The Hop Crop.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 27 .- The New England Homestead's carefully prepared re-port of the hop crop of the country shows that there is considerable shortage, partic-ularly in New York state. The average yield of all hop-growing territories will fall arly 20 per cent. under a full crop. New York state only three-quarters of an average crop will be harvested. Massachu setts, which grows few hops, will have 75 per cent. of a full crop, Maine 90 per cent., Vermont, a full crop, Wisconsin, 60 cent., and California 90 per cent. shortage alone is sufficient to send prices up, but added to this is the fact that most hops have passed hands of the growers out Prices have reached 40 cents a pound in New York and 27½ in California. Prices offered in these two states govern the sales in other states. One-third of the crop was contracted for early in the season at prices ranging from 16 to 20 cents. Growers gengrain cleaners. erally held their crops for an advance and are sure one will come. While the crop is short, the quality is better than usual. The

The Indians living on the Umatilla river, Oregon, complain that fishermen catch hundreds of trout for sport, carry away only enough for a meal and leave the remainder to rot on the banks. This is the kind of sport that has exterminated the buffalo and is rapidly exterminating all the game in this country. That phase of human nature that finds pleasure in the wanton taking of life is a curious one. If one finds pleasure in ing after he has caught enough to satisfy his wants, it is an easy matter and no loss to him to throw the captured fish back into the water. A little reasoning about the matter will convince any one that there is just as much sport catching flies as there is in the wanton destruction of flab. While the government is spending thousands of dollars a year to stock rivers and lakes with fish the Some of these days the people will wake up to the fact that men should pay for their destructive sport.

No Previous Insanity.

FALL CREEK, August 24, 1890. across the street from Geo. B. Dorris. EDITOR GUARD:-In your last issue I no ticed an item taken from the Oregonian written by M. D. of the insane asylum stating that F. H. Kissenger, who recently died that place, some years ago developed clear signs of insanity, and that his death was caused merely by the bite of the dog. I Archart, Claudy wish to make a correction of the statement in regard to his showing signs of insanity previous to the time of his death. Where Bockman, Carl Davis, H L DeForrest, M S Foster, Harry Grove, Elmer W the author of the item got his information is more than I know. The statement is false, and can be proven so by all who were ac-quainted with him. Six years ago he had a Halbrick & Gre severe attack of brain tover, and was like any person would be under such circumstances out of his mind, but since that time up to the 26th day of July, 1890, there was not a brighter intelligent young mau to his age in any country. It does not look reasonable that a man in good health as he was would die in two weeks' time of mere insanity, or from the bite of a dog, if he was not affected with any poison as the tree of M.D. states with any poison, as the item of M. D. states.

Asking for the County Road. The Oregonian Railway Co. will come be fore the county court at its meeting next week asking that it be allowed to appropri-ate the county roads around Scuille point and the point a short distance below on the Middle Fork. The wagon road would have to be constructed farther up the hills and would have considerable grade. We suppose that the railroad can force its way, county court should see to it that the interests of the county are carefully guarded. It is the rule with railroads to promise everything to gain favors during the course of construction, and afterward fail to fulfill their promises. The road in question has cost Lane county a considerable sum of money and if the railroad must use it, it should be compelled to pay all expenses made necessary by the construction of a new road. Judge Scott and several railroad officials viewed the points in Millinery and Dressmaking. To the ladies of Eugene and vicinity: The Misses Brumley & Stafford, who recently succeeded Mrs. McNail in the "Temple of Fashion," have removed to Willamette street, bet. 7th and 8th, where they have added elegant dressmaking parious to their millinery store. Miss Brumley is now in San Francisco selecting a fine line of fall goods. She will spend several weeks in one of the leading millinery and trimming houses of San Francisco, familiarizing herself with the latest fashions and styles of trimming, before her return to Eugene.

Notice to Hop Pickers. A Seavey & Sons, will commence picking hops at their hop yard on the McKenzie about Monday, Sept. 8th. Disappeared.—A few weeks since, Mr. Wilson, a gentleman from California, made arrangements to build a toll road up Lake creek to the valley. He secured tools and supplies, employed men and teams, and work was commenced on the road. Nearly two weeks ago he started across to the valley, riding a mule, saying he was going to Irving or Junction. Since that time nothing has been heard of him, although search and inquiry has been made. He was not a strong quiry has been made. He was not a man, being partially paralyzed, and when last seen was complaining of feeling worse than usual. The men employed on the road quit work the middle of this week

We are informed that Mr. Wilson paid all claims against him up to the time he left. Bound Over,—Abe Zolki, a youth of 19 years was arrested Saturday charged with taking a watch and other jewelry, of the value of about $200, from a bureau drawer in the house kept by Mattie Carter. After taking the valuables he became fearful of the consequence, and returned them to one of the girls, an inmate of the house. An one of the girls, an infinate of the house. An examination was held before Justice Kinsey, and Zolki was held in the sum of $500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury, which, failing to give, he was committed to jail Zolki, from all accounts, is weak minded and not entirely accountable for his actions.

An Ice Factors,—A gentleman was here ever last Sunday, who is desirous of estab-lishing an ice manufactory in Eugene. He will be here again next week for the pose of endeavoring to prevail upon Eug capitalists to take stock in the enterp The plant will cost about $7,500 of w amount the gentleman will take $2,000 worth of stock. He claims to thoroughly understand the business and says it will pay rell. We would like to see such a business well.

THREE BROODS.—Correspondence Salem Journal: The China pheasant has become the game bird of this valley. They appear to be thoroughly established and make themselves at home. The hens are now laying, (or incubating) their third hatch, for the season. The Hop Louse.

Prof. F. L. Washburns, of the experiment station of the Agricultural College, visited S. Smeed's hop yard on the McKenzie Wednesday to investigate the reported presence of the hop louse in the hop yards of Lane county. He is anthority for the statement that the hop louse exists in Mr. Smeed's hop yard. He writes us as follows:

ECGENE, OR., Aug. 27, 1890. DEAN SIR:—I noticed in a recent issue of the Guand a statement, by a Mr. Stratton I believe, that the hop plant louse did not at present exist in Oregon. I have just returned from an investigation of Mr. Smeed's hop ranch on the McKenzie and find the hop e (Phorodon humuli) there in consider able numbers. The presence of this pest in Oregon cannot be denied.

Sincerely, F. L. WASSIBURNE. Florence Notes.

[The West, Aug. 22] Geo. M. Miller left for Eugene this—Fri-day morning. While here he kept several en and teams at work grading streets.

There are a large number of fishermen in town awaiting the opening of Meyer and Kyle's cannery to receive their catchings. The new toll road will come into Florence and intersect Gargnier avenue on the north, thence over that street to the city wharf.

About ten men left Florence to work on the toil road. Mr. Wilson has now about 40 men, all told, grading.

N. L. Roney and wife, of Eugene, spent several days in town this week and visited the lakes south of town.

The steamer Mischief is daily expected to arrive and with her a car load of Chinamon to work in the cannery. Mr. Geo. M. Miller has dousted a fine lot to the First Presbyterian church for building

The Moonlight, Capt. Skog commanding, will start on her second trip to San Francis-co about September 1st, loaded with lumber. It is true that Mr. Wilson informed us that the toll road is to terminate in Eugens, but we have been told by other parties that it is to end in Junction City. If this be true it will be an iron horse toll road. In any event it looks that way, for the grading now in course of construction has all the ear marks of a railroad bed. A SPRINGLER NEEDED .- The present method of sprinkling Willamette street is unsatisfactory and inadequate. The work must be done by many persons and as a consequence in some places it is wet until mud-dy, while in others the dust is not interfered with. The side streets receive little if any attention and the wind brings the dust from them into Willamette street. The street to the depot is used by many of the citizens and travelers, and they are subjected daily to a cloud of dust from passing vehicles. It certainly is strange that the people would so long patiently submit to the uncertain, incomplete method of sprinkling that has been in use here for two years past. The city council has the power to change the sprinkling system. The use of hose in sprinkling Willamette street is a nuisance, besides being a cause of danger from skittish hores and those not accustomed to its use. An ordinance to conceal its discreits use. An ordinance to compel its disuse would soon have the effect of providing Eugene with a decent effective method of street sprinkling.

JUNCTION FIREMEN.—Junction proposes to have some protection from fire, as this from the Pilot would indicate: The fire company, organized only a few days, now has thirty-two members. They are drilling twice a week and will, we believe, devote enough time to become proficient. The hose cart, recently purchased by the city, is a fine one, well equipped and there is plenty of hose. The hook and ladder truck has been repainted, ladders, hooks, poles, pails, everything is in first-class order, excepting a few pieces that are missing, but it is to be hoped that they will soon be forthcoming. The boys who have joined the company will during the next three months have to expend no less than $375, but they have seen the heavy losses caused by fire last spring and hope to prevent a repetition. Besides this a well drilled fire company will reduce the risks taken by insurance companies and consetaken by insurance companies and conse-quently their rates. The property owners will be pleased to assist this undertaking and in a few months Junction will have number one company,

Description of Dury.—Corvallis Times:
The spiritual welfare of our city is either being neglected, or our ethereal ideas have reached that state of perfection as to need no watchfuleye. Are we growing better and abler to be left alone, or have our celesting shepherds grown tired of their teachings?
We trust the former. Last Sabbath was an analysis one for Corvallis as his few We trust the former.
