The St. Louis Republic exposes some false claims as follows: A new York contemporary founded by the Ammidoun League of Protected Plutocrats is very fond of "tariff pictures" of this kind: "A Fourteenth street dry goods house last Sunday advertised Smyrna rugs of three square yards each for sale at $2.49.

Well, the duty on those rugs is 60 cents a yard and 40 per cent. ad valorem, or $2.80.

We again ask if the tariff is a tax. Now, Smyrna is located in Asia, and, according to this statement, $2.80 duty, fine, tax, or whatever you please to call it, must be paid on a Smyrna rug of three square yards before it can get into this country. No matter what you call it, you cannot get a Smyrna rug of that size past the custom house without paying $2.80 on it. Then, according to the "tariff picture," you go off and give it away and in addition make the person you give it to a present of 31 cents or the difference between $2.80, the duty, and $2.49, the selling price.

We might ask our Ammidoun contemporary to explain how this is possible, but that is unnecessary, as no merchant is ever silly enough to give away Smyrna rugs—and as the Ammidoun organ is not likely to tell the truth about it, at any rate.

The truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, is that the alleged "Smyrna rug" sold for $2.49 is a forgery, a fraud, a cheat, that is probably not worth carrying home at 50 cents. It never saw Smyrna at all. It was made either in New England, New York or Philadelphia. It is made of cotton and shoddy. The Republic knows of one of these frauds bought a full year after a real Smyrna rug of which it was a forgery. The Smyrna rug is still as good as new. The colors are fresh and brilliant. It has not lost a strand of its fringe. The fraudulent imitation is so worn out after its short service that it is not fit to put in the laundry to keep the washerwoman's feet out of the sloop. Fit for nothing else, it might do to furnish a photograph to illustrate the tariff as a tax.

Forty years ago the millionaires could be counted on the fingers of a hand. Now there are 10,000 millionaires, and half the wealth of 64,000,000 people is in the hands of 25,000 men. Acting on the belief that vast wealth in the hands of the few would produce traitors, Thomas Jefferson swept from the statutes of Virginia the laws of primogeniture. What are the people of this day and age going to do to stay the hand of corporate power from grasping the entire wealth of the country, and thus enslave the people?

The tell-tale microscope reveals the fact that while the "Holy Coat" exhibited at Treves is made of linen, a piece of the same garment exhibited at Argenteuil is made of camel's hair. But this should not shake the faith of the truly faithful. The miracle that preserved the coat for 2,000 years could easily convert lint of flax into hair of camel. The microscopist has no business to monkey with the miraculous.

Spokane Chronicle: Wheat is carried from Chicago to Buffalo, N. Y., 800 miles by water, or 500 miles by an air line, for 1 cent per bushel, less than 35 cents per ton. Transporting wheat from the Palouse country to the Sound at $5 per ton, costs the Washington farmer 15 cents per bushel.

The fact demonstrated by the official figures that Alabama is producing more iron ore than Pennsylvania, and that the total product of the South is now in excess of that of the whole country in 1870, must be regarded as a very interesting and significant one, says the St. Louis Democrat.

The enterprising newspapers of the east say it is to be in October that Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland's family is to be increased. The newspapers are close figurers and before this interesting event occurs the public will undoubtedly be apprised of the sex of the youngster.

"Ah, Jonesy, old man," said Bjensks, as he and Jones walked home from the club, "there's a light in your window for you. You married my wife—'" "By George, so there is!" returned Jones. "Let's go back to the club."

Up to date the people who have profited most by the wool tariff are the gentlemen who shear shoddy. The men who shear wool are beginning to find out that they are not in it.

Oregon had advanced enough to be made a territory on August 13, 1848.

Estray Notice.

Came to my place on the Babb ranch four miles below Eugene about August 1st, two large red steers 6 or 6 years old, one branded V on hip. Owner can get same by paying expenses.

JOHN METTAUER.

Hon. John Linn.

The town of Latah, Washington, was thrown into great excitement a few days since by the report of the suicide of its respected citizen, John Linn, aged 70 years, by the taking of a dose of morphia with suicidal intent. Mr. Linn has been dependent for some time, and did not seem to take any interest in what was going on around him, and would often shut himself in his room for days at a time seeing no one and eating scarcely anything, but no one there thought that his fate would overtake him.

Mr. Linn has no near relatives in that part of the country, and where he came from is not known. He went to California in 1845, and not prospering there he moved to this state in 1847. He was highly respected and became one of the prominent men in the section where he lived, and Linn county was named for him.

The Chinamen Sabeed.

Early in the season mention was made of the fact that in the hop yard of F. Levy, three miles up the river from Salem, the Chinamen had taken a novel method to rid the vines of lice. This is a thirty acre field, and when the lice began to be thick, and before the berry had commenced to form, the Celestial workers went into the field and stripped each vine of its every leaf. This left the lice with nothing upon which to feed and they sought sustenance elsewhere, or starved to death while waiting for the new leaves to sprout. When the vines donned their new foliage there were but few lice to bother them or impede their progress or the growth and maturity of the hop. Today Mr. Levy has, perhaps, the cleanest hop yard in this section of the country, and will harvest a good big crop. With him picking will commence Monday, and he expects to gather not less than 300 bales. The experiment of the Chinese, though unique, has been a paying one, as attested by the present condition of the thirty acres of hop vines that were denuded of their summer garb. Some growers this season accomplished the same good results in a measure by pasturing their yards with sheep. The sheep ate the lower leaves and as a result there are not nearly so many lice as in yards that were not similarly treated.

Ice Works and Cold Storage.

Work is progressing rapidly on the ice factory and cold storage works. Until recently it has been somewhat impeded owing to the fact that some days the work would require the services of four or five men and other days ten or twelve. Workmen are now busy putting in machinery. This is the first enterprise of its kind in Eugene and will be a valuable acquisition. The management expect to commence the manufacture of ice Sept. 12th, while the cold storage department will be ready on Sept. 15th.

The ice works will have a capacity of 10 tons daily, though at the start owing to the lateness of the season the output will not be more than five tons. The ice will be the best crystal ice. The cold storage rooms will have a capacity of six tons, that is they will take care of an amount of products requiring six tons of ice. The rooms will be for rent to different firms of the city and will take care of all kinds of meats, fruits, etc.

Hereafter we will not be compelled to get our ice from abroad and can patronize home industry.

COLLEGE HILL PARK SOLD.

A Large Real Estate Transfer—Consideration, $32,000.00.

E. J. Frasier and T. R. Berry closed the trade Monday with J. F. Atherton for the purchase of College Hill Park, together with Mr. Atherton's elegant new residence, including piano, furniture and all the contents. The consideration was $32,000. Messrs. Frasier & Berry will at once extensively advertise the property and no doubt offer big inducements to purchasers. This is decidedly the finest residence property on the Eugene market and will require only reasonable terms to meet with ready sale.

Cannery Items.

Canning peaches commenced at the cannery Thursday morning. About 90 persons are now employed in the various departments, although by the middle of next week more will be needed. The cannery presents a lively appearance and under the management of Mr. Groons good work is being done. Mr. Groons informs us that he considers the dryer one of the best ever built. There are six trucks in the dryer with a capacity of 5000 pounds to the truck.

Next week, if enough peaches can be secured, they will can ten tons a day. Next year the people of Lane county will know that they have a market for their produce and there will be no delay at the cannery.

Bears Killed.

The fruit season brings the bears out of the mountains into the foothills and valleys in search of sweet and luscious fruit of which they are fond. Two of the Brella family were killed Sunday, one of them by Matt Stafford near his place on the Mohawk.

The other was on the open prairie between Judge Scott's house and Jas. Ebbert's residence when seen by John Palmer and Mr. Crawford. They were on horseback and went into the field and soon dispatched the reckless bear. It is very seldom they take the open ground in a thickly settled vicinity.

Attention, Everybody.

If this doesn't interest you can do your friends a favor by calling their attention to this.

I am going to give you all an even trade of watches, clocks, jewelry, silverware and specialties at manufacturers' prices for cash for a short time only.

I have some money to raise immediately and am going to raise it.

This is no advertising dodge but strictly business. J. O. WATTS.

The present scarcity of grain in Germany has had the curious result of introducing the German soldier to wheat bread. That is a luxury that has been considered for ages the exclusive possession of the well-to-do. The rye loaf has been the only thing seen on the tables of the poor, and it has been the kind of bread most commonly used even by the middle classes. To give wheat to common soldiers because rye is too dear must seem to conservative Germans an upheaval in the order of nature.

The United States government will find itself in trouble if the rain producing experiments are successful. It will fall alike on the just and unjust, the man that needs rain and the sinner that does not. While it would help one it would ruin another, and in consequence the government would be held responsible.

Good lots on 11th street, on car line, only $300. This is good property and is surely a rare bargain. Inquirers of D. Linn & Son.

All persons desiring to keep student borders report to D. Linn & Son. Students desiring board can secure good accommodations by inquiring at same place of business.
