Insecure and Faulty.

it was found that two reasons were assigned for the wreck, to-wit:

1. That a call had been removed from the track by parties unknown.

2. That the weakness of the structure and age of the treatle was the cause. The commission dismiss the first theory. They decide no satisfactory evidence of the first contention and it is dismissed without

On the second reason they find a preponderance of evidence shows that the train went upon the frestle at 8:15 p. m. at the rate of twenty miles per hour. That the brakes were suddenly and firmly applied which caused the structure to give way 600 feet from the north approach, throwing down the entire structure. That the structure was faulty in the following particulars: The bents, considering the nature of the ground, it being boggy and spongy, were too far Weals, apart. The ties were too widely spaced, The guard rails were in a state of decay and but few of them properly fa-tened. They were so frail as to afford no safeguard. That much of the timber in the bents especially caps and sills, had more or less decayed. That the bents were not securely awaybruced. That some of the piles supporting the bents were unsound. That many of the stringer bolts had been allowed to become

> Therefore, for these reasons the structure was found not to be sufficiently strong to custain the weight and impact of moving trains as present themselves on any road at any time. The commission will notify the railway sompany that the entire treatle must be Dictionaries.

The Guand office received a consignment the Webster's Dictionaries that we are offering as premiums. Those who have subscribed or others who wish to who have subscribed or others who wish to subscribe can now get the book by calling at this office. Those who have taken it are well pleased with the quality and cheapness of the book. Remember, the dictionary and Guann for one year costs but $5.50. They are needed in every family, the one as a work of constant reference and the other to give the complete local news of Engene and Lane county. You cannot afford to do without either.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lunger. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do weel. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obsiructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist
