COMANCE OF COTTON SEED

Tts Rise in Agricultural Importance Reads Like a Fairy Tale. Was ever there a history this side of Cinderella, of the uprising of humility, like that of the cotton seed? Seef For seventy years despised as a nuisance and burned or dumped as gariage. Then discovered to be the very food for which the soil was hungering, and reductantly admitted to the rank of ugly

And then experience showed that the ton of cotton seed was a better fertilizer. and a letter stock ford when robbed of its thirty-five gallons of oil than before.

ton seed with capital letters. And how it traveled abroad in its various dresses! As meal cakes it whitened the mendows of England with woolly fleeces and fattened the British cattle under the oaks; it sputtered on the stoves of the Dutch in lieu of lard; it glistened in the cafes of Paris as olive oils under soals and signatures it couldn't even pronounce to save its life, and from under the dikes in Holland it went forth to parade in all the bravery of butter

In our own country it renewed the wasting strength of southern fields and clad them with whiteness that would shame the fleeces of England, or yellow that would pale the fleeces of Argonauts. It knocked the western hog into spots and poured the western land out of the frying pan into the fire. It furnished the Armours and Fairbankses with a pure substitute for the rancid fat they had been shipping us, and suggested the possibility of a clean and cheap lard.

And about this time congress jumped on to cotton seed with both feet and proposed to check its further career by a prohibitory tax. And now comes a gentleman of this city with a process by which he extracts thirty gallons of fine oil from every ton of cotton seed meal after the oil mills have done with it. In the "tailings" of the oil mills he finds this unexpected and ample store, which he deftly extracts with naphtha, leaving the meal more nutritious as food for beast or field than before he took $10 per ton from it.

This process he has proved repeatedly in his laboratory, and soon will approve in wider practice in a mill erected for the purpose near Atlanta. This invention quantity of seed.

More than this, it suggests the splendid possibilities yet undeveloped for this rural Cinderella that has risen all so swiftly from the ashes and the waste heap!-Atlanta Constitution.
