THE CRY OF MILLIONS!
OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW.
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my aid. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

Wheat Demand and Supply.

The countries that will have to import large quantities of wheat are: Great Britain, 160,000,000 bushels; France, 80,000,000, and Belgium, Austria, Germany, Italy, Holland and Switzerland, the requirements ranging from 13,000,000 to 33,000,000 bushels. Besides these, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Denmark and Scandinavia will be importers in larger quantities.

The chief exporting countries are: The United States, with an estimated surplus this year of 150,000,000; India, 44,000,000; Russia, 60,000,000; Hungary and South-eastern Europe, 80,000,000; Turkey and Algeria, 25,000,000, and a few other regions in lesser amounts.

The estimated requirement for the importing countries, above their own productions, is 400,000,000 bushels; the surplus of the countries exporting is nearly as much. These figures are all approximations, of course, but such as they are they indicate a remarkably close approach of the actual demand to the possible supply.

Besides this, rye, which may be and in a considerable degree is a substitute in European countries for wheat, is a very light crop. Russia and Germany produce about two-thirds of the rye crop of Europe, Russia about half; but the average production this year will be comparatively small.

The grain gamblers will have a difficult job in controlling prices and plundering farmers this year, as they generally succeed in doing very readily.

Board of Trade Meeting.

At the called meeting of the Eugene Board of Trade Thursday, Aug. 6, the special committee on the Siuslaw reported as follows:

EUGENE, Or., Aug. 6, 1901.

The Eugene Board of Trade in special session convened Saturday evening, Aug. 6, 1901, considered the report of the special committee on the Siuslaw harbor, and after hearing the report of the Hon. Binger Hermann of the result of his personal examination of the same, appointed a special committee to urge the immediate commencement of operations for the faithful management of the appropriation of $50,000 expenditure of the appropriation of Congress, 1900, made at the last session of Congress. The special committee expressed the feeling of this board in an appeal to our representatives in Congress which was done in the following language to wit:

(We have heretofore published the letter.—Ed.)

In response to the appeal Senator Mitchell and Representative Hermann telegraphed the war department at Washington the full text of the appeal from the people as represented in this board and secured the reversal of the recommendation of Capt. Symons, and an order for the immediate commencement of the work which has been so long postponed in this board in various telegrams which may be summed up in effect by quoting the telegram sent Aug. 6th from the Secretary of war to Capt. Symons which is as follows:

The secretary of war approved the procurement of necessary plans and commencement of the work at the mouth of the Siuslaw, as proposed by the board. You will proceed to start the work accordingly.

Resolved, Resolved by the Eugene Board of Trade in special session Aug. 6, 1901, that the thanks of this board be conveyed to each of the Oregon delegation in Congress for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have responded to the appeal of our people and that we express to them our great gratification for the success which is about to crown the effort.

Resolved further, that we believe that the future importance of the Siuslaw as a harbor will ultimately be the means of developing a commerce that will exert a beneficial influence upon every industry of our county, and prove the means for reducing the cost of exchange of products to a minimum figure and thus settle the vexed question of rates for transportation.

Resolved, that it is the purpose of this board to foster and encourage every legitimate enterprise both corporate or private that may be undertaken for the development of the vast resources that are within our county, and of every access to the right kind of enterprise with congenial capital commensurate with the opportunity that is offered.

O. K.

An Old Odd Fellow Dead.

The veteran Odd Fellow, Father Armstrong, died at his home in Salem, Ore., Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock. He had been confined to his bed for about three weeks, during which time he gradually grew weaker and the end came quietly. He came to the peaceful close at a long day. He spent his life out, having been a member for several hours preceding his death.

Wm. Armstrong was born in Auburn, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1802, and was initiated into the mysteries of the I. O. O. F. at Buffalo, N. Y., in September, 1824.

It has been conceded for many years that Father Armstrong was the oldest living Odd Fellow—oldest both in life and in years of membership in the order. For more than a half century he was a regular lodge attendant, and none there were who could wrest the honor from him.

WILL NOT STRIKE.—Albany Democrat: A meeting of the employees of the O. P. was held last evening at Yaquina City, when it was decided not to strike, but to place their claims in the hands of Attorney General Geo. E. Chamberlain for collection, who will use every effort possible to get their money for them. In this way they will get their money as quick as if they made a strike, if not quicker, and at the same time retain their positions. The employees of the road are peculiarly men of good character and sober judgment, and they do not propose to do anything that is not for the best interests of everybody concerned, as well as the community at large. Our merchants should stand in with them.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN.—Drain Echo: The safe of Primes and Bridges was blown open Wednesday night. The burglars entered at a rear window. The firm having made some remittances Wednesday, there was but a small amount of money in the safe. The damage to the safe is more loss than the money taken. Persons sleeping over the store last night were awakened by the noise of the tools used by the burglars were in the safe. The thieves are supposed to have entered Mr. A. W. Hart's residence to get something to eat.

HEAVY FAIR.

Saturday, at 8 o'clock a.m., James Warrick received a fair that proved to be quite lucky over-liebling everything.

He had just suspended a ladder to the roof of Geo. Fisher's barn on High street, when by some means he fell to the ground a distance of about sixty feet, alighting on his heels.

He was taken to his home in a hack and Dr. Harris called, who reported that no bones were broken, and that the concussion to the joints of the limbs was the only injuries received, and that he will soon be around again.

Spending Your Money at Home.

The following from the Roseburg Plaindealer is interesting:

A month-long individual was working Roseburg last Monday endeavoring to obtain customers for a purchasing agency concern in Portland. His plan was to collect five dollars as a membership fee for one year, during which time the subscriber to the scheme was guaranteed the privilege of purchasing any manner of goods desired through the medium of the agency at the lowest wholesale prices. It is an old dodge for scooping in the pockets of rural residents, and has been commented upon so much by the press that it seems unnecessary to suppose any one so stupid as to stock in it. The scheme is based on the most honorable way is to let such schemes alone and do your trading with the local dealers. Then you have the double assurance of getting the value of your money and knowing that your money goes into a legitimate business channel. If you want to injure the town of your adoption, send out orders for your goods, but if you desire your town to grow, keep your money at home. The class of men who bite at such schemes as the one in question are those who run credit accounts at the stores, and when they have any ready money they send to Portland or some other place and buy their goods of strangers.

NEW STEAMER FOR Siuslaw.—Last Thursday's Coos Bay News says: The steamer Coos started for the Siuslaw, Monday, in tow of the tug Hunter, which was to take her within a short distance of the mouth of the river, and where she had crossed in, so as to render assistance if necessary. Capt. Denham, Capt. Robt. Jones and Andrew Hall, engineer, were on board the Coos. It is the intention to run her as an opposition boat on the Siuslaw.

The steamer arrived in the Siuslaw river, and was fastened to the bank, and was safe and sound. She is a side-wheel, and has a commodious cabin.

USEFUL FOR USE.—The county clerk has received the blank assessment rolls for 1901 from the Secretary of State. They are not suitable for the purpose intended and Lane county will have to buy other rolls.

The Farmington, Wash. Newspaper speaking of Sill's Bros. circus at that place says: One commendable feature of the show was the entire absence on the grounds of the army of fakirs and sure-things gamblers. All these which have always before in this country instead of hot days yet—robbery, the unsophisticated and annoying every-day.

Scrap-iron says the condition of crops abroad will cause a large demand for our wheat, and the foreign shipments may be the largest on record. Statistics show an increase of acreage here compared with last year of ten per cent.

A party of Oregon City prospectors left Eugene Aug. 6, for the Blue River mines. They purchased their supplies in this city.

The Baker City Democrat speaks in very complimentary terms of the performance of Sells Bros. circus at that place.

The proposed school house, at Junction, was informed by one of the directors, will not be built until next summer.

This is the coolest summer, taken as a whole, so far, in the memory of the oldest settlers—two real hot days yet—robbery, the unsophisticated and annoying every-day.

"Your letters do not seem so bright and interesting as they used to be," she wrote reproachfully to her young man, and the man modestly to himself: "That's strange; they used to be perfectly satisfactory to the other girl."

The Vale Gazette gives the following, and after reading it, it is safe to predict who will win the law suit mentioned:

"Last week Chas. Becker was returning from Baker City the conductor asked him for his ticket, whereupon he said he had given it to him, but the conductor said he had not and Becker insisted yes. So the conductor stopped the train and got him off, for which he will be paid by the law suit mentioned."

"The 'Mishner' at the king's' side regards food that he ate at a ticket in his pocket and that the conductor simply treated him in a customary manner."

The gamblers of Portland are quarreling among themselves. The police take action only when some gambler swears out a warrant for his fellows.
