I have a cousin who is a printer, says Ex-Mayor J. C. Loughran of North Des Moines, Ia. Some years ago he was employed in this city where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep seated cold and terrible cough, and while setting up copy he made up his mind to buy a tottle. It cured him and that was the first I ever knew of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have been strongly in its favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that this remedy is the best in the world. That may be strong language but that is what I think. Joe Perkins, of Row river, who broke jail here a few months ago, came down Wednesday and took the train from the east side of the railroad track for Eugene, returning in the evening. He kept clear of the city limits and no doubt it is well that he did. When a man breaks jail and leaves, to escape his just dues, he surely should re-ceive his teward when he next visits town.

Last week a subscription paper was drawn up to raise money to build a road to Bohemia. Dr. B. F. Hamell headed the list with a subscription of $200. This road is very badly needed and as it would be very much of a benefit to all of Lane county it should receive the attention it deserves. The road could be built for about $3000 and should be raised without any difficulty.

English Sparrows.

Ma. Epiron:—The newspapers of Oregon have had a good deal recently to say con-cerning the English sparrows now immi-grating into this state. Some people seem to regard them as a great nuisance while others look upon them as rather a blessing, and extend to them a hearty welcome to "Webfoot." While making my recent visit "Webfoot." While making my recent visit in the "States" I had many opportunities of observing those little feathered inhabitants of all the towns and cities, which I visited east of Minneapolis. The first that I noticed were in Burlington, Iowa. They were to be seen in the streets, on the sidewalks to be seen in the streets, on the sidewalks just before, and immediately behind you. They seemed not to fear the close approach of horse or carriage, street car, pedestrian or bicycle, but they always managed to keep from being run over or tramped under foot by the surging masses which constantly crowd the streets and sidewalks of those great cities. The people seem to pay as little attention to the birds as the birds do to the people. Notwithstanding there were thousands of sparrows in the streets, I never saw a man, or even a boy, so much as fling a stone at one of them, nor molest them in any manner. But both people and birds appeared to be busy, attending to their own business. The sparrows may in-trude upon the rights of gardeners and fruit growers to a limited extent for all that growers to a limited extent, for all that I know; but they are certainly pretty good scavengers, and also destroy thousands of insects which infest gardens and orchards. I observed them constantly at work from daylight in the morning until the darkness of night interfered with their labors. Upon the whole, I am inclined to regard them as useful, as well as ornamental, and shall not worry because of their advent into Oregon.

A TEN FOOT COUGAR.—Oregonian: Dr. William McLean, the well-known veterinary surgeon, who is spending a few weeks at Foley Springs with his wife, recently covered himself with glory by killing a large cougar that measured ten feet from he end of his nose to the tip of his tail. The cougar had been committing depredations in the vicinity for several months, and finally a party of gentlinen organized a cougar huni. Dr. McLean was among them, and it fell to his good lot to secure the prize. He shot the cougar through the front shoulder and he will bring the skin back with him as a trophy of the chase.
