400 pounds of fruit upon it, would yield the grower $4 to $12 for the crop. This means an income of $400 to $1200 an acre for the peach orchards. This sounds marvelous, but a good crop and good prices show just such returns.

For $5.50 you can get the GRAND one year and a copy of Webster's Dictionary. If you are already a subscriber you can get the dictionary on the same terms by paying one year in advance. The dictionary then would cost you but $3. The regular edition costs from $11 to $12. Every family needs one of these books. Call at the Grand office and examine them. They are strongly bound either in Russia or in leather. We have a large supply on hand. Call and see them, and secure one before all are gone.

A Good Offer.

The Pomroy East Washingtonian, Rep., says: "It has been truly said that you can put the independent newspaper down as Democratic. Democracy controls them one and all. Without exception they are sailing under false colors." We believe this to be true to a great extent and it is certainly mandatory of the principles of Democracy. When a man lays aside party prejudices and studies the issues from a non-partisan view, he will either become a pronounced Democrat or people will speak of him as "independent with Democratic leaning." The E. W. might include in the list nearly all of the non-political magazines and periodicals. —Dayton Inlander.

A Sad Suicide.

On Monday morning a sad case of suicide occurred at Coquille City. Mrs. Adlia Mackey, a young woman, who had been married only three months, shot herself with a revolver and died instantly. Deceased and her husband occupied a house owned by John Baker, a lively stable man, and Mr. Baker slept in the house upstairs. Mr. Baker says the young couple were at home on Sunday night and seemed very affectionate. Mr. Mackey, the husband, rose early Monday morning, built a fire and went to the stable where he was employed, and shortly came home to breakfast. Finding the meal was not ready he returned to his work, and after he left deceased called for Baker to go to once for her husband, saying, "You be sure and come back with him." Baker hurriedly dressed and coming down asked if she was ill, but received in reply the request to go to once for her husband. Baker started and after going a little distance heard a shot and thinking she had acted strangely he returned to the house, and found she had gone to his room, taking his revolver and placing the muzzle to her forehead, just above the eyes, had sat down on the lounge and fired, blowing out her brains and presenting a most ghastly spectacle. The husband was called and was almost insane with grief. He burst into the window when they tried to keep him from the corpse and tried to take the body in his arms, asking her all the time in the most piteous tones, "What did you do it for?" There is no doubt but that she was committed under the impulse of insanity, and no one seems to be able to suggest any reason for the rash act.

Shipping Sturgeon.

An interesting sight was afforded to anyone visiting the old Hume cannery building Monday where the new industry of preparing sturgeon for shipment was in progress. T. B. Trecoott, of Portland, is engaged in the business and has two men at work here at present. They have received ninety-five in the few days they have been running. The fish averaging about 150 pounds each, are thrown on the floor, a cut made about the body below the gills, longitudinal cuts two or three inches apart are made from this to the tail and the fish is hooked on to with a block and tackle and swung up. A hook tears the strips of tough hide from the body the entrails are removed and the fish thrown on a table, where it is cut up and the backbone removed. The meat is packed in square boxes and shipped to Portland, where it is frozen in that shape and the blocks shipped thus to New York. Here they are placed in a pickle for five or six hours, then dried and smoked, and are ready to be eaten. The men at work here are pretty expert and dispose of a big sturgeon in about seven or eight minutes. It takes nearly 4,250 pounds of live fish to make a ton ready for shipment, losing something over half in dressing. The business will be continued here until next April, providing the market does not get overstocked. Next season the sturgeon will probably be canned instead of frozen for shipment.

Morrow has 293,500 acres of surveyed lands in The Dalles district open to settlement. In Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam, Morrow, Crook and Grant counties, in The Dalles district, there are 3,469,040 acres of surveyed and 350,100 acres of unsurveyed land vacant. This district has also 1,457,000 acres of N. P. R. B. lands which will be thrown open for settlement in the near future. Morrow is about evenly divided between The Dalles and La Grande districts.
