Wanamaker's Idea.

Wanamaker's Idea.

The New York World reporter interviewed Postmaster-General Wanamaker the other day and during the course of his remarks he made these splendid and practical ideas:

"We have extended the special-delivery system and I have got an appropriation of $10,000 into the General Deficiency bill by which I hope to make some further experiments in this matter. I hope to see the time when every farmer will have his mail dropped at his door and every village will have its special delivery. Ten thousand dollars seems a small amount to experiment with, but I should probably have got nothing if I had asked for more. My idea is to take some village of say five hundred people and to give the postmaster $100 a year if he will have one of his clerks make one delivery throughout the town each day. I have no doubt that this can be done for that amount and I want to try it. Another idea of mine is to make the country school teachers mail agents. I will have the postmasters of these school districts send the mail for the families represented in the schobl to these teachers, and will pay them something to give out the letters and papers ence a day to the scholars to carry them home to their families. It seems to me that the postal facilities of this country might be very much increased in this way."

A Railroad Accident.

A Tacoma dispatch of Sept. 2d, says:
Later particulars received from the accident on the Northern Pacific last night states that the accident occurred five miles this side of Hot Springs. The train was speeding along eastward bound at a lively rate, when the passengers in the rear car felt a jar and on going out they found two sleepers and the dining ear on the track and six forward cars derailed. The engines had broken loose from the train and were standing on the track a short distance ahead. The derailed cars were badly demolished. The smoking car collided with a tree which was forced into the middle of the car. The tourist sleeper and one day car were badly broken. Hen Young, base ball umpire was killed, and J. D. Kepler, railroad contractor, of Red Bluff, fatally injured. Several other passengers were severely injured. The wounded passengers were brought back to this city, and are now in the hospital. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

Good Reasons for Defeat.

Alexander McClure, in a recent striking editorial in the Philadelphia Times, says that Senator Delamster will be defeated by ex-Governor Pattison by not less than 50,000. He says the causes which makes Pennsylvania against Delamater are not chiefly local, while his senatorial record is unsavory to the now aroused farming, mining and industrial interests generally. Demoralization under the violent policy of party leaders in congress and the prostitution of protection to wanton, wicked taxes on labor, to gratify banded greed, have broken the hitherto limpregnable labor lines of organization, and there is revolution in the air.

Quick Work.

It does not take long in California to convict criminals, as the following Cottonwood dispatch of the 2d, shows:

"The three men who wrecked the southbound Oregon express on the 29th of last month, one mile north of Vina, and captured in Cottonwood Sunday afternoon by Sheriff Vestal and Constable Birmingham, of Red Bluff, were taken in custody and positively identified as the parties who were wanted. They were tried before the superior judge of Tehama county to day and were sentenced to five years imprisonment in San Quentin.

According to the quotations yesterday, says the East Oregonian, grain sacks cost the farmers eight and one-half cents each. When they buy them they ought to remem-ber that the tariff tax on them is forty per ber that the tariff tax on them is forty per cent. That is, without this tax they ought to buy them for five or five and a half cents each. They should also know and note down in their mortgage memorandum book the other fact that this tax is maintained not in the interests of producers, nor laborers, but of a monopoly which absorbs all the immense profit made out of the farmers by this over-charge. How any farmer can vote for a high tariff tax is beyond comprehension.

The late Cardinal Newman was the author of one of the most beautiful hymns in the English language, "Lead, Kindly Light," which is sung in every Christian church in England and America, and wherever our mother tongue is spoken. It was written about the year 1830, when the author was in the deepest gloom and the greatest uncertainty as to his course as a Christian. Notwithstanding the universality of its use, it is stated that the cardinal informed a writer on the London Times shortly before his death that he had never heard his hymn sung.
