

Pleasant Hill Items.

May 12th, 1891. The band boys are practicing for the picnic.

Mr. Will Wheeler and family were visiting at H. C. Wheeler's on Sunday.

Mr. William West is giving his new house a coat of plaster, and when finished it will be one of the most durable buildings in the county.

After being "tied up" for a long time with a grippe, we are pleased to notice that Uncle Dan Hunsaker, of Dexter, is able to be out again.

Mr. R. Z. Fowler visited his ranch on the Siuslaw last week, and, like the sensible man that he is, cheerfully gave the right of way for the proposed railroad.

Mr. O. L. Brewster will leave soon for Glendale, near which place he has secured a nice place. While we are sorry to part with him as a neighbor, yet our loss will be others gain.

Mr. P. N. Shelly and Mr. W. P. Martin, with their families, will start for the Kition Springs this week. That the visit to the springs will improve their health is the wish of their numerous friends.

Uncle Leek Miller and wife start in the morning for Florence where, if the prospect is favorable, they may secure a slice of Uncle Sam's domain. Their daughter, Miss Gertrude, who has already secured a claim near Florence, will accompany them.

Mrs. Matthews, nee Carson, formerly a citizen of Eugene, whose husband was murdered in Texas some 18 months ago by highwaymen, has recently moved from California with the intention of settling in this vicinity. For the present she is living with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Sellers.

A thing coyote has been prowling around Clondale for some time, of huge proportions, a regular old resident, but he committed a serious mistake when coming in sight of a greyhound belonging to Mr. James R. Sellers. After chasing him awhile the faithful dog, like the Irishman, managed to "surround" him by getting him against a picket fence. Nobody being near the house at the time except Mrs. J. D. Sellers, that lady, unlike most of her sex, proceeded at once to put her coyote-horned dog in combat by emptying the contents of a shotgun at the animal, breaking one of his legs. Charlie, hearing the racket, went to the rescue, and now the sheep and turkeys are not annoyed as formerly.

Fall Creek Findings.

May 13. The frost last week nipped some of the gardens.

Rev. Fairchild, of Jasper, a former resident of Dakota, preached here Sunday last. George Neet returned from Big Prairie last Sunday after a week's visit with his brother.

Mr. Cassin started to Red Bluff, California, where his wife and her husband has a position on the railroad.

The cable gave way at the Aldridge ferry last week, seven miles above here, and the boat went down the river some distance before being stopped.

Charley Kissinger and wife returned from Junction last week, where they were called to the bedside of her father, Mr. Majors, who has been very sick.

Clyde Warner was in Eugene last Tuesday; whether he was one of the noble 2,000 who looked and waited and then waited and looked for the president to come out and make his regular little speech that he usually makes on such occasions, we did not learn.

Notwithstanding the severe strain your spring poet's machine was put to, it ought not to have collapsed until a few more stanzas had been ground out, for Tuesday morning, May 5, 1891 showed ever so memorable in the minds of the citizens who had assembled from miles around, and stood in the rain as it were to pay their respects to "Little Benny," the grandson of his grandfathers, who heeded them not but lay quietly on his upholstered couch and not a wave of trouble crossed his peaceful brow. Yet the mill was on and will continue to do so all time take its flight; presidents may come and go but our opinion is that should the president of his grandfather's hat fame ever come through Eugene he would not be met with as enthusiastic a crowd as that on Tuesday morning of last week.

Florence News.

The West, May 8. A post office has been established at Hecla.

The town is full of strangers seeking locations.

Mr. Wm. Etris is working on his farm near Glendale.

The steamer Lillian has a license to tow across the bay Captain John Bergman as captain and Wm. Saffley as engineer.

No more trouble about boats going out.

Mr. King, who had his legs broken a short time ago, is improving as rapidly as possible. The bones are beginning to knit and cause him a great deal of pain.

At the regular meeting of the Florence Board of Trade on Friday evening last the subject of a daily mail from Eugene was thoroughly discussed. This was brought about by receiving a letter from the Eugene board which had laid over one meeting. After the possibility of obtaining such service had been considered, the president was directed to appoint a committee to draft a petition requesting the 3d assistant Postmaster General to grant a daily mail service from Eugene to Florence, and petition to be approved by the Board, then forwarded to the Eugene Board of Trade for their approval and endorsement. The President appointed as such committee, Geo. H. Knowles, Wm. Kyle, O. W. Hurd, F. H. Rogers and L. C. Ackertly. Their first service termination to have our mail facilities better, and with the assistance of Eugene and Hon. Binger Hermann, we are confident it can be accomplished.

High Bank Items.

Items of interest are scarce.

Elijah Hills, of Jasper, passed through here Sunday.

Mr. Dan Perry returned to his home in Newark, California, last week.

Mrs. Smantha Painter sent to Fall creek Sunday to remain an indefinite time.

Miss Lou Benson, of Corvallis is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Jake Clearwater.

Paul Hadley, who is attending the University in Eugene Sunday at home near Jasper.

Pearl Castle died at Thurston last week and was buried in the cemetery at this place Sunday.

Mr. Geo. Kutzley departed last Saturday for Eastern Oregon, his former home, to remain about a month.

Junction Pilot: While in Portland last week C. W. Washburne purchased complete outfit for his flouring mill at Springfield. The mill will be in operation in about 150 barrels per day and is full roller process. The machinery was purchased of Nordike & Marjoni, Indianapolis, Ind.

The Second Regiment Band at Salem is compelled to take part in the encampment here, and the Salem papers are discussing where they will process music on the Fourth, where they should celebrate. The people of the city should postpone their celebration until next year, and join Eugene this year in the grandest celebration ever held in Oregon.

The Lane Co. Sunday School Convention will meet in the Baptist Church this place Monday, the 19th, at 7:30 p. m. Address by Rev. E. G. Wheeler, of Portland. The State Convention will meet Tuesday, the 20th at 7:30 p. m. in the C. P. Church in this city. Good programmes have been prepared. Everybody is invited.

A fastidious trip is reported to have taken place at Yarnia by recently. All the coupling pins were taken from the cars and thrown, apparently, into the bay. Some one suggested that it was the work of a disgruntled employe, but evidently that was a mistake. It was too goodhumored a trick for any workman to tolerate. More likely it was the work of a tramp.
