Pleasant Hill letms.
Aug. 20, 1891.
Mr. E. B. Handaker, of Junction visited friends here and at Jasper this week.
Some who are interested would like to know why it takes eight days to receive mail from Florence.

A petition is being circulated asking permission to move the post office to the vicinity of the church.

Mr. Beecher of Springfield, was here last week with a view of getting the year of removing the pioneer store.

This is the season of the job when we are reminded of the experience of a Mongolian, who some years ago rented a farm in the Umpqua. He said: "First come a leeper, 'take half him; den come slasher,
'take all'im."

A number of wagons passed here a few days ago, from Coos bay, well filled with families bound for Idaho. A number of persons camped here last night who came from California and who had been traveling "ever since I was born," as a big lad expressed himself.

Last week the GUARD and JOURNAL failed to arrive much to the dissatisfaction of their many readers who like to peruse them on Sunday, which at this season of the year, is about all the leisure time they have to read.
They came in Monday's mail, since the overland does not leave the mail any more at Goshen. Will not the editors of these papers see that all the papers are mailed in time for Friday's south bound train?

The Daily GUARD was in error last week when it stated that Mr. Bannahan of Pleasant Hill had been sent to his friends in California at the expense of the county.
The person referred to was named Baucum, and had resided in Springfield for some years but had lately made his home near Trent.

Mail Sacks Stiff.
THE DALLES, Or., Aug. 20.—The Prinville and Canyon City stage was held up yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, three miles west of Sherar's bridge, by a masked man armed with a Winchester rifle. He ordered the driver, Charles Adams, to throw out the mail sacks. Five were given to the robber and the driver was ordered to drive on. Adams was asked by the man who was behind him, and answered, teamsters. Parties who visited the scene soon afterward found two sacks, but the other three had been taken. The robber is described as a medium-sized man wearing blue overalls. The driver was excited.
He could not tell whether the robber wore a coat. Two masks were found made out of portions of oatmeal sacks. The authorities of this city are taking measures to arrest the culprit. The place is about thirty miles from the Dalles. No passengers were in the stage that day. The sacks contained money orders, registered letters, etc. Two Indians started from Sherar's bridge, three miles from the scene of the robbery, immediately. They were well armed to attack the robber and were following it up with prospects of capturing the thief.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.—We are informed that a so-called reverend gentleman should be made amenable to the law, that prohibits cruelty to animals. The robbery the person in question shamefully abused his horse near Dr. Patterson's residence.
The horse balked and was whipped for nearly twenty minutes then knocked down with the butt of the whip. Such conduct should not be tolerated.

LICENSE PAID.—The circus paid the county license August 21st. Clerk Walker charged them $150 for the two performances.

FOR THE SURELAW.—We take the following from the Newport News of August 21st: Mr.
G. A. Lyell, assistant United States civil engineer, leaves today for Siuslaw bay.
During his sojourn at this place he has made many friends by his enthusiasm for the work going on here, his independence of character and his impartiality to government employes. It is to be regretted that the "flat" causing this change of base has gone forth, but our loss is Siuslaw's gain.

DEED.—At her residence in Goose Lake valley, August 16, 1891, Mrs. Ann P. Henderson, wife of Elder Henry M. Henderson, aged 88 years, 7 months and 21 days, Mrs. Henderson lived near Eugene for three years removing to Lake county in 1889. She was a consistent christian, and left a husband and six children. The burial took place at Lakeview August 17.

WARRANT FOR ARREST.—J. R. Dixon left here on the local train Monday for the north, having on him a warrant bearing that he had gone, had a warrant arrested charging him with leaving the state with intent to defraud his creditors.
The amount of their claim is $61. The Sheriff has been telegraphing to have him arrested, but at the time of going to press had not received it.

For Sale.
A good seven room house; hard finished in good location. For particulars inquire at this office.

At Sco last week there died Mrs. Sarah Dunoon, who had lived on this earth long over the generally allotted time of man.
The old lady lacked but seven months of being centenarian being over 99 years old at the time of her death.

Pendleton East Oregon: The Chinese have trimmed and painted a flagstaff, ninety feet high, from a tree brought from the mountains. They intended to float a Chinese Masonic emblem from the top, but the Knights of Labor objected to the display of a Chinese flag, so the Chinese have compulsed to put their flag under the stars and stripes in order to prevent trouble.

Pendleton E. O.: The Indian land allotment is progressing nicely, and there have been few kicks for the commissioners to decide. The Indians are not near so prone to dispute as their white brothers. If two want the same piece of land, one or the other withdraws with the remark: "You take this and I'll get another." While man under the same circumstances would probably fight, figuratively speaking, until the last gasp, for supremacy.

BLOOD POISONING.—Will Parsons, the blacksmith Saturday morning burned his hand slightly, and Sunday picked the scab off. It immediately commenced swelling and he did not succeed in stopping the same until it reached his elbow.

DIED.—Vesinger Battledge died at Pleasant Hill, Saturday morning, August 22, of necrosis of the heart, following an attack of bilious fever, aged 35 years. The interment took place at the Pleasant Hill cemetery Sunday.

SALOON SOLD.—Perry McNeil has sold his saloon in the Tines block to Charles Campbell, late of Astoria. Mr. McNeil will return to Portland.

ADDITIONAL DEALERS.—One hundred and twenty new desks have arrived for the Geary school house, and they are being placed in position.

Crushed to Death.
The Harrisburg Courier, Aug. 21, gives an account of the killing of the tramp by a freight train as follows: An unknown tramp was killed by the south-bound freight train a few yards north of the depot Wednesday evening. The train was quite late, it being about 9:30 o'clock p. m., when it pulled in. While a part of the crew were unloading freight the others were placing a stock car in position on the side track. Three were on the switch with several cars and it was while coupling the cars that Brakeman Hall first heard the cries of the man under the wheels. As quickly as he possibly could he gave the signal to stop, but the train must have moved about two car lengths before it came to stand still, and subsequent examination proved that the dead man was dragged about that distance ploughing the ground between the ties as he was dragged. As the fingers of his left hand, his right arm below the elbow and his right leg were cut and broken, and his body considerably broad, it is supposed that he was rolled by the cars as much as he was dragged. His head was cut in two, the skull and upper portion of his face being all mashed to pieces. He was supposed to be about 45 years of age, had dark hair, sandy mustache and chin whiskers, slightly gray. On his breast was a tattoo of a rather large male torso. He was seen and even spoken to a few moments before the arrival of the train.
Nothing was found about his person that could identify him. All his effects showed him to be a professional tramp. It is supposed that he was endeavoring to climb either on a brake beam or on the draw-heads, when he lost his footing and was precipitated under the cars. The inquest was held by Mr. Douglas, and the jury substantiated the facts as above given, after which the undertaker took the remains in charge and interred them in the Alford cemetery Thursday morning.

Florence Notes.
The West, Aug. 21.
A. E. Gallagher is down from Eugene for a couple of weeks outing.
Siuslaw fishermen are getting their boats and nets in shape for work.
Steamer Chance is expected to arrive today. She will have on board implements for use on the Light-house rock and twelve or fifteen Chinamen for cannery work.
Mr. Sauerb is putting in a boom of no small magnitude in the river about a mile above here. He is building a pile boom 1,400 feet in length, also a fine boom 600 feet long; together with these improvements he is driving piling for a large pier, which when completed, will be filled with rock, thus giving him a means of stopping and holding (when required) all the logs that run down the river.
Kimball, Stevens & Co. had made all necessary arrangements for the erection of their mill in Florence, but just as they were about to begin work on the mill proper, a little matter of title to fifteen acres of side land, fronting on the land which these gentlemen purchased of Mr. Morse, presents itself and at one time seemed quite liable to overthrow the whole matter and compel these gentlemen to locate elsewhere, had not our most enterprising citizens gotten together and agreed among themselves to purchase this tract of land. A subscription was started and soon a sum of money required, $500 was subscribed and a purchase of the land effected.

Another Drowning.
Hugh T. Bingham, a prominent lawyer of Portland, while fishing at North Beach, near the mouth of the Columbia river, was swept off the rocks and drowned Aug. 22, at 12:30 o'clock. His companion, Joe Knott, was also swept into the sea but managed to keep afloat and was cast upon the rocks in an exhausted condition after half an hour's struggle. The deceased was a warm friend of T. A. Sutherland, the Portland editor, who was drowned Thursday.

Kicked by a Circus Horse.
Daily Guard, August 23d.
Ulrich Dillard, who lives south of Eugene, was kicked in the back by a circus horse Aug. 21st, and had severe ribs loose, besides being badly bruised. He was taken to A. S. McClure's residence and Dr. Sharples was called, who dressed the wounds. This morning he is resting easily and slowly recovering.

For Trade.
A 16 months old Jersey bull for sale or trade for wood, oats or a fresh milk cow. Apply at this office for information.

ELECTED DELEGATES.—Revs. S. P.
Wilson and C. G. Stratton were yesterday elected ministerial delegates to the general Methodist conference.

New School Law.
It was provided by the last legislature that "when the entire school funds received annually by each school district from the appropriation of the 5-mill county school tax and the irreducible state school funds made by the several county superintendents, shall not be exhausted for school purposes within and during the year for which such appropriations are made, such unexpended balance shall be forfeited to the general school fund of the county, and the clerk of said district shall report the amount of said unexpended balance in his first annual report therefor to the county school superintendent, who shall place said sum to the credit of the general school fund of the county, and charge the same to said district as a part of first succeeding year's apportionment thereafter."

C. W. Young will lay a cement walk in front of his brick block.
Hayne, Buck & Co., who have a contract on the Eugene sewer, have received the contract for a sewer in Albany.

We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Oregon State Fair, which commences Sept. 14th and continues six days.

John Diamond, of Corburg, last week purchased the Finley soda springs with about 400 acres of land in Lane county, for the sum of $2,800.

The Portland Exposition this year seems doubtful as to the wisdom of holding a fair, if one is to judge from their lack of advertising.

Rugby's circus "went busted" in Lake county, when on the return from Hood.
The employes were most of them discharged without receiving their wages, and curses deep and loud were heard on every side against the concern that did not advertise. Even a fair man advertises to be successful these times.

Dallas Observer: We have it from reliable authority that there is about $300,000 insurance carried at Dallas, while the assessment roll last year footed up, including indebtedness, about $220,000. If we calculate that not more than one-half the property is insured and that at two-thirds its value, we must conclude that there is something rotten in Denmark.

Harney county's grain crop will be very large this year and the season prices will be lower than ever before. The absence of any means of transportation makes our home market the only dependence for disposing of the surplus. If Harney valley hay and grain could be converted into beef, mutton or pork it would be the simplest solution of the surplus problem. This can be done, and it will be done before long.—Burns Items.

Can a newspaper please everybody? It can not. Ought everybody be pleased? No.
Why not? Well, if a newspaper pleased everybody, and everybody was pleased, the time spent here on earth would be so fearfully monotonous that the people would not care how soon the globe went to pieces.
A newspaper must rattle the dry bones, make everybody mad, be boycotted, kick up Jacks, tell the truth, expose falsehood, lay bare hypocrisy, fraud and the like, and lead the way to the other shore through all fairminded people.—Corvallis Times.

Sewer Connections.
Eugene's initiatory work on her system of sewerage will soon be completed. It will then be in order for adjacent property owners to connect, and this should be done before the winter season. Eugene can profit from the experience of Albany. The Herald of that city says:

"It is a startling fact that a large per cent. of property owners adjacent to sewers, already completed have made no connections whatever, and have been allowed to create and use foul cesspools, which destroy the value of the city sewerage system and dot every ward of the city with reeking disease-breeding nuisances. The attention of the city authorities has been repeatedly called to this matter and they have been urged to compel property owners to connect with the sewers already constructed and rid the city of these plague spots, which are everywhere recognized as chief factors in producing diphtheria, scarlet fever and all sorts of diseases. The city council has ordered the connection made so many times that the order has become a very stale chestnut, but still the wrong is allowed to go on seemingly like Tennyson's 'Brook,' forever.

"While the city authorities have this sewerage matter in hand they should now complete it thoroughly. To do this they must not allow the importance of the new work overshadow the value of the sewers already in operation. There is no use of expending thousands of dollars for new sewers unless property owners use them.
Many, of course, will gladly connect others, at least in the case of the city will not do so until they are compelled which the city thus far has neglected.
Several blocks in the best residence of Albany can be pointed out where sewers are completed and three-fourths the property owners have made no connection. This is not only a shameful neglect of the people's money in constructing that are not utilized, but it is also which the health of the city depends corrected, and the city authorities I wish to perform their duties and as public as they should, will see that sewer connections are made and these nuisances abated. They will not be able to find; they can be pointed out in every direction, in almost any block."

State University Medical College.
The Portland Welcome says that the officers of the medical department of the State University have concluded to erect a new medical college, without delay, on Twenty-second and L streets, Portland.
The structure is to be two stories in height, together with a brick basement and topped by a mansard roof. It will contain all the more modern appliances now in vogue in medical universities. The building, as shown by the plans and specifications, is calculated to be 40x54 feet, and its cost shall not fall below $10,000. The bids are to be opened next week, and work begun immediately thereafter. The reason for going to this expense is to meet the accommodation of the constantly increasing number of matriculates. This is the first publicity given by the medical officers that they are prepared to proceed with the work.
