

Eugene City Guard.

SAURDAY NOVEMBER 21, 1891

The Eugene public schools maintain a high standard of excellence.

Brazil's revolution seems to be flourishing. It will probably end in the recall of the kind old emperor, Dom Pedro. A republic cannot be founded on ignorance.

The New York mugwump will be in a sorry fix at the next presidential election. All parties are too corrupt for him. It matters little what he does, as his number is small.

Eugene has excellent summer streets. Hereafter our energies should be directed to securing winter streets. The present is a good time to make observations and see what is needed. It is evident that nothing but clean gravel should be used for the top dressing. Where half the material is loam and sand good winter roads may not be expected. Almost any street will answer in summer.

There is nothing so unprofitable as the old-fashioned dirt road. Mr. Isaac B. Potter, Secretary of the New York State Roads Improvement Association, has written an admirable article on this phase of the topic which appears in the November number of the Forum. He makes an assertion which will hardly be denied by any one whose experience enables him to contrast good roads with bad, that "the American common road may rightfully assert itself as the most expensive and by all odds the most extravagantly maintained of all the public institutions." He says further, and it is equally true, that "an amazing share of this cost (of hauling farm products to the nearest market town) is made up by the difficulties of wagon road transportation, necessitating scant loads, long delays, mud blockades, breakdowns and extra trips."

The profit of good roads is at once realized. England and Wales maintain their system of roads for $4,000,000 a year. France maintains 190,000 miles of road at $18,000,000. At the rate of expenditures for highway purposes, in a single town of Westchester county where the roads are very bad the annual cost of maintaining 130,000 miles of common dirt road would be more than $70,000,000. This indicates sufficiently the public profit from good roads, while the profit of individual property-owners is almost incalculable.

Eugene.

One year and a half works wonders even in the improved appearance of a city. After a lapse of the above mentioned period, we return to Eugene and are astonished to be unable to set any bounds to the encroachments made on familiar streets by progressive men. There were new brick blocks on main thoroughfares, wooden structures for business purposes on other streets, elegant residences in all parts of the city, an electric street railway and boys crying: "Yer dally evening GUARD," and the whole situation of little over a year ago became changed. Perhaps the greatest change of all is the large number of strange faces to be met with on all streets and engaged in all vocations, while artistically fitted store rooms and mammoth stocks of goods—where improved metropolitan methods are adopted for their sale—cause the absence of so short a time to wonder if this is the Eugene of only a few days ago! Then we hear new railroad and telegraph lines talked of as a necessary adjunct to present and future developments, and when these plans are consummated, it will render Eugene capable of being a commercial center and distributing point for a much larger territory, and the proposed railway to the sea at Florence, when completed, will place Eugene in a position to become powerfully aggressive when she comes to try commercial conclusions with her sister towns in the valley.

Already Lane's county seat has reached an ascendancy in the councils of the state that entails the most far-reaching consequences in her importance. But add to her already established greatness and influence direct rail communication with her own fine harbor on the Pacific, and she will stand ready to assert herself in all that pertains to state universal greatness. Eugene has just reached the line of understood expansion, and she is certain to make greater strides in the future than ever she has in the past.

Considerable excitement was caused about 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening by a couple of pistol shots at the house situated on the corner of Oak and 7th Streets. It seems that Jimmy Fennell, a sporting youth of the town, had been caught in a very questionable transaction and had concluded to skip the town. He went to the house in question for his clothing, and while there had an altercation with the woman with whom he has been consorting. He struck her, and she drew a revolver and fired at him, making a miss. About that time Nightwatch Witter came along and seeing Fennell in flight, called on him to stop, and to enforce the order fired into the air. Fennell stopped and was taken in charge by Witter and locked up. He gave bail in the sum of $20 to answer the charge of disorderly conduct this morning, but concluded that his presence was no longer desired in Eugene, wisely took the precaution to furnish bail and skipped on the Monday morning overland train. Eugene can readily get along without such characters. The circumstances leading up to this trouble call for a stricter enforcement of the vagrant law.

CHICAGO'S RECORD BEATEN.—In 20 years 812 divorces were granted in Multnomah county, said to be a record which places Portland ahead of Chicago. Take the country over, from 1866 to 1890, the divorces granted were 328,716, an increase of 157 per cent. in that twenty years, while an increase of only 60 per cent. in population is passed to our credit in the same length of time. So that the increase will be seen to be general. Lane county has been doing her share.

Blue River Items.

Nov. 18, 1891. The toll gate was thrown open Nov. 3d. S. C. Smith went to Eugene Tuesday.

Snow fell to the depth of two inches on Gold Hill last night.

Mrs. Belknap of McKenzie Bridge is visiting at J. W. Wyatt's.

J. W. Wyatt and wife are spending a few days in Eugene.

J. Brown, of Eugene, made a business trip to the mines last week.

Miss Dean Harris is stopping with Mrs. J. W. Hickson for a short time.

Clear, cold weather the past two days with a hard frost Monday night.

Mrs. Frisell, P. M. at McKenzie Bridge, has resigned in favor of Glen Powers.

Peter Honey of Foley Springs has sent in his resignation as P. M. in favor of Dr. Barr.

M. Thomas and son of Camp Creek precinct were in this vicinity the first of the week.

A. S. Powers and son Lew, of McKenzie Bridge, enjoyed a pleasant trip to Eugene last week.

Mrs. George Frisell and Miss Alice Tuttle will leave for California next Sunday. We wish them a pleasant trip.

Mr. Babcock's conditions is no worse than it has been for some time; he seems quite anxious to return to his old home in Honolulu.

"All is not gold that glitters," but from the latest that is taken in the Blue River mines, one would judge that the miners find something which they think is gold.

Quite fortunate for us that last Monday was not "grounding day," else we might have been deprived of the privilege of seeing the sun again for six weeks; even the horses were frightened at their own shadows.

Messrs Clay Martin and Lewis Pelcher, after a three weeks visit with relatives and friends in Tacoma have decided to return to this place to spend the winter; they will arrive here next Friday.

John W. Hickson, died at his residence Nov. 5, of Bright's disease; the remains were interred in the Simmon's grave yard, Saturday, Nov. 7. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad affliction.

Owing to the condition of the roads we think it would be well to construct a boat for a transport and let each one paddle his own canoe. Possibly Harry Bristow would assist us in this, as he travels the road every day, and would prepare to navigate the "so called road" than to drive a team over it.

"Where rumor is about gossip finds smooth sailing," but we doubt not the veracity of the rumor that a certain young man is soon coming to prove his own. Just when he will be furnished will send the thread of gossip, we are not prepared to say; however, we offer congratulations in advance.

Interesting Springfield Letter.

To the Editor of Eugene Guard: Thinking the many readers of the Guard might feel interested in the prospective city of Springfield I make a few jottings of what is going on.

The new hotel built this summer by Messrs. Walling and Robinson has been leased to Messrs. Emerson and Howard who have newly furnished it in a neat and tasty way, and are running it in good shape.

Washburne & Son's fine roller mill is rolling out flour at the rate of seventy-five barrels each day only running about nine hours a day.

A second meat market has been lately started by Messrs. Bowman and Morgan and they make a fine display of meats.

The old drug store and post office is being newly fitted up with shelving, counters, etc., by Mr. Bringle for a general merchandise store.

The sawmill now owned by Mr. Wheeler runs steadily, turning out daily about twenty thousand feet of lumber giving employment to a number of our citizens as well as teams. Mr. Wheeler finds time to manage the affairs of our town as well as his private business, being mayor, he and the town council are doing a good work making improvements in the way of improving streets, building bridges, sidewalks, etc. I think I am justified in the sentiments of the citizens generally when I say we have a very able mayor.

We have very recently organized a choral union for instruction and practice in voice culture. The society has already a membership of nearly fifty which will be increased by quite a number. Mr. E. T. Johnson was elected leader. Mrs. Lou Pengra assistant leader. Mr. Beatty, secretary and treasurer and Miss Hattie Stewart, organist. The society meets every Friday evening in the Baptist church, and is going to be a source of much enjoyment to its members.

A meeting was held by our Methodist friends Monday evening to make arrangements for some kind of an entertainment Thanksgiving evening, and a basket social was decided upon, with literary and musical entertainment to precede the sale of baskets. Everybody young and old are anticipating a happy time. Hoping all your readers may enjoy this great American day of national and personal thanksgiving. I subscribe myself, J. E. T.

Cottage Grove.

One of the prettiest and most flourishing towns in Lane county is Cottage Grove situated 22 miles south of Eugene on the line of the Southern Pacific railroad. At the point where it lies the valley formed by the west fork of the Coast Fork is about a mile in width, with foot hills on either side. The soil is prolific and supports a sturdy yeomanry whose hospitality is proverbial.

Cottage Grove has made extraordinary progress in her material interests during the past two years. Two neat churches, a school house, and numerous residences have been built that would be a credit to any town. A flouring mill with a capacity of 75 barrels daily is in operation, and another one will be at work as soon as machinery can be put in place. From all indications the town has a prosperous future before it.

Juventus Lodge K. of P.

Deputy Grand Chancellor Beavis, of Portland, instituted Juventus lodge No. 48 Knights of Pythias at Cottage Grove Wednesday night with a membership of 50. The following officers were elected and installed: R. M. Veitch, P. C.; J. A. Benson, C. C.; Dr. Geo. Wall, V. C.; L. F. Woolley, F. D. Bristow, M. E.; J. P. Curran, M. F.; W. P. Lockwood, K. R. S.; J. S. Medley, M. A.; A. O. Yeager, I. G.; E. S. Hollerman, O. G.

A number of Knights were present and assisted in the work which was not completed until Thursday morning. A fine lunch was spread at the Thorton House at midnight. The material in the new lodge is excellent and it commences with fair prospects of success.

Daily Guard, Nov. 18.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS LODGE.—A lodge of the order of Knights of Pythias will be organized at Cottage Grove this evening. The lodge will start with a membership of seventeen, all of whom will be passed through the ranks tonight. A number of the Eugene Knights will assist in the work. They will return on the boat in the morning. Those desiring to join from here are J. Mitchell, J. O. Watts, G. Jones, J. T. Whitcomb, A. P. Churchill, E. K. Henderson, C. L. Winter, A. E. Gallagher, F. M. Blair, E. D. Pool and Robt. Johnson.

FAIRMOUNT

Fairmount is the center and "in the swim." Think of it;

31 New Buildings Constructed the First Year

Map of Eugene, Fairmount, Springfield, Sunwood & Springfield, Lane County, Oregon. The map shows the layout of the city and surrounding areas, with Fairmount at the center. Text on the map includes: 'EUGENE, FAIRMOUNT, SUNWOOD & SPRINGFIELD, LANE COUNTY, OREGON.' and 'MAP OF EUGENE, FAIRMOUNT, SUNWOOD & SPRINGFIELD, LANE COUNTY, OREGON.' The map also shows the locations of the Fairmount, Sunwood, and Springfield buildings.

FAIRMOUNT is in the center of the coming city. The way the railroads are now built will make Springfield a rival point for business and Eugene, Fairmount and Springfield are growing into one large city with Fairmount in the center. Property in Fairmount for this reason will advance in value faster than any other locality around Eugene.

FAIRMOUNT has a made faster growth the past year than all other suburbs of Eugene put together, and will make still more rapid advance during the years to come. You can't get around it.

Eugene, Fairmount and Springfield are fast growing into one large city with Fairmount in the center.

POPULATION INCREASED FROM 7. TO 10

Over $15,000 worth of this property sold the first year. Prices will advance $25 per acre on January 1st. More lots are selling now at $125 than were selling six months ago at $100. Get in the center if you want to buy to make money. Postoffice with two mails. Two daily passenger trains, and has horse cars within four blocks.

ALL SECURED IN ONE YEAR.

A motor line is certain to be built through FAIRMOUNT in a very short time connecting it with Eugene and Springfield.
