Albany Herald.

Albany Herald. While in Eugene recently we had the pleasure of shaking hands with Prof. D. V. S. Reid, principal of the Eugene public schools, and formerly school superintendent of Linn county. These schools consist of the central school, having an enrollment of 393 pupils and eight teachers and the Geary school, having an enrollment of 305 pu-pils and eight teachers. Prof. Reid de-serves great credit for his excellent meth-ods of school government, and the teachers deserve high praise for their untiring ef-forts in the cause of education. The rooms are well lighted and ventilated. And the sanitary condition of both schools is lucked after by Prof Reid personally. The professor is an enthusiastic sanatarist.

menced at Albany Thursday. The Democrat says: The defendant is represented by Hon. J. K. Weatherford and Hon. W. R. Bilyeu, and the state by District Al-torney G. H. Bingham, H. H. Hewitt and J. R. Wyatt. Mr. Wyatt stated the case on the part of the state and Mr. Bilyeu, on behalf of the defendant. John Oakley testified: Live 5 milles south of Lebanon. Nephew of Henry and Frank Ingram. Was at Frank's in bed when the shot was fired. (Wit-ness pointed out on map various objects near the place of killing.) Went to bed about half-past seven. Heard one shot up towards Henry's. Saw flash of pistol when I was getting up. When I got up and went out I saw the man on the ground dead. Frank whe man on the sheriff. Louden went to tell the sheriff. (Witness recognized two pistols.) Frank took the pistols out of the house that night. He told me to wash the dishes before he went out. Frank took the shells out of the pistols. the house that night. He told me to wash the dishes before he went out. Frank took the shells out of the pistols. I found out who it was that was killed when the coroner's jury came out. Nothing was said about who it was that was killed when I went out. Gun was lying about 3 feet from the dead man. His face was turned up and hat under head. Just before I heard shot I heard some one say, "Oh I murder." It was just as I heard the shot that I heard some one say, "Oh I murder." Don't know whose voice it was. Hat looks like one found near dead boby, Vest, jumper and hat of deceased were offered in evidence. Shortly after killing, hired man left for town. Defendant just after killing went into the house and began read-ing newspaper. Witness staid on the porch. Uncle went out after reading a little to see what the dog was barking at. Distance to town was five miles. Uncle read nearly all the time until sheriff came. He did not say anything about who the man was. When he went out the second time I asked him if he had killed a man. He said he had. Three men came out and Frank told them that he believed it was his brother Henry that he killed. Frank said for me to wash the dishes and he would watch about the orchard. The night before when Louden came home he told Frank that there was a man about the barn. Frank went out. I did not know anything about Frank going to Looney's. Heard two shots the night before. On Saturday night before the killing everything was still. Nothing occurred Sunday. Dog made noise Tuesday night. Wednesday night all was still. Asked Frank if he was going far when he went out on night of killing. I was afraid on ac-count of these troubles to stay alone. Killing was done in Linn county, Ors-gon. The following is the testimony of the deft, Frank Ingram in the murder men on Wednesday night. Louden described them to me. Thought the men intended to kill me.

The Maxwell Will Case.

Monday at 10 o'clock the [Maxwell will case came on to be heard before Judge Rodney Scott. The defendant, John Maxwell, by his at-torneys, Walton & Skipworth, filed an an-ewer. In brief it alleges that the will of Sarah Maxwell, deceased, made a short time before her death, is lost, destroyed or mis-placed and cannot be found, although dili-gent search has been made for the same; that deceased did not appoint anyone an executor, and did not leave or give any di-rections as to who should have custody of the will; that said will bequesthe the prop-erty to all her grandchildren, amounting to 300 acres of land; that said land was all the property that deceased left; that deceased was extremely weak in body and mind, and, in the opinion of your relator, was not in such ar sental condition that she was capable of making a will; that the value of said land is not to exceed $3,200. The court gave the attorneys for the plain-tiff until Monday, Nov. 33rd, to file their reply. Then the matter will probably be referred for the purpose of taking testimony. Cottagre Grove Itams.

Indictments Dismissed.

Indictments Dismissed. The five indictments against Fred Rood, the timber land swindler, by the grand jury of Lane county were dismissed by Judge Pipes this morning at 9 o'clock on demur-rer. The judge held that the partices to the indictment were guilty of a criminal set in agreeing to procure the lands, as the only way they could get title to said lands was to commit perjury; therefore, under the stat-tutes, an indictment against the deft. could not hold. He also said that it seemed to him that the parties were guilty of conspir-ing against the United States. After the discharge of Reed by Sheriff Noland he was immediately arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Bismott, of Portland, on a warrant from the U. 8. courts charging him with the crime of sub-ornation of perjury.
